Webster, Louise Stiver, D. Y. Begay, Lynda Teller Pete, 2017-08-15 Navajo Textiles provides a nuanced account the Navajo weavings in the Crane Collection at the Denver Museum of Nature Science one of the largest collections of Navajo textiles in the world Bringing together the work of anthropologists and indigenous artists the book explores the Navajo rug trade in the mid nineteenth century and changes in the Navajo textile market while highlighting the museum's important though still relatively unknown collection of Navajo textiles In this unique collaboration among anthropologists museums and Navajo weavers the authors provide a narrative of the acquisition of the Crane Collection and a history of Navajo weaving Personal reflections and insights from foremost Navajo weavers D Y Begay and Lynda Teller Pete are also featured and more than one hundred stunning full color photographs of the textiles in the collection are accompanied by technical information about the materials and techniques used in their creation An introduction by Ann Lane Hedlund documents the growing collaboration between Navajo weavers and museums in Navajo textile research The legacy of Navajo weaving is complex and intertwined with the history of the Din themselves Navajo Textiles makes the history and practice of Navajo weaving accessible to an audience of scholars and laypeople both within and outside the Din community Navajo Weaving ; Its Technic and History Charles Avery Amsden,1974 A History Of Textiles Kax Wilson,2021-11-28 Originally published in 1979 this volume acts as a reference for the history textiles It asks questions on the effect of technology on textiles how did particular historical periods and locations expand or limit the possibilities for the manufacture of fabrics and how the textile history related to politics and economics sociology and psychology art and engineering anthropology and archaeology chemistry and physics Addressing these questions the author surveys the development of the technical components of fabrics and discusses the textiles of selected places and times She uses prose drawings and more than 130 photographs to show how each era of textile production reflects its age This book is designed to serve as a college text and as a reference work for museum researchers With sections including illustrations and diagrams key terminology spinning wool spinning and raw materials single ply and cord and fabric construction The Book of Looms Eric Broudy,2021-09-29 A heavily illustrated classic on the evolution of the handloom The handloom often no more than a bundle of sticks and a few lengths of cordage has been known to almost all cultures for thousands of years Eric Broudy places the wide variety of handlooms in their historical context What influenced their development How did they travel from one geographic area to another Were they invented independently by different cultures How have modern cultures improved on ancient weaving skills and methods Broudy shows how virtually every culture has woven on handlooms He highlights the incredible technical achievement of early cultures that created magnificent textiles with the crudest of tools and demonstrates that modern technology has done nothing to surpass their skill or inventiveness Announcing the Publication on November 15, 1933 of Navajo Weaving, Its Technic [sic] and History by Charles Avery Amsden with a Foreword by Frederick Webb Hodge... ,193? The Navajo Weaving Tradition Alice Kaufman,Christopher Selser,1999 Navajo textiles have been avidly sought after and collected for more than two hundred years and provide examples of both historic and contemporary primitive art Navajo Weaving Tradition is a detailed history and appreciation of these wonderful textiles Navajo Textiles Nancy J. Blomberg,1994-07-01 William Randolph Hearst s collection of Navajo textiles is one of the most complete gatherings of nineteenth century Navajo weaving in the world Comprising dozens of Classic Period serapes chief blankets Germantown eyedazzlers and turn of the century rugs the 185 piece collection was donated to the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History in 1942 but for the next forty years was known only to a handful of scholars Hearst began acquiring textiles from the Fred Harvey Company after viewing an exhibit of Indian artifacts Over four decades he amassed a collection spanning more than a century of Navajo weaving and including nearly every major type produced from 1800 to 1920 Hearst s passion for American Indian artifacts was so strong that he had originally visualized his now famous castle in San Simeon as a showplace for his Navajo textile collection At a time when the Harvey Company was itself influencing the development of Indian handcrafts by opening up the tourist market Hearst contributed to this influence by expressing his own artistic preference for rare and unusual pieces This catalogue raisonné featuring nearly 200 illustrations provides the general public with the first look at this important collection Nancy Blomberg's narrative introduces the reader to the history of Navajo weaving and documents Hearst's role in its development The heart of the book provides a detailed analysis of each textile fibers yarn types dyes and designs Navajo Textiles thus constitutes an invaluable reference for scholars and collectors and will be enjoyed by anyone who appreciates these beautiful creations from the Navajo loom Navaho [sic] Weaving Charles Avery Amsden, 1934 Resources for the Teaching of Anthropology David G. Mandelbaum, Gabriel W. Lasker, Ethel M. Albert, 2023-11-15 Earth Diplomacy Jessica L. Horton, 2024-07-19 In Earth Diplomacy Jessica L. Horton reveals how Native American art in the mid twentieth century mobilized Indigenous cultures of diplomacy to place the earth itself at the center of international relations She focuses on a group of artists including Pablita Velarde Darryl Blackman and Oscar Howe who participated in exhibitions and lectures abroad as part of the United States's Cold War cultural propaganda Horton emphasizes how their art modeled a radical alternative to dominant forms of statecraft a practice she calls earth diplomacy a response to extractive colonial capitalism grounded in Native ideas of deep reciprocal relationships between humans and other beings that govern the world Horton draws on extensive archival research and oral histories as well as analyses of Indigenous creative work including paintings textiles tipis adornment and artistic demonstrations By interweaving diplomacy ecology and art history Horton advances Indigenous frameworks of reciprocity with all beings in the cosmos as a path to transforming our broken system of global politics Hubbell Trading Post Erica Cottam, 2015-09-22 For more than a century trading posts in the American Southwest tied the U S economy and culture to those of American Indian peoples and in this capacity Hubbell Trading Post founded in 1878 in Ganado Arizona had no parallel This book tells the story of the Hubbell family its Navajo neighbors and clients and what the changing relationship between them reveals about the history of Navajo trading Drawing on extensive archival material and secondary literature historian Erica Cottam begins with an account of John Lorenzo Hubbell who was part Hispanic part Anglo and wholly brilliant and charismatic She examines his trading practices and the strategies he used to meet the challenges of Navajo exchange customs and a seasonal trading cycle Tracing the trading post's affairs through the upheavals of the twentieth century Cottam explores the growth of tourism the development of Navajo weaving the automobile's advent and the Hubbells' relationship with the Fred Harvey Company She also describes the Hubbell family's role in providing Navajo and Hopi demonstrators for world's fairs and other events and in supplying museums with Native artifacts Acknowledging the criticism aimed at the Hubbell family for taking advantage of Navajo clients Cottam shows the family's strengths their integrity as business operators and the warm friendships they developed with customers and with the artists writers archaeologists politicians and tourists attracted to Navajo country by its unparalleled landscapes and fascinating peoples Cottam traces the preservation efforts of Hubbell's daughter in law after the Great Depression and World War II fundamentally altered the trading post business and concludes with the post's transition to its present status as a National Park Service historic site Indian-Made Erika Bsumek, 2008-10-03 In works of silver and wool the Navajos have established a unique brand of American craft And when their artisans were integrated into the American economy during the late nineteenth century they became part of a complex cultural and economic framework in which their handmade crafts conveyed meanings beyond simple adornment As Anglo tourists discovered these crafts the Navajo weavings and jewelry gained appeal from the romanticized notion that their producers were part of a primitive group whose traditions were destined to vanish Erika Bsumek now explores the complex links between Indian identity and the emergence of tourism in the Southwest to reveal how production distribution and consumption became interdependent concepts shaped by the forces of consumerism race relations and federal policy Bsumek unravels the layers of meaning that surround the branding of Indian made When Navajo artisans produced their goods collaborating traders tourist industry personnel and even ethnologists created a vision of Navajo culture that had little to do with Navajos themselves And as Anglos consumed Navajo crafts they also consumed the romantic notion of Navajos as primitives perpetuated by the marketplace These processes of production and consumption reinforced each other creating a symbiotic relationship and influencing both mutual Anglo Navajo perceptions and the ways in which Navajos participated in the modern marketplace Examining varied sites of production artisans workshops museums trading posts Bsumek shows how the market economy perpetuated Navaho stereotypes and cultural assumptions She takes readers into the hogans where men worked silver and women wove rugs and into the outlets where middlemen dictated what buyers wanted and where Navajos influenced inventory Exploring this process over seven decades she describes how artisans increasing use of modern tools created controversy about authenticity and how the meaning of the Indian made label was even challenged in court Ultimately Bsumek shows that the sale of Indian made goods cannot be explained solely through supply and demand It must also reckon with the multiple images and narratives that grew up around the goods themselves integrating consumer culture tourism and history to open new perspectives on our understanding of American Indian material culture Guide to America; a Treasury of Information about Its States, Cities, Parks, and Historical Points of Interest, 1947

