Nature Pictorialized Gina Crandell, 1993 Crandell landscape architecture Iowa State U demonstrates how the principles of her field have drawn extensively from the basic concepts of art and literature so that a beautiful landscape is one that most closely resembles a painting She traces the subject back to classical times but emphasizes how 17th century European painting manifested in 18th century gardens Illustrated in black and white Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Nature and Landscape Allen Carlson, 2009 The roots of environmental aesthetics reach back to the ideas of eighteenth century thinkers who found nature an ideal source of aesthetic experience Today having blossomed into a significant subfield of aesthetics environmental aesthetics studies and encourages the appreciation of not just natural environments but also human made and human modified landscapes Nature and Landscape is an important introduction to this rapidly growing area of aesthetic understanding and appreciation Allen Carlson begins by tracing the development of the field's historical background and then surveys contemporary positions on the aesthetics of nature such as scientific cognitivism which holds that certain kinds of scientific knowledge are necessary for a full appreciation of natural environments Carlson next turns to environments that have been created or changed by humans and the dilemmas that are posed by the appreciation of such landscapes He examines how to aesthetically appreciate a variety of urban and rural landscapes and concludes with a discussion of whether there is in general a correct way to aesthetically experience the environment

Monuments and Memory, Made and Unmade Robert S. Nelson, Margaret Olin, 2003 How do some monuments become so socially powerful that people seek to destroy them After ignoring monuments for years why must we now commemorate public trauma but not triumph with a monument To explore these and other questions Robert S Nelson and Margaret Olin assembled essays from leading scholars about how monuments have functioned throughout the world and how globalization has challenged Western notions of the monument Examining how monuments preserve memory these essays demonstrate how phenomena as diverse as ancient drum towers in China and ritual whale killings in the Pacific Northwest serve to represent and negotiate time Connecting that history to the present with an epilogue on the World Trade Center Monuments and Memory Made and Unmade is pertinent not only for art historians but for anyone interested in the turbulent history of monuments a history that is still very much with us today Contributors Stephen Bann Jonathan Bordo Julia Bryan Wilson Jas Elsner Tapati Guha Thakurta Robert S Nelson Margaret Olin Ruth B Phillips Mitchell Schwarzer Lillian Lan ying Tseng Richard Wittman Wu Hung

William Wordsworth and the Ecology of Authorship Scott Hess, 2012 In William Wordsworth and the Ecology of Authorship Scott Hess explores Wordsworth's defining role in establishing what he designates as the ecology of authorship a primarily middle class nineteenth century conception of nature associated with aesthetics high culture individualism and nation Instead of viewing Wordsworth as an early ecologist Hess places him within a context that is largely cultural and aesthetic The supposedly universal Wordsworthian vision of nature Hess argues was in this sense specifically male middle class professional and culturally elite factors that continue to shape the environmental movement today

The Aesthetics of Natural Environments Allen Carlson,Arnold Berleant,2004-02-10 The Aesthetics of Natural Environments is a collection of essays investigating philosophical and aesthetics issues that arise in our appreciation of natural environments The introduction gives an historical and conceptual overview of the rapidly developing field of study known as environmental aesthetics The essays consist of classic pieces as well as new contributions by some of the most prominent individuals now working in the field and range from theoretical to applied approaches The topics covered include the nature and value of natural beauty the relationship between art appreciation and nature appreciation the role of knowledge in the aesthetic appreciation of nature the importance of environmental participation to the appreciation of environments and the connections between the aesthetic appreciation of nature and our ethical obligations concerning its maintenance and preservation This volume is for scholars and students focussed on nature landscapes and environments individuals in areas such as aesthetics environmental ethics geography environmental studies landscape architecture landscape ecology and the planning and design disciplines It is also for any reader interested in and concerned about the aesthetic quality of the world in which we live

See America First Marguerite Shaffer,2013-08-06 In See America First Marguerite Shaffer chronicles the birth of modern American tourism between 1880 and 1940 linking tourism to the simultaneous growth of national transportation systems print media a national market and a middle class with money and time to spend on leisure Focusing on the See America First slogan and idea employed at different times by railroads guidebook publishers Western boosters and Good Roads advocates she describes both the modern marketing strategies used to promote tourism and the messages of patriotism and loyalty embedded in the tourist experience She shows how tourists as consumers participated in the search for a national identity that could assuage their anxieties about American society and culture Generously illustrated with images from advertisements guidebooks and travelogues See America First demonstrates that the promotion of tourist landscapes and the consumption of tourist experiences were central to the development of an American identity

Forests and Landscapes Stephen Richard John Sheppard, Howard W. Harshaw, 2001-01-01 Forests are an important component in the visual appeal of landscapes There is an increasing recognition of the importance of this subject among foresters and environmental scientists Increasingly forest resource managers must consider the aesthetic consequences of timber harvesting operations and management plans This book is the first to address this subject area It consists of 15 chapters and is divided into four parts It brings together not only foresters and ecologists but also landscape architects psychologists and philosophers It should therefore attract a wide readership Contributors are leading research workers in their subjects from Canada the USA and UK

