Natural History Of Nature Writing:

A Natural History of Nature Writing Frank Stewart, 1994-10-01 A Natural History of Nature Writing is a penetrating overview of the origins and development of a uniquely American literature. Essayist and poet Frank Stewart describes in rich and compelling prose the lives and works of the most prominent American nature writers of the 19th and 20th centuries including Henry D Thoreau the father of American nature writing John Burroughs a schoolteacher and failed businessman who found his calling as a writer and elevated the nature essay to a loved and respected literary form John Muir founder of Sierra Club who celebrated the wilderness of the Far West as few before him had Aldo Leopold a Forest Service employee and scholar who extended our moral responsibility to include all animals and plants Rachel Carson a scientist who raised the consciousness of the nation by revealing the catastrophic effects of human intervention on the Earth's living systems Edward Abbey an outspoken activist who charted the boundaries of ecological responsibility and pushed these boundaries to political extremes Stewart highlights the controversies ignited by the powerful and eloquent prose of these and other writers with their expansive and often strongly political points of view. Combining a deeply felt sense of wonder at the beauty surrounding us with a rare ability to capture and explain the meaning of that beauty nature writers have had a profound effect on American culture and politics. A Natural History of Nature Writing is an insightful examination of an important body of American literature.

Nature Writing Don Scheese, 2013-10-28 In this comprehensive study of the genre Don Scheese traces its evolution from the pastoralism evident in the natural history observations of Aristotle and the poetry of Virgil to current American writers. He documents the emergence of the modern form of nature writing as a reaction to industrialization Scheese's personal observations of natural settings sharpen the reader's understanding of the dynamics between author and locale His study is further informed by ample use of illustrations and close readings core writers such as Thoreau John Muir and Mary Austin showing how each writer's work exemplifies the pastoral tradition and celebrate a spirit of place in the United States

Nature Writing Robert Finch, John Elder, 2002 The first anthology to represent the full range of nature writing's rich and flourishing tradition from lyrical essays to thoughtful encounters with new ethical and ecological concerns

Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First Century British Nature Writing Anneke Lubkowitz, 2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed uncanny and socially contested Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography's interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside Kathleen Jamie's allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re writing of the outdoors and John Burnside's use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfold in these texts

Modern British Nature Writing, 1789-2020 Will Abberley, Christina Alt, David Higgins, Graham Huggan, Pippa Marland, 2022-03-17 Why do we speak so much of nature today when there is so little of it left Prompted by this question this study offers the first full length exploration of modern British nature writing from the late eighteenth century to the present Focusing on non fictional prose writing the book supplies new readings of classic texts by Romantic Victorian and Contemporary authors situating these within the context of an enduringly popular genre Nature writing is still widely considered fundamentally celebratory or escapist yet it is also very much in tune with the conflicts of a natural world under threat The book's five authors connect these conflicts to the triple historical crisis of the environment of representation and of modern dissociated sensibility This book offers an informed critical approach to modern British nature writing for specialist readers as well as a valuable guide for general readers concerned by an increasingly diminished natural world

German-Language Nature Writing from Eighteenth Century to the Present Gabriele Dürbeck, Christine Kanz, 2024-05-11 This volume examines the topic of German language nature writing in a broad historical context spanning more than two centuries It brings together contributions on the debates of the category Nature Writing by numerous renowned international scholars It discusses literary texts of natural history nature exploration nature poetry perception and reflection by German speaking authors since the 18th century including texts by Ulrike Draesner and on Esther Kinsky's writing The book asks whether the here discussed texts can should or may also be labeled as Nature

Beyond Nature Writing Karla Armbruster, Kathleen R. Wallace, 2001 Ecocriticism a field of study that has expanded dramatically over the past decade has nevertheless remained until recently closely focused on critical analyses of nature writing and literature of wilderness The authors push well beyond that established framework with this collection of essays by respected ecocritics and scholars from the literary and environmental arenas Writing Environments Sidney I.

Dobrin, Christopher J. Keller, 2012-02-01 Writing Environments addresses the intersections between writing and nature through interviews with some of America's leading environmental writers Those interviewed include Rick Bass Cheryl Glotfelty Annette Kolodny Max Oelschlaeger Simon J Ortiz David Quammen Janisse Ray Scott Russell Sanders Edward O Wilson and Ann H Zwinger From the standpoints of activists scientists naturalists teachers and highly visible writers the interviewees consider how different environments have influenced them how their writing affects environments and the ways readers experience environments The interviews are followed by critical responses from writing scholars This diverse range of voices speaks lucidly and captivantly about topics such as place writing teaching politics race and culture and how these overlap in many complex ways Writing Naturally David Petersen, 2014-11-04 A uniquely compelling refreshingly practical and unimpeachably informed how to guide for aspiring and published nature writers Errorless 10 Year-wise Odisha

Nature Writing Scott Slovic, 1992 The Norton Book of Nature Writing Robert Finch, John Elder, 1990 W W Norton is pleased to announce that The Norton Book of Nature Writing is now available in a paperback college edition Nature

Prose Dominic Head, 2022 Nature Prose seeks to explain the popularity and appeal of contemporary writing about nature This book intervenes in key areas of contemporary debate about literature and the environment and explores the enduring appeal of writing about nature during an ecological crisis Using a range of international examples with a focus on late twentieth and early twenty first century writing from Britain and the US Dominic Head argues that nature writing contains formal effects which encapsulate our current ecological dilemma and offer a fresh resource for critical thinking The environmental crisis has injected a fresh urgency into nature writing along with a new piquancy for those readers seeking solace in the nonhuman or for those looking to change their habits in the face of ecological catastrophe However behind this apparently strong match between the aims of nature writers and the desires of their readers there is also a shared mood of radical uncertainty and insecurity The treatment and construction of nature in contemporary imaginative prose reveals some significant paradoxes beneath its dominant moods moods which are usually earnest sometimes celebratory sometimes prophetic or cautionary It is in these paradoxical moments that the contemporary ecological crisis is formally encoded in a progressive development of ecological consciousness from the late 1950s onwards Nature prose fiction and nonfiction is now contemporaneous with a defining time of crisis while also being formally fashioned by that context This is a mode of writing that emerges in a world in crisis but which is also in some ways in crisis itself With chapters on remoteness exclusivity abundance and rarity this book marks a turning point in how literary criticism engages with nature writing
