Research in economic anthropology : a research annual ,1987 Sedentism and Mobility in a Social Landscape

Mark Varien,1999 Research on hunting and gathering peoples has given anthropologists a long standing conceptual framework of sedentism and mobility based on seasonality and ecological constraints This work challenges that position by arguing that mobility is a socially negotiated activity and that neither mobility nor sedentism can be understood outside of its social context Drawing on research in the Mesa Verde region that focuses on communities and households Mark Varien expands the social spatial and temporal scales of archaeological analysis to propose a new model for population movement Rather than viewing sedentism and mobility as opposing concepts he demonstrates that they were separate strategies that were simultaneously employed Households moved relatively frequently every one or two generations but communities persisted in the same location for much longer Varien shows that individuals and households negotiated their movements in a social landscape structured by these permanent communities Varien s research clearly demonstrates the need to view agriculturalists from a perspective that differs from the hunter gatherer model This innovative study shows why current explanations for site abandonment cannot by themselves account for residential mobility and offers valuable insights into the archaeology of small scale agriculture Flora of the Voynich Codex Arthur O. Tucker,Jules Janick,2019-09-06 The Voynich

Codex is one the most fascinating and bizarre manuscripts in the world The manuscript potentially equivalent to 232 pages or more properly a codex consists of many foldout pages It has been divided by previous researchers into sections known as Herbal Botanical Pharmacology Balenological Biological Cosmology one page known as The Rosette and a final Recipe section All the sections contain text in an unknown writing system yet to be deciphered Cryptological analyses by modern computer programs nevertheless have determined that the language is real and not a hoax as has been suggested by some Despite the fact that this codex is largely an herbal the interpreters of this manuscript with two exceptions have not been botanists To this end our recent research suggests that the Voynich is a 16th century codex associated with indigenous Indians of Nueva Espa a educated in schools established by the Spanish This is a breakthrough in Voynich studies We are convinced that the Voynich codex is a document produced by Aztec descendants that has been unfiltered through Spanish editors The flora of New Spain is vast and the medicinal and culinary herbs used by the Aztecs were equally as copious Even though it is our hypothesis that the Voynch Codex was written as a private herbal in 16th century New Spain many of these herbs have relevance today because they or closely related species have been noted to be medicinal or have culinary value The Voynich Codex has an estimated 359 illustration of plants phytomorphs 131 in the Herbal Section large images and 228 in the Pharmaceutical Section small images of plant parts In our book Unraveling of the Voynich Codex to be published by Springer this summer Tucker and Janick have partially identified species in the Herbal Section In this proposed work all of the plants of the Herbal Section will be identified along with those plants of the Pharmacology Section where identification is feasible Each plant identification will include subdivisions to include descriptors formal botanical identification names in English Spanish and Mesoamerican names where known ecology and range and properties medicinal and culinary of these and related species Photographs of the phytomorphs and contemporary plants will be included These identifications represent hard evidence that the Voynich Codex is a 16th Century Mexican manuscript Exploring the herbs of the Aztecs through the Voynich Codex will be a seminal work for all Voynich researchers and also of interest to a wider audience in medicinal and culinary herbs artists and historians In summary our new book project Flora of the Voynich Codex will provide a photo illustrated guide to complete the botanical evidence related to the Voynich Codex one of the most valuable historic texts of the 16th century

Athapaskan Migrations R. G. Matson, Martin P. R. Magne, 2019-10-28 Migration as an instrument of cultural change is an undeniable feature of the archaeological record Yet reliable methods of identifying migration are not always accessible In Athapaskan Migrations authors R G Matson and Martin P R Magne use a variety of methods to identify and describe the arrival of the Athapaskan speaking Chilcotin Indians in west central British Columbia By contrasting two similar geographic areas using the parallel direct historical approach the authors define this aspect of Athapaskan culture They present a sophisticated model of Northern Athapaskan migrations based on extensive archaeological ethnographic and dendrochronological research A synthesis of 25 years of work Athapaskan Migrations includes detailed accounts of field research in which the authors emphasize ethnic group identification settlement patterns lithic analysis dendrochronology and radiocarbon dating Their theoretical approach will provide a blueprint for others wishing to establish the ethnic identity of archaeological materials Chapter topics include basic methodology and project history settlement patterns and investigation of both the Plateau Pithouse and British Columbia Athapaskan Traditions regional surveys and settlement patterns excavated Plateau Pithouse Tradition and Athapaskan sites and their dating ethnic identification of recovered material the Chilcotin migration in the context of the greater Pacific Athapaskan Navajo and Apache migrations and summaries and results of the excavations The text is abundantly illustrated with more than 70 figures and includes access to convenient online appendixes This substantial work will be of special importance to archaeologists anthropologists linguists and scholars in Athapaskan studies and Canadian First Nation studies