Both Sides of the Bullpen Robert S.

McPherson, 2017-10-19 Between 1880 and 1940 Navajo and Ute families and westward trending Anglos met in the bullpens of southwestern trading posts to barter for material goods As the products of the livestock economy of Navajo culture were exchanged for the merchandise of an industrialized nation a wealth of cultural knowledge also changed hands In Both Sides of the Bullpen Robert S McPherson reveals the ways that Navajo tradition fundamentally reshaped and defined trading practices in the Four Corners area of southeastern Utah and southwestern Colorado Drawing on oral histories of Native peoples and traders collected over thirty years of research McPherson explores these interactions from both perspectives as wool blankets and silver crossed the counter in exchange for flour coffee and hardware To succeed traders had to meet the needs and expectations of their customers often interpreted through Navajo cultural standards From the organization of the post building to gift giving health care and burial services and a credit system tailored to the Navajo calendar every feature of the trading post served trader and customer alike Over time these posts evolved from ad hoc business ventures or profitable cooperative stores into institutions with a clearly defined set of expectations that followed Navajo traditional practices Traders spent their days evaluating craft work learning the financial circumstances of each Native family following economic trends in the wool and livestock industry back east and avoiding conflict In detail and depth the many voices woven throughout Both Sides of the Bullpen restore an underappreciated era to the history of the American Southwest They show us that for American Indians and white traders alike in the Four Corners region during the late 1800s and early 1900s barter was as much a cultural expression as it was an economic necessity

Southwest Weaving Stefani Salkeld, San Diego Museum of Man, 1996 A catalog for a traveling exhibition of Native American folk art presents and describes hand woven textiles from the Pueblo Navajo and New Mexico Hispanic village cultures
