Guardia,2016-05-13 The relationship between culture and urbanism has been the focus of much discussion and debate in recent years While globalisation tends towards a homogeneity successful global cities have a strong individual and particularly cultural identity The economic value of the culture of cities lies not only in the arts taking place there but also in the city's fabric its architecture and in its cultural heritage This volume brings together a team of leading specialists to examine the policies of image and city marketing which have developed over the past 15 years and whether these are a continuity of earlier strategies Featuring case studies which illustrate diverse perspectives on linking culture urbanism and history the book reviews heritage and planning culture looking at the experience of urbanism in the Old Historic City The book also assesses the increasingly important issue of urban images and their influence on planning strategies Research Handbook on International Law and Cities Aust, Helmut P.,Nijman, Janne E.,Marcenko, Miha,2021-08-27 This groundbreaking Research Handbook provides a comprehensive analysis and assessment of the impact of international law on cities It sheds light on the growing global role of cities and makes the case for a renewed understanding of international law in the light of the urban turn Architecture, Power and National Identity Lawrence Vale,2014-05-01 The first edition of Architecture Power and National Identity published in 1992 has become a classic winning the prestigious Spiro Kostof award for the best book in architecture and urbanism Lawrence Vale fully has fully updated the book which focuses on the relationship between the design of national capitals across the world and the formation of national identity in modernity Tied to this it explains the role that architecture and planning play in the forceful assertion of state power The book is truly international in scope looking at capital cities in the United States India Brazil Sri Lanka Kuwait Bangladesh and Papua New Guinea Negotiating Cultures Pilar Maria Guerrieri,2018-01-10 Focusing on one of the largest megacities in the world Delhi this volume is a rare peek into the ineluctable process of hybridization between Indian and other cultures within its local architecture and urban planning The book explores a segment of the history of Delhi from 1912 through 1962 when the contemporary megacity was born making a comparison between pre and post Independence which is relatively neglected in academia The author traces architectural and urban elements of the city of Delhi to understand how foreign developmental models were indigenized the resistance encountered in the process and finally their adaptation to local architectural contexts Highlighting the complexities of multiple Delhis with different or simultaneous cultural influences as well as with the various ways those influences have been interpreted or contextualized the author offers a fresh insight into what is happening in Delhi's globalized built environment nowadays The book aims to unearth the social relations emerging from the constant flux in style of architecture and its related elements in an urbanized area Beloved Boy Henry James,2004 The two men met on only six occasions and never for more than a few days so their friendship was almost entirely epistolary The letters assembled here nearly half of which are previously unpublished exhibit a voice decidedly more vulnerable than that which we usually associate with James They also shed new light on the writer's homoerotic leanings as he approaches Andersen with a passion as well as a tenderness typically reserved for a lover

Douglas Sirk, Aesthetic Modernism and the Culture of Modernity Victoria L. Evans, 2017-05-24 The first truly interdisciplinary analysis to link Douglas Sirk's striking visual aesthetic to key movements in twentieth century art and architecture this book reveals how the exaggerated artifice of Sirk's formal style emerged from his detailed understanding of the artistic debates that raged in 1920s Europe and the post war United States With detailed case studies of Final Chord and All That Heaven Allows Victoria Evans demonstrates how Sirk attempted to dissolve the boundaries of cinema by assimilating elements of avant garde art architecture and design into the colour composition and setting of many of his most well known films Treating Sirk's oeuvre as a continuum between his German and American periods Evans argues that his mise en scene was the result of an interdisciplinary transnational dialogue and illuminates the broader cultural context in which his films appeared by establishing links between archival documents Modernist manifestos and the philosophical writings of his peers

Building Modern Antiquity Georgia Giannakopoulou, 2024-11-29 This book considers post 19th century Athens as a unique instance of a secret side of metropolitan capitalism With a focus on modern antiquity as the hidden element of the dialectic between the past and the present it suggests that the sociological study of one of the great European capital cities a city not intended as a modern capital and its architectural representations may expose part of the veiled processes of the reconstruction of the past thus shedding light on the abuse of antiquity for the celebration of European capitalist metropolitan modernity From the glorious white marble cityscape of the 19th century that aimed at re enchanting metropolitan modernity to the inglorious grey reinforced concrete 21st century metropolis modern Athens exposes the battle between the modern and a modern image of antiquity a false socially constructed historiography born of the dialectics between the ancient and the modern the new and the old collective memory and collective forgetting As such The Building of a Modern Antiquity will appeal to scholars of sociology with interests in social and critical theory urban studies sociology of architecture and visual sociology

Alternative Visions of Post-War Reconstruction John Pendlebury, Erdem Erten, Larkham J Peter, 2014-08-19 The history of post Second World War reconstruction has recently become an important field of research around the world Alternative Visions of Post War Reconstruction is a provocative work that questions the orthodoxies of twentieth century design history This book provides a key critical statement on mid twentieth century urban design and city planning focused principally upon the period between the start of the Second World War to the mid sixties The various figures and currents covered here represent a largely overlooked field within the history of 20th century urbanism In this period while certain modernist practices assumed an institutional role for post war reconstruction and flourished into the mainstream such practices also faced opposition and criticism leading to the production of alternative visions and strategies Spanning from a historically informed modernism to the increasing presence of urban conservation the contributors examine these alternative approaches to the city and its architecture

Excavating Modernity Joshua Arthurs, 2013-09-20 The cultural and material legacies of the Roman Republic and Empire in evidence throughout Rome have made it the Eternal City Too often however this patrimony has caused Rome to be seen as static and antique insulated from the transformations of the modern world In Excavating Modernity Joshua Arthurs dramatically revises this perception arguing that as both place and idea Rome was strongly shaped by a radical vision of modernity imposed by Mussolini's regime between the two world wars Italian Fascism's appropriation of the Roman past the idea of Romanità encapsulated the Fascist virtues of discipline hierarchy and order the Fascist new man was modeled on the Roman legionary the epitome of the virile citizen soldier This vision of modernity also transcended Italy's borders with the Roman Empire providing a foundation for Fascism's own vision of Mediterranean domination and a European New Order At the same time Romanità also served as a vocabulary of anxiety about modernity Fears of population decline racial degeneration and revolution were mapped onto the barbarian invasions and the fall of Rome Offering a critical assessment of Romanità and its effects Arthurs explores the ways in which academics officials and ideologues approached Rome not as a site of distant glories but as a blueprint for contemporary life a source of dynamic values to shape the present and future

Gunnar Asplund's Gothenburg Nicholas Adams, 2014-10-08 In the west coast port city of Gothenburg Sweden the architect Gunnar Asplund built a modest extension to an old courthouse on the main square 1934-36 Judged today to be one of the finest works of modern architecture the courthouse extension was immediately the object of a negative newspaper campaign led by one of the most noted editors of the day Torngny Segerstedt Famous for his determined opposition to National Socialism he also took a principled stand against the undermining of urban tradition in Gothenburg Gothenburg's problems with modern public architecture though clamorous and publicized throughout Sweden were by no means unique In Gunnar Asplund's Gothenburg Nicholas Adams places Asplund's building in the wider context of public architecture between the wars setting the originality and sensitivity of Asplund's conception against the political and architectural struggles of the 1930s Today looking at the building in the broadest of contexts we can appreciate the richness of this exquisite work of architecture This book recaptures the complex magic of its creation and the fascinating controversy of its completed form