Salt Production and Social Hierarchy in Ancient China Rowan K. Flad, 2011-07-18 This book examines the organization of specialized salt production at Zhongba one of the most important prehistoric sites in the Three Gorges of China s Yangzi River valley Rowan K Flad demonstrates that salt production emerged in the second millennium BCE and developed into a large scale intense activity As the intensity of this activity increased during the early Bronze Age production became more coordinated perhaps by an emergent elite who appear to have supported their position of authority by means of divination and the control of ritual knowledge This study explores evidence of these changes in ceramics the layout of space at the site and animal remains It synthesizes the data retrieved from years of excavation showing not only the evolution of production methods but also the emergence of social hierarchy in the Three Gorges region over two millennia

A Survey of Agricultural Economics Literature Lee R. Martin, 1977

Gender and Agricultural Development Helen Kreider Henderson, 2022-03-29

Agricultural planning and development are crucial to human survival but they usually proceed without any consideration of the importance of gender issues at the production level. Although women have long been prime movers in agriculture their contribution to the world's food supply has been largely ignored and consequently their stake in development has been undermined. This book is both a resource guide and a review of major issues in gender and agriculture which demonstrates that recognizing the contribution of women to agricultural production is a necessary step in development planning. It presents relevant information and research literature regarding women's roles in agriculture in a consolidated and accessible format offering insights into how the inclusion or exclusion of appropriate information at the planning stage can have an impact during implementation. It also provides guidelines for locating information on gender-related agricultural issues and incorporating it into development planning research and training. The literature reviewed not only calls attention to the work women do in order to improve their access to technology and training but also challenges existing development paradigms. The issues discussed present women's experiences and local knowledge and allude to gender and class inequities that farming women face. Each chapter is intended to help the reader address major gender issues in a specific subject in order to access relevant information and thereby better design and implement appropriate agricultural planning and policies. By synthesizing twenty years of international research Gender and Agricultural Development provides an effective tool for development practitioners to use in training programs or surveys in order to ensure the appropriate collection of gender disaggregated data and for educators to integrate gender issues into courses dealing with social aspects of agricultural systems. Its findings are presented in such a way as to allow them to be easily incorporated into innovative planning for more sustainable and equitable agricultural policies.

Routledge Handbook of Urban Planning in Africa Carlos Nunes Silva, 2019-10-28

This handbook contributes with new evidence and new insights to the on-going debate on the decolonization of knowledge on urban planning in Africa. African cities grew rapidly since the mid 20th century in part due to rising rural migration and rapid internal demographic growth that followed the independence in most African countries. This rapid urbanization is commonly seen as a primary cause of the current urban management challenges with which African cities are confronted. This importance given to rapid urbanization prevented the due consideration of other dimensions of the current urban problems, challenges and changes in African cities. The contributions to this handbook explore these other dimensions looking in particular to the nature and capacity of local self-government and to the role of urban governance and urban planning in the poor urban conditions found in most African cities. It deals with current and contemporary urban challenges and urban policy responses but also offers an historical overview of local governance and urban policies during the colonial period in the late 19th and 20th centuries offering ample evidence of common features and divergent features as well on a number of facets from intra urban racial segregation solutions to the relationships between the colonial power and the natives to the assimilation policy as practiced by the French and Portuguese and the Indirect Rule put in place by Britain in some or in part of its colonies Using innovative approaches to the challenges confronting the governance of African cities this handbook is an essential read for students and scholars of Urban Africa urban planning in Africa and African Development Social Valuation in Agricultural Policy Analysis Matthew Okai,2019-01-04 First published in 1999 this volume is intended to encourage appreciation of the cardinal significance for integrating macroeconomic policy variables and environmental factors and any other relevant externalities into sectoral policy analysis as a tool for improving choice of strategic factors in agricultural development investment of allocative efficiency in agriculture and environmental protection and overall agricultural development management The main concern of Matthew Okai is for choosing realistic policy instruments to promote development quantifying constraints and evaluating the impacts of policy on objectives

