Office for Subject Cataloging Policy,1990 Selvagens Islands Nature Reserve, Portugal Council of Europe,1993-01-01 In the European network of protected areas the Selvagens Islands Nature Reserve undeniably occupies a position of paramount importance From the botanical point of view the islands or at least two of them Selvagem Pequena and Ilheu de Fora are still practically virgin which probably represents a unique situation in the Atlantic From the zoological viewpoint they represent the main reservoir of pelagic birds in the sub tropical zone of the North Atlantic It is these two features which give the islands their exceptional scientific interest and their value as part of the European natural heritage Back cover Protected Areas and Regional Development in Europe Ingo Mose,2016-04-15 While originally created as reserves for beautiful landscapes and endangered species protected areas in Europe were subsequently used as a means to preserve whole ecosystems with restrictions on human activities and impacts More recently protected areas are also being considered as instruments for regional development particularly in marginal regions facing severe economic and socio cultural problems Contrary to previous conservation focused policies new approaches aim to blend conservation and development functions making protected areas real living landscapes and integrating activities such as agriculture forestry handicrafts tourism and education with the conservation and sustainability aspects The past decade has seen a marked increase in these innovative and dynamic types of protected areas However the policies of individual European countries are very varied This volume provides a comprehensive overview of the relationship between protected areas and regional development policies both in theory and practice Illustrated with a wide range of case studies from across Europe it compares the different concepts strategies and instruments being used In conclusion it suggests the most innovative and successful ways to use protected areas for regeneration and sustainable regional development Nature Conservation in France France.
