Research Traditions In Marketing:

Research traditions in marketing Gilles Laurent, Gary L. Lilien, Bernard Pras, 2012-12-06 Divergence A Source of Creative Thinking The outstanding job accomplished by Bernard Gary and Gilles is really praiseworthy not only did they succeed in completing within a remarkably short span of time the editing of the contributions to the conference that marked the 20th Anniversary of the European Institute for Advanced Studies in Management they have also managed to elicit numerous insightful comments from a host of dashing young scholars as well as from the fortunate few established authorities whose findings have long become leading articles in the best academic journals who now chair those journals editorial boards and after whom great scientific awards have been named In so doing our dedicated triumvirate has blended together pieces of diverse research traditions some of them quite puzzling and mixed significantly differentiated styles of expression The controversial display of self confidence by some distinguished colleagues the amazingly emotional good old memories revived by their peers the scapegoat finding and moralizing confessions produced by some of their disciples together with the detached systematic rigidity of some others all combine to produce a multivarious patchwork that may well prove the existence of a marketing scholar lifecycle This cartoon like four class typology might even make it worth the reader's while to indulge in some guesswork to discover the sequence of the four stages as an exercise and then partition the author population accordingly

Research Traditions in Marketing Kristian Möller, 1992 The SAGE Handbook of Marketing Theory Pauline Maclaran, 2009-12-22 This exciting new Handbook brings together the latest in debates concerning the development of marketing theory featuring original contributions from a selection of leading international authors The collection aims to give greater conceptual cohesion to the field by drawing together the many disparate perspectives and presenting them in one volume The contributors are all leading international scholars chosen to represent the intellectual diversity within marketing theory

Rethinking Marketing Douglas Brownlie, 1999-03-23 This is an important text It brings together critical reflections on the discipline's contribution in terms of theory practice and pedagogy and as such is equally as insightful and challenging as some of its recent predecessors eg Brown et al 1996 Brown and Turley 1997 Brown 1998 The book represents a useful point of departure for those setting off on their own critical journeys and thus it should be included on the reading lists of all those carrying out masters or doctoral research in marketing Journal of Marketing Management This book provides a challenging and stimulating coverage of a broad range of key issues in contemporary marketing such as marketing philosophy marketing ethics the mar

The Routledge Companion to Marketing History D.G. Building Models for Marketing Decisions Peter S.H. Leeflang, Dick R. Wittink, Michel Wedel, Philippe A. Naert, 2013-06-29 This book is about marketing models and the process of model building Our primary focus is on models that can be used by managers to support marketing decisions It has long been known that simple models usually outperform judgments in predicting outcomes in a wide variety of contexts For example models of judgments tend to provide better forecasts of the outcomes than the judgments themselves because the model eliminates the noise in judgments And since judgments never fully reflect the complexities of the many forces that influence outcomes it is easy to see why models of actual outcomes should be very attractive to marketing decision makers Thus appropriately constructed models can provide insights about structural relations between marketing variables Since models explicate the relations both the process of model building and the model that ultimately results can improve the quality of marketing decisions Managers often use rules of thumb for decisions For example a brand manager will have defined a specific set of alternative brands as the competitive set within a product category Usually this set is based on perceived similarities in brand characteristics advertising messages etc If a new marketing initiative occurs for one of the other brands the brand manager will have a strong inclination to react The reaction is partly based on the manager s desire to maintain some competitive parity in the marketing variables

Marketing Metaphors and Metamorphosis P. Kitchen, 2008-08-01 Metaphors are widely used within marketing literature yet so far have remained unacknowledged This book aims to redress that omission Such widely known topics such as globalization of markets viral marketing and many others are in fact metaphors moreover marketing itself may be a metaphor underlying many exchanges and relationships

Engineering Society Kerstin Brückweh, Richard F. Wetzell, 2012-10-09 Explaining crime by reference to abnormalities of the brain is just one example of how the human and social sciences have influenced the approach to social problems in Western societies since 1880 Focusing on applications such as penal policy therapy and marketing this volume examines how these sciences have become embedded in society

Multicultural Perspectives in Customer Behaviour Maria Piacentini, Charles Cui, 2013-09-13 With globalisation taking centre stage in the business world and multiculturalism affecting markets and societies there is a need to understand the ways that customers respond to the changing marketplace from international and multicultural perspectives This book is timely in addressing important themes raised in the most recent marketing literature such as global consumer culture and the impact of Western culture on consumer behaviour in other countries consumer acculturation processes and the impact on identity conflicts and the strategies people use to manage them globalisation vs localised strategies and the interaction of local and global influences on customer behaviour climate change and global warming the impact on consumer behaviour and the implications for social responsibility and cross cultural customer research including important methodological questions around the application of sociological group level measures to psychological individual level phenomenon in marketing contexts The papers in this edition address those themes reporting on studies from a range of countries including Germany Greece China and Austria and a number of cultural groups in the UK These papers draw on quantitative and qualitative methodologies reflecting the full range of methods employed in contemporary consumer research This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Management