Archaeometallurgy in Mesoamerica Aaron N. Shugar,Scott E. Simmons,2013-01-15 Presenting the latest in archaeometallurgical research in a Mesoamerican context Archaeometallurgy in Mesoamerica brings together up to date research from the most notable scholars in the field These contributors analyze data from a variety of sites examining current approaches to the study of archaeometallurgy in the region as well as new perspectives on the significance metallurgy and metal objects had in the lives of its ancient peoples The chapters are organized following the cyclical nature of metals beginning with extracting and mining ore moving to smelting and casting of finished objects and ending with recycling and deterioration back to the original state once the object is no longer in use Data obtained from archaeological investigations ethnohistoric sources ethnographic studies along with materials science analyses are brought to bear on questions related to the integration of metallurgy into local and regional economies the sacred connotations of copper objects metallurgy as specialized crafting and the nature of mining alloy technology and metal fabrication Heterarchy, Political Economy, and the Ancient Maya Vernon L. Scarborough,Fred Valdez,Nicholas P. Dunning,2003 In recent years the Three Rivers region of Belize and Guatemala has been the site of some of the most intensive archaeological research in the Maya Lowlands providing a wealth of regional data This volume brings together articles reporting on findings and interpretations of the Programme for Belize Archaeological Project that range over a 10 to 12 year period and that shed new light on how ecology economy and political order developed in the ancient past World Seas: An Environmental Evaluation Jean-Francois Hamel,2018-09-03 World Seas An Environmental Evaluation Second Edition Volume Two The Indian Ocean to the Pacific provides a comprehensive review of the environmental condition of the seas from the Indian Ocean to the Pacific Each chapter is written by experts in the field who provide historical overviews in environmental terms current environmental status major problems arising from human use informed comments on major trends problems and successes and recommendations for the future The book is an invaluable worldwide reference source for students and researchers who are concerned with marine environmental science fisheries oceanography and engineering and coastal zone development Covers regional issues that help countries find solutions to environmental decline that may have already developed elsewhere Provides scientific reviews of regional issues thus empowering managers and policymakers to make progress in under resourced countries and regions Includes comprehensive maps and updated statistics in each region covered Made to Order Cynthia Conides, 2018-10-18 The ancient city of Teotihuacan North America's first metropolis flourished for nearly eight centuries in central Mexico until its demise in 650 C E Known primarily for its massive architecture and monumental wall paintings the city and its dazzling artwork inspired awe in its time and continues to do so today Made to Order the first systematic study of more than 150 painted portable artworks produced in Teotihuacan offers a unique deeply informed perspective on the cultural practices and artistic techniques of the largest urban community in pre Hispanic Mesoamerica The painted vessels Cynthia Conides considers featured here in finely reproduced full color photographs constitute nearly the entire body of material now available for analysis With attention to their origins and provenance wherever possible the author views these objects from a range of vantage points using ceramic chronologies to measure the changing characteristics and cultural significance of pictorial paintings on portable media Her approach ranging from stylistic analysis and narrative theory to theoretical perspectives on artistic exchange among artisans living and working in a thriving urban setting reveals the importance of such objects to a city where social status and the acquisition and display of its symbols were paramount This perspective is in turn grounded in new interpretations of the religious social and ritual contexts in which the objects functioned The most complete analysis of both ceramics from excavations at Teotihuacan and those held in museum collections worldwide Made to Order will become a standard source for specialists and students of pre Columbian visual culture and archaeology and a vital resource for those interested in cross cultural ceramic studies Translating Technology in Africa. Volume 2: Technicisation, 2024-09-02 This volume revisits one of the great challenges of our time the global circulation of technology and the resulting technicisation Together the introductory essay and six case studies argue that while circulation inevitably leads to the global standardisation of some forms successful technicisation depends on local appropriation that takes place in the interstitial zones of translation These zones characterised by their asymmetrical power relations need to be constantly renegotiated recreated and maintained in order to sustain decolonial translations The aim of this volume is to stimulate further experimental praxiographic studies of decolonial translation in processes of technicisation and thereby ignite novel forward looking theoretical debates Contributors are Sarah Biecker Marc Boeckler Jude Kagoro Jochen Monstadt Sung Joon Park Eva Riedke Richard Rottenburg Klaus Schlichte Jannik Schritt Alena Thiel Christiane Trisl Jonas van der Straeten Constructing Frames of Reference Lewis R. Binford, 2019-05-07 Many consider Lewis Binford to be the single most influential figure in archaeology in the last half century His contributions to the New Archaeology changed the course of the field as he argued for the development of a scientifically rigorous framework to guide the excavation and interpretation of the archaeological record This book the culmination of Binford s intellectual legacy thus far presents a detailed description of his methodology and its significance for understanding hunter gatherer cultures on a global basis This landmark publication will be an important step in understanding the great process of cultural evolution and will change the way archaeology proceeds as a scientific enterprise This work provides a major synthesis of an enormous body of cultural and environmental information and offers many original insights into the past Binford helped pioneer what is now called ethnoarchaeology the study of living societies to help explain cultural patterns in the archaeological record and this book is grounded on a detailed analysis of ethnographic data from about 340 historically known hunter gatherer populations The methodological framework based on this data will reshape the paradigms through which we understand human culture for years to come