Routes, Roads and Landscapes Brita Brenna, Janike Kampevd Larsen, 2016-12-05 Routes and roads make their way into and across the landscape defining it as landscape and making it accessible for many kinds of uses and perceptions Bringing together outstanding scholars from cultural history geography philosophy and a host of other disciplines this collection examines the complex entanglement between routes and landscapes It traces the changing conceptions of the landscape from the Enlightenment to the present day looking at how movement has been facilitated imagined and represented and how such movement in turn has conditioned understandings of the landscape A particular focus is on the modern transportation landscape as it came into being with the canal the railway and the automobile These modes of transport have had a profound impact on the perception and conceptualization of the modern landscape a relationship investigated in detail by authors such as Gernot Böhme Sarah Bonnemaïson Tim Cresswell Finola O Kane Charlotte Klonk Peter Merriman Christine Macy David Nye Vittoria Di Palma Charles Withers and Thomas Zeller

Sites Unseen Dianne Harris, D. Fairchild Ruggles, 2007-05-27 Sites Unseen challenges conventions for viewing and interpreting the landscape using visual theory to move beyond traditional practices of describing and classifying objects to explore notions of audience and context While other fields such as art history and geography have engaged poststructuralist theory to consider vision and representation the application of such inquiry to the natural or built environment has lagged behind This book by treating landscape as a spatial psychological and sensory encounter aims to bridge this gap opening a new dialogue for discussing the landscape outside the boundaries of current art criticism and theory As the contributors reveal the landscape is a widely adaptable medium that can be employed literally or metaphorically to convey personal or institutional ideologies Walls gates churchyards and arches become framing devices for a staged aesthetic experience or to suit a sociopolitical agenda The optic stimulation of signs symbols bodies and objects combines with physical acts of climbing and walking and sensory acts of touching smelling and hearing to evoke an overall vision of landscape Sites Unseen considers a variety of different perspectives including ancient Roman visions of landscape the framing techniques of a Moghul palace and a contemporary case study of Christo s The Gates as examples of human attempts to shape our sensory cognitive and emotional experiences in the landscape

Architectures of Russian Identity, 1500 to the Present James Cracraft, Daniel B. Rowland, 2018-08-06 From the royal pew of Ivan the Terrible to Catherine the Great s use of landscape to the struggles between the Orthodox Church and preservationists in post Soviet Yaroslavl across five centuries of Russian history Russian leaders have used architecture to project unity identity and power Church architecture has inspired national cohesion and justified political control while representing the claims of religion in brick wood and stone The architectural vocabulary of the Soviet state celebrated industrialization mechanization and communal life Buildings and landscapes have expressed utopian urges as well as lofty spiritual goals Country houses and memorials have encoded their own messages In Architectures of Russian Identity James Cracraft and Daniel Rowland gather a group of authors from a wide variety of backgrounds including history and architectural history linguistics literary studies geography and political science to survey the political and symbolic meanings of many different kinds of structures Fourteen heavily illustrated chapters demonstrate the remarkable fertility of the theme of architecture broadly defined for a range of fields dealing with Russia and its surrounding territories The authors engage key terms in contemporary historiography identity nationality visual culture and assess the applications of each in Russian contexts

Poignant Landscapes Van Thi Diep, 2024-01-15 What is behind the modern soul s quest for meaning in life In the search to find belonging in our cultures lovability in our relationships worthiness in our economic and political systems and sacredness through the worshipping of all things between technology and nature what is it that we are truly looking for Even the uninspired among us cannot help but be mesmerized by beautiful landscapes find reassurance in calming landscapes and be in awe of the force of nature in powerful landscapes But how often do we stop to contemplate the existential relationship we have with these landscapes In the liminality of poignant landscapes that is the space between the external landscapes that move us and the psychological landscapes that guide us is a portal to life s most profound questions Who am I Why am I here Who do I want to be And what world do I want to live in Using the negative space found in language ecophilosopher Van Thi Diep delicately weaves together insights from her academic research study on place making and what it means to flourish as a landscape architect with personal ruminations on self acceptance belonging and healing social trauma Through these reflections she invites you on a vulnerable yet courageous journey to look inside the poignant landscapes that shape our individual soul paths as well as the ones we all share as humans here on Earth together In the wisdom of these poignant landscapes is the permission to feel the pain of being human to be loved exactly as we are without conditions and to be inspired by the sacredness of life This collection of short essays poetry and photographs wistfully mirrors the fluidity of landscapes by transcending the binaries of intellectualism and emotionality inner and outer world experiences individual and collective existence to return to what the modern soul wants most the knowing that true belonging does not exist outside of us but instead is found intuitively within

American Green Stephen A. Germic, 2001-05-25 In this work of interdisciplinary scholarship Stephen A Germic reveals how America's first parks both urban and wilderness were created and organized to mitigate the most threatening social and economic crises in the nineteenth century outside of the Civil War Germic analyzes the intentionally disguised relationship between the constructed nature of Central Park Yosemite and Yellowstone and the expanding but crisis prone capitalist state American Green demonstrates how the fundamental function of these parks was economic and political in the service of maintaining a consensus regarding national identity The organization and control of natural space Germic argues is inseparable from its function as a capitalist instrument This instrumentalism served not only to define constitute and segregate social groups but also to promote racial and ethnic identifications above those based on class interest Providing a fresh insight into United States labor cultural and environmental history this book is an important contribution to our understanding of American parks and the complex meaning of American public space
