This book introduces a model for the built environment designed to incorporate sustainability at every level It emphasizes the integration of environmental social and economic factors to create resilient urban spaces Also it presents a decision support system that optimizes energy management for sustainability enabling real time adjustments and reducing carbon footprints It discusses innovative strategies for managing water and wastewater in swampland areas offering insights from UIN Raden

Fatah Palembang's adaptation efforts. Also, this book provides a thorough review of bio-based business models examining their agility and adaptability in fostering sustainable innovations that respond to market and environmental changes. Moreover, the book explores a novel approach to renewable energy: this chapter assesses the feasibility of using vortex bladeless wind turbines for energy generation at airport runways, offering both conceptual and economic analyses. In addition, it discusses the creation and role of multi-actor forums in promoting a sustainable blue economy in the Black Sea region, emphasizing collaborative efforts to preserve marine resources. This book investigates the use of halophyte biochar as a sustainable soil amendment for sandy soils, demonstrating its potential to improve soil quality and promote sustainable agriculture. Also, the book aims to assess the sustainability of food-energy-water systems at the household level, advocating for integrated solutions that enhance resource efficiency and sustainability. This book delves into societal perceptions of climate change adaptation using interaction analysis to better understand public attitudes and their implications for policy and communication strategies. This book presents a case study from Istanbul, offering insights into how local identity can strengthen community resilience and sustainability efforts. Finally, the book provides a comprehensive guide to understanding and implementing sustainable practices across various sectors, from energy management and water resources to food systems and environmental education. It emphasizes the importance of interdisciplinary approaches and innovation agility in addressing global sustainability challenges.

Researching Hospitality and Tourism Bob Brotherton, 2008-03-11 This textbook will be used to support undergraduate dissertation supervision. The book clearly sets out the research philosophies, principles, and practices relevant to the conduct of fieldwork. A useful and informative text to aid the research design and process. Nazia Ali Bedfordshire University. A key text for students studying research methods or undertaking a research project in the hospitality and tourism industries. Lisa Wyld Westminster Kingsway College. An excellent overview of primary research itself and its application in Hospitality and Tourism. Jane Warren SHRM College. Hospitality and tourism is the fourth biggest industry in the world. What are the key research issues in the field? What methods are particularly useful to answer questions of management, policy, strategy, and general understanding? This is the first comprehensive guide to research methods and issues for students engaged in hospitality and tourism studies. Jargon-free, incisive, and relevant, the book offers an uncluttered guide to key concepts and essential research techniques. It is grounded in a real-world approach that concentrates upon the issues that students will encounter in their studies and work experience. It fills an enormous gap in the field, providing students with the first dedicated introduction to research methods for hospitality and tourism students.

Facility Management Practices Solomon Pelumi Akinbogun, Clinton Ohi Aigbavboa, Oluwaseun Tope Akinbogun, 2024-10-30 This book explores the management of public facilities and the wider issues around it, with examples from educational, health facilities, and public spaces. Human activities in every economy require facilities that must be effectively managed for optimal performance. Facility management in the public and private sector in developing countries requires close examination to explain the reasons for things go wrong From the economist s point of view some facilities are better provided by public sector to maintain inclusivity and protect the social welfare of vulnerable people For example in Nigeria a good number of public facilities such as schools and health facilities are under performing because of poor and ineffective management This provides an opportunity for the private sector However a majority of the population remains deprived of access because of lack of affordability The research in this book was carried out to assess what could be done to ensure that essential services are not left entirely in the private sector and scope out possible synergies between the public and private The book is useful to policy makers at all levels of the public and private sectors
