variation can be analyzed and predicted It covers both the genetic and optimization approaches to life history analysis and gives an overview of the general framework of life history theory and the mathematical tools by which predictions can be made and tested Factors affecting the age schedule of birth and death and the costs of reproduction are discussed The Evolution of Life Histories concentrates on those theoretical developments that have been tested experimentally It will interest both students and professionals in evolution evolutionary ecology mathematical and theoretical biology and zoology and entomology Asdell's Patterns of Mammalian Reproduction Virginia Douglass Hayssen, Ari Van Tienhoven, Ans Van Tienhoven, 1993 Since the appearance of the second edition of Sydney A Asdell's widely used Patterns of Mammalian Reproduction in 1964 the field of reproductive physiology has expanded dramatically Accordingly this revision adopts a different structure from previous editions substituting empirical delineations for physiological interpretations With the emphases now on a presentation of the published facts of mammalian reproduction it provides a thorough compilation of what is known about the basic reproductive biology of each of the 4300 mammalian species To gather information the authors examined more than 20 000 publications dating up to 1992 They used primary sources as much as possible supplementing them with English translations of Russian Finnish Chinese and Japanese journals The data are presented in taxonomic order Each familial account summarizes the pattern of reproduction for the family and provides lists of citations arranged by topic of the literature on the endocrinology reproductive anatomy and reproductive physiology of the family Following each account is a tabular listing of species specific data for neonatal mass and size weaning mass and size litter size age at sexual maturity estrous cycle length gestation length lactation length number of litters per year and seasonality of reproduction For each of these reproductive variables the range of data gleaned from the literature is given together with the source of each value listed Virginia Hayssen is Assistant Professor of Biology at Smith College Ari Van Tienhoven is Professor of Animal Physiology Emeritus at Cornell University Ans Van Tienhoven assisted in the compilation of data for the book

Monogamy Ulrich H. Reichard, Christophe Boesch, 2003-09-11 Why do males of some species live with a single mate when they are capable of fertilizing more than one female's eggs Why do some females pair only with one male and not with several partners Why do birds usually live in pairs and feed chicks together whilst mammals often live in larger groups with females rearing their young without male help These questions form the central theme of this book Social monogamy is a complex multi faceted phenomenon that does not always correspond with reproductive monogamy so a paired male may not necessarily be raising his own offspring Exploring the variables influencing and maintaining the fascinating diversity of social sexual and reproductive monogamous partnerships in birds mammals and humans this book provides clues to the biological roots of monogamy for students and researchers in behavioural ecology evolutionary anthropology primatology zoology and ornithology
