The Psychology of Smart Investing Ira Epstein,David Garfield,1992-11-11 Written by a board certified psychiatrist and the founder of Chicago's best known brokerage firm it contains the psychological tools essential to breaking through mental barriers in order to achieve a successful mindset Examines such common psychological traps as loneliness poor self esteem depression wishful thinking self destructiveness addiction to playing the markets revenge and internal conflicts Packed with anecdotes and case histories it includes insights drawn from two unusual investor surveys typical investors versus famous investors and market gurus

Gestures Vilém Flusser, 2014-06-01 Throughout his career the influential new media theorist Vil m Flusser kept the idea of gesture in mind that people express their being in the world through a sweeping range of movements He reconsiders familiar actions from speaking and painting to smoking and telephoning in terms of particular movement opening a surprising new perspective on the ways we share and preserve meaning A gesture may or may not be linked to specialized apparatus though its form crucially affects the person who makes it These essays published here as a collection in English for the first time were written over roughly a half century and reflect both an eclectic array of interests and a durable commitment to phenomenological thought Defining gesture as a movement of the body or of a tool attached to the body for which there is no satisfactory causal explanation Flusser moves around the topic from diverse points of view angles and distances at times he zooms in on a modest ordinary movement such as taking a photograph shaving or listening to music at others he pulls back to look at something as vast and varied as human making embracing everything from the fashioning of simple tools to mass manufacturing But whatever the gesture Flusser analyzes it as the expression of a particular form of consciousness that is as a particular relationship between the world and the one who gestures
