Bibliography of Asian Studies, 1994 Asiaweek, 1982 Ketuanan politik Melayu Ker Pong Thock, 2005 Historical movement and role of Chinese organizations in Malaysian politics and their responses to the challenge of Malay political hegemony from 1969 to 1999 Three Faces of Populism in Asia Shiru Wang, 2024-04-23 Drawing on evidence from eight case studies from across three Asian subregions this volume highlights the distinctive features of Asian populism in comparison with Western experiences In contrast to the latter populist practices in Asia tend to exhibit an ambiguous nature often characterized by ad hoc and mixed ideological add ons The case studies shed light on the cultural dimension of populism an aspect that has been largely overlooked in Western contexts Empirical evidence shows that political culture and identity politics exert an influence on populist practices in Asia In the meantime populist attitudes towards the role of politicians the popular will and the relationship between the elite and the people can serve as an explanatory variable for political outcomes The relationship between populism and democracy in Asia is observed to be more intricate than that in Western contexts Populism is not necessarily endogenous to democracy and thus its emergence may not solely be a response to the crisis of democracy The book presents a valuable resource for scholars and students of Asian politics and those looking at the phenomenon of populism through a comparative lens 林建雄,2006 Navigating The New Political Economy In Southeast Asia: Perspectives From Japan, Taiwan And The Region Alan Hao Yang,Masahiro Matsumura,2023-06-22 Based on workshops co organized by Japan s St Andrew University and Taiwan s National Chengchi University this book provides readers with the toolbox for navigating the regional dynamics of political economy in Southeast Asia with special focus on exploring the key factors determining the shifting dynamics Organized in three parts namely geopolitical and security factors alternative fields for regional cooperation and the regional considerations of Southeast Asia the chapters in the book feature key factors determining the political economy of the region Written by authors hailing from varied background this book is also the joint research efforts on policy discussion and timely assessment of COVID 19 recovery plans in Southeast Asia

Southeast Asian Responses to Globalization Francis Loh Kok Wah,Joakim Öjendal,2005 It is now apparent especially in the aftermath of the regional financial crisis of 1997 that globalization has been impacting upon the Southeast Asian economies and societies in new and harrowing ways a theme of many recent studies Inadvertently these studies of globalization have also highlighted that the 1980s and 1990s debate on democratization in the region which focused on the emergence of the middle classes the roles of new social movements NGOs and the changing relations between state and civil society might have been overly one dimensional This volume revisits the theme of democratization via the lenses of globalization understood economically politically and culturally Although globalization increasingly frames the processes of democracy and development nonetheless the governments and peoples of Southeast Asia have been able to determine the pace and character even the direction of these processes to a considerable extent This collection of essays by some distinguished senior scholars and other equally perceptive younger ones focuses on this globalization democratization nexus and shows empirically and analytically how governance is being restructured and democracy sometimes deepened in this new global era A historical review introduces the volume while an analytical assessment of the ten case studies concludes it

Anwar Ibrahim following the Asian economic crisis Mahathir's Islam Sven Schottmann, 2018-09-30 Mahathir Mohamad's legacy as Malaysia's longest serving prime minister 1981-2003 is deeply controversial. His engagement with Islam, the religion of just over half Malaysia's population, has often been dismissed as partisan maneuvering. Yet his willingness to countenance a more prominent place for Islam in government and society is what distinguished him from other modernist politicians, and his instinct to set Malaysian politics against the backdrop of the wider Muslim world was politically astute. Author Sven Schottmann argues that Mahathir's transformative effect on Malaysia can only be fully appreciated if we also take him seriously as one of the postcolonial Muslim world's most significant political thought leaders. Schottmann sees Mahathir's representations of Islam as a relatively coherent discourse that can legitimately be described as Mahathir's Islam. This discourse contains Mahathir's assessment of the economic, political, and sociocultural problems facing the contemporary Muslim world and the range of solutions and corrective measures that he proposed Muslims should adopt. His ideas are fraught with flaws and contradictions. On the one hand, he emphasized the individualistic, egalitarian, pluralistic, democratic, and dynamic qualities of Islam. On the other, his government enacted legislation and acquiesced in the activities of religious bodies that curtailed religious freedoms of both Muslims and non-Muslims. His ideas contributed to Malaysia's worsening state of interethnic relations, yet his insistence that every Muslim had the right to speak for Islam may have paradoxically prepared the ground for a future democratization of Malaysian politics. Mahathir's Islam is based on rigorous analysis of Mahathir's speeches, interviews, and writings, which the author is able to link to parallel processes elsewhere in the Muslim world: Indonesia, the Middle East, Pakistan, Turkey, and diaspora communities in the West. Mahathir's Islamic discourse, Schottmann suggests, must be read against the wider late twentieth-century resurgence of religion in general and the post-1970s Islamic revival in particular. Balanced in approach and engagingly written, this book will be of interest to scholars and students of political science, religious studies, and others interested in Malaysia, Southeast Asia, or Mahathir himself.

Winds of Change, the Mahathir Impact on Malaysia's Foreign Policy Murugesu Pathmanathan, David Lazarus, 1984

Malay Political Leadership Tony Shome, 2004-08-02 This book demonstrates how particular values and notions of leadership, which underpinned traditional Malay leadership, have played a crucial role in the political evolution of the modern Malaysian nation. The author discusses the nature of Malay notions of leadership and considers this throughout the Malay world, at the local as well as at the national level, and goes on to describe and analyse leadership from pre-independence leadership in the colonial period through the rule of Malaysia's four prime ministers. He draws on anthropology, psychology, and political and economic history to show how Malay leaders have kept within the established track of the Malay value system, responding in particular to the expectation of their people to provide a sense of national identity and unity against the complex background of the Malaysian mosaic, while addressing the needs of the wider multi-ethnic community. Throughout the evolutionary development of Malay leadership, symbolisms for the perpetuation of leadership veneration persisted in its institutions and in the sublime power of the sultans The Malay case offers one of the most remarkable studies of leadership in its attempt to maintain indigenous primacy in a large multi racial environment subscribing to western democracy for its governance while retaining conservative Islamic values This book is a significant contribution to the understanding of the evolution of leadership It begins with an explanation of the early Malay World belief system and progresses to the period of colonization and nationalism It then follows through the dynamics of modern politics encapsulating the biographical profiles of all Malaysia s Prime Ministers Tunku Razak Hussein and Mahathir in three aspects national unity the economy and foreign affairs The analysis of Mahathir s leadership extends into the new millennium This is the only book with biographical profiles of all of Malaysia s Prime Ministers This book will be of interest to students academics politicians foreign affairs specialists and any reader interested in leadership studies and about Malaysia s political and economic history Mahathir's Administration Khai Leong Ho, Ung-Ho Chin, 2001