Theory and Practice in the Bioarchaeology of Care Lorna Tilley,2015-08-28 This book provides the first comprehensive introduction to and explanation of the theory and practice of the bioarchaeology of care an original fully theorised and contextualised case study based approach designed to identify and interpret cases of care provision in prehistory The applied methodology comprises four stages of analysis each building on the content of the preceding one s which provide the framework for this process Theory and Practice in the Bioarchaeology of Care is the primary source of information on this new approach and serves as a manual for its implementation It elaborates the foundations on which the bioarchaeology of care is constructed it leads the reader through the methodology and it provides three detailed examples of prehistoric caregiving which illustrate how bioarchaeology of care analysis has the capacity to reveal aspects of past group and individual identity and lifeways which might otherwise have remained unknown

Women and Working Lives Sara Arber,Petra Ahrweiler,1991-11-06

Iowa's Archaeological Past Lynn M. Alex,2010-09-13 Iowa has more than eighteen thousand archaeological sites and research in the past few decades has transformed our knowledge of the state s human past Drawing on the discoveries of many avocational and professional scientists Lynn Alex describes Iowa s unique archaeological record as well as the challenges faced by today s researchers armed with innovative techniques for the discovery and recovery of archaeological remains and increasingly refined frameworks for interpretation The core of this book which includes many historic photographs and maps as well as numerous new maps and drawings and a generous selection of color photos explores in detail what archaeologists have learned from studying the state s material remains and their contexts Examining the projectile points potsherds and patterns that make up the archaeological record Alex describes the nature of the earliest settlements in Iowa the development of farming cultures the role of the environment and environmental change geomorphology and the burial of sites interaction among native societies tribal affiliation of early historic groups and the arrival and impact of Euro Americans In a final chapter she examines the question of stewardship and the protection of Iowa s many archaeological resources

Classic Period Mixtequilla, Veracruz, Mexico Barbara L. Stark,2001 This archaeological site report presents new in sights on an important but poorly studied Mesoamerican culture the Classic period of the Mexican Gulf Coast Stark discusses her excavations at several sites in the Mixtequilla region describes the deposits and artifacts encountered and provides interpretations of the sites and their significance within a wider context Her analysis of the ephemeral remains of perishable houses is innovative and contains one of the most sophisticated treatments of site formation processes yet carried out in Latin America Particularly important is the identification of some of the earliest spindle whorls in Mesoamerica leading to new views of the importance of cotton textiles in the changing economies of the Late Preclassic and Classic periods Superb artifact illustrations detailed descriptions and an ample use of data tables make this a valuable reference work Mesoamericanists will find much of interest in this book as will readers interested in tropical lowland settlement patterns household archaeology and site formation processes

The Lifeways of Hunter-Gatherers Robert L. Kelly, 2013-04-15 In this book Robert L Kelly challenges the preconceptions that hunter gatherers were Paleolithic relics living in a raw state of nature instead crafting a position that emphasizes their diversity and downplays attempts to model the original foraging lifeway or to use foragers to depict human nature stripped to its core Kelly reviews the anthropological literature for variation among living foragers in terms of diet mobility sharing land tenure technology exchange male female relations division of labor marriage descent and political organization Using the paradigm of human behavioral ecology he analyzes the diversity in these areas and seeks to explain rather than explain away variability and argues for an approach to prehistory that uses archaeological data to test theory rather than one that uses ethnographic analogy to reconstruct the past
