The African Wild Dog Joshua Ross Ginsberg, David Whyte Macdonald, IUCN/SSC Canid Specialist Group, 1997 Over the last 30 years the African wild dog population has declined dramatically Dogs have disappeared from 25 of the 39 countries where they were previously found and only 6 populations are believed to number more than 100 Today it is believed that only between 3 000 5 500 dogs remain in 600 1 000 packs with most to be found in eastern and southern Africa The dramatic reduction in their population is attributed to a number of factors including human population growth and activities deterioration of habitat and contact with domestic dogs and their diseases This Action Plan explores some of the reasons behind their disappearance and provides a number of proposed solutions split into 3 priority areas ranging from habitat management and conservation to monitoring domestic dogs

African Antelope Database 1998 Rod East, 1999 Although most antelope species still exist in large numbers in sub-Saharan Africa some in hundreds of thousands up to three quarters of the species are in decline Threats to their survival arise from the rapid growth of human and livestock populations with consequent degradation and destruction of natural habitats and excessive offtake by meat hunters In addition some parts of Africa are now almost completely devoid of large wild animals because of uncontrolled slaughter

during recent civil wars This report presents the information currently held by the IUCN SSC Antelope Specialist Group on the conservation status of each antelope species and selected subspecies in sub Saharan Africa Key areas have been identified for the conservation of representative antelope communities While external donors make the greatest contributions to the conservation of antelopes greater recognition of wildlife conservation in national and regional development plans is often a critically important requirement

Southern African Agriculture and Climate Change Sepo Hachigonta, Gerald C. Nelson, Timothy S. Thomas, Lindiwe Majele Sibanda, 2013-09-03 Southern African Agriculture and Climate Change A Comprehensive Analysis examines the food security threats facing eight of the countries that make up southern Africa Botswana Lesotho Malawi Mozambique South Africa Swaziland Zambia and Zimbabwe and explores how climate change will increase the efforts needed to achieve sustainable food security throughout the region Southern Africa's population is expected to grow at least through mid century The region will also see income growth Both will put increased pressure on the natural resources needed to produce food and climate change makes the challenges greater Southern Africa is already experiencing rising temperatures shifting precipitation patterns and increasing extreme events Without attention to adaptation the poor will suffer Through the use of hundreds of scenario maps models figures and detailed analysis the editors and contributors of Southern African Agriculture and Climate Change present plausible future scenarios that combine economic and biophysical characteristics to explore the possible consequences for agriculture food security and resources management to 2050 They also offer recommendations to national governments and regional economic agencies already dealing with the vulnerabilities of climate change and deviations in environment Decisionmakers and researchers will find Southern African Agriculture and Climate Change a vital tool for shaping policy and studying the various and likely consequences of climate change

Reclaiming the Land Sam Moyo, Paris Yeros, 2008-02-29 Rural movements have recently emerged to become some of the most important social forces in opposition to neoliberalism From Brazil and Mexico to Zimbabwe and the Philippines rural movements of diverse political character but all sharing the same social basis of dispossessed peasants and unemployed workers have used land occupations and other tactics to confront the neoliberal state This volume brings together for the first time across three continents Africa Latin America and Asia an intellectually consistent set of original investigations into this new generation of rural social movements These country studies seek to identify their social composition strategies tactics and ideologies to assess their relations with other social actors including political parties urban social movements and international aid agencies and other institutions and to examine their most common tactic the land occupation its origins pace and patterns as well as the responses of governments and landowners At a more fundamental level this volume explores the ways in which two decades of neoliberal policy including new land tenure arrangements intended to hasten the commodification of land and new land uses linked to global markets have undermined the social reproduction of the rural labour force and created the conditions for popular resistance The volume demonstrates the longer term potential impact of these movements In economic terms they raise the possibility of tackling immiseration by means of the redistribution of land and the reorganisation of production on a more efficient and socially responsible basis And in political terms breaking the power of landowners and transnational capital with interests in land could ultimately open the way to an alternative pattern of capital accumulation and development

Resource Guide to Travel in Sub-Saharan Africa: Central and Southern Africa (and western Indian Ocean islands) Louis Taussig,1994

Animals and Ancestors Brian Morris,2020-05-21 Ever since the emergence of human culture people and animals have co existed in close proximity Humans have always recognized both their kinship with animals and their fundamental differences as animals have always been a threat to humans well being The relationship therefore has been complex intimate reciprocal personal and crucially ambivalent It is hardly surprising that animals evoke strong emotions in humans both positive and negative This companion volume to Morris important earlier work The Power of Animals is a sustained investigation of the Malawi people s sacramental attitude to animals particularly the role that animals play in life cycle rituals their relationship to the divinity and to spirits of the dead How people relate to and use animals speaks volumes about their culture and beliefs This book overturns the ingrained prejudice within much ethnographic work which has often dismissed the pivotal role animals play in culture and shows that personhood religion and a wide range of rituals are informed by and even dependent upon human animal relations

Conservation Status of Cheetahs in East Africa Paule Marie Gros,1997

The Conservation Atlas of Tropical Forests Jeffrey Sayer,1992-06-18 Recognizing that sound information is vital to the progress of conservation IUCN have gathered together a visual portfolio of maps of rain forests in Africa The accompanying text analyzes the extent and causes of deforestation and points a way towards sustainable forest development
