Genealogical Abstracts from the American Weekly Mercury, 1719-1746 Kenneth Scott, 1974 The American Weekly Mercury was the first newspaper published in Pennsylvania and the third in British North America In the earliest days of publication what little genealogical material is found in the paper comes chiefly from advertisements for runaway servants or Negro and Indian slaves In time however a steady stream of genealogical data mainly marriages and deaths began to appear Most of the marriage entries pertained to persons of some distinction such as governors judges government officials clergymen and eminent merchants as well as their family members In the case of death notices the age of the deceased was noted sometimes with a brief sketch of his career and with an indication of his place of birth ancestry and relatives Many of the genealogical items were concerned with persons in Delaware New Jersey Maryland South Carolina and New England as well as Pennsylvania The index lists 3 400 names of persons who would otherwise have been relegated to obscurity

Reading Mediated Life Narratives Amy Carlson, 2024-01-25 Calling attention to the unseen mediation and re mediation of life narratives in online and physical spaces this ground breaking exploration uncovers the ever changing strategies that authors artists publishers curators archivists and social media corporations adopt to shape control or resist the auto biographical in these texts Concentrating on contemporary life texts found in the material book museums on social media and archives that present perceptions of individuality and autonomy Reading Mediated Life Narratives exposes the traces of personal cultural technological and political mediation that must be considered when developing reading strategies for such life narratives Amy Carlson asks such questions as what agents act upon these narratives what do the text the creator and the audience gain and what do they lose how do constantly evolving technologies shape or stymie the auto biographical I and finally how do the mediations affect larger issues of social and collective memory An examination of the range of sites at which vulnerability and intervention can occur Carlson does not condemn but stages an intercession showing us how it is increasingly necessary to register mediated agents and processes modifying the witnessing or recuperation of original texts that could condition our reception With careful thought on how we remember how we create and control our pictures voices words and records Reading Mediated Life Narratives reveals how we construct and negotiate our social identities and memories but also what systems control us Making of the West,
