Afrique Sur Seine Odile Cazenave, 2006-09-01 Afrique sur Seine addresses the development since the 1950s of a new type of Francophone African novel created by first generation black African authors living in France Drawing parallels with other literatures like the beur and Antillean novels Odile Cazenave examines how these authors men and women are parting from mainstream African literature by exploring more personal avenues while retaining a shared interest in the community of African emigrants Cazenave deftly shows us how these writers maneuver between two cultures languages and spheres of being and how they struggle to appeal to their French audience without being untrue to the complex history and reality they portray Cazenave further discusses the stereotyping often promoted by French publishing houses to sell African authored texts and its impact At a time when immigration is an important issue in France and when post colonial identity and culture is the object of still increasing interest and attention Afrique sur Seine guides us through writing that surprises with its fresh insights into multiculturalism and integration

Dialogues Across Diasporas Marion Rohrleitner, Sarah E. Ryan, 2013 Dialogues Across Diasporas focuses on the shared historical legacies of members of the African and Latina diasporas and the cultural impact of the African diaspora in the Americas This book seeks to emphasize connections rather than divisions among different migratory ethnic communities via a reconfiguration of borders and ethnic identities This collection of essays has three major goals first to foreground shared themes and strategies in the literary productions of women of African and Latina descent second to highlight the importance of the arts for community activism within shared diasporic spaces and third to illustrate the potential of artistic and activist collaborations among women from both groups across disciplinary political national and ethnic divides Dialogues across Diasporas is divided into three sections The first section provides a theoretical overview of diasporic migrations politics and identities It argues that diverse diasporas can unite around shared political and cultural experiences such as converting contested spaces into communities and resisting rhetorics of exclusion The second section demonstrates the diverse ways in which migratory women and daughters of the diaspora frame their histories lived experiences and different forms of knowledge via poetry short stories academic essays and other art forms The third section focuses on women's activism suggesting opportunities for collaboration among and between diverse diasporic communities

Calixthe Beyala Nicki Hitchcott, Associate Professor and Reader in African Francophone Studies Nicki

Hitchcott, 2006-01-01 The most successful female writer from Francophone Africa Calixthe Beyala occupies an unusual place in French literary and popular culture Her novels are bestsellers and she appears regularly on French television yet a conviction for plagiarism has tarnished her reputation Thus she is both an authentic African author and a proven literary fake In Calixthe Beyala Nicki Hitchcott considers representations of Beyala in the media critical responses to her writing and Beyala's efforts to position herself as a champion of women's rights Hitchcott pays equal attention to Beyala's novels tracing their explorations of the role of migration in the creation of personal identity The Pull of Postcolonial Nationhood Ayo A. Coly, 2010-06-23 While the male dominated Francophone African migrant literary tradition includes women writers there is no study that attends to this subgroup of writers The Pull of Postcolonial Nationhood Gender and Migration in Francophone African Literatures pioneers the study of these writers as a category through an examination of three major women who exemplify the Francophone African female migrant literary tradition Ken Bugul Calixthe Beyala and Fatou Diome By studying these women together Ayo A Coly innovatively introduces gender into prevailing theories of Francophone African migrant literatures These theories in line with the current surge of postnationalism in cultural criticism claim that questions of home and nationhood are obsolete for the present generation of Francophone African migrant writers but this book shows that the opposite is true in the texts of these writers Coly is thus able to demonstrate how claims of postnationalism are often skewed by gender blind understandings of nationalism namely a failure to consider that women have traditionally been the sites for discourses and practices of nationalism Amid the negative currency of home and nation in contemporary cultural criticism including postcolonial criticism this book contends that home remains a politically ideologically and emotionally loaded matter for postcolonial subjects Multiculturalism & Hybridity in African Literatures African Literature Association. The Feminist Encyclopedia of French Literature Eva M. shaped her outlook and opportunities on how categorizations structures and terms used to describe literary works have been defined for women and the ways in which women writers have responded to these definitions The volume begins with a feminist history of French literature and concludes with a selected general bibliography and a chronology of women writers
