There is no more important issue in theological study than the meaning of faith in the New Testament. The perennial problem of the misunderstanding concerning the nature of faith has produced a variety of theological errors as well as pastoral problems for the church. In a day of rampant theological confusion concerning justification by faith, the nature of faith is paramount. This book provides a penetrating examination through exegetical precision concerning the nature of faith. For those who believe in faith alone in Christ alone, this book will guide you into an understanding of what faith is and what it is not. This is a book that needed to be written and a book that must be read.

Earl Radmacher ThD, President Emeritus, Western Seminary. Most evangelical Protestants agree that salvation is by faith alone in Christ alone. However, what they cannot agree on is the meaning of faith. Are there different kinds of faith in the Bible? Is there saving faith and non-saving faith? Is faith a matter of the mind or the emotions, or the mind, emotions, and will? Is faith active or passive on the part of the believer? Is it a gift of God or a work of man? All these questions and many more are explored in depth by Chay and Correia. They have done a commendable job of dealing with words, studies, grammatical nuances, and debated passages. Such a work is long overdue.

Dave Anderson PhD, President and professor of Theology, Grace School of Theology, President, Free Grace Alliance.

Excerpt from Belief What Is It? Or the Nature of Faith as Determined by the Facts of Human Nature and Sacred History. In consequence of the reasoning being confined to the analytical form, the concentrated presentation of result which synthetic statement allows has had to be sacrificed and the reader's apprehension at different stages of the writer's whole meaning which that facilitates.
