Ne Pas Plier:

Comment parler de la société à un canard Angèle Chanjou, Isabelle Lassignardie, Matthew Tyas, Collectivism After Modernism Blake Stimson, Gregory Sholette, Don't start an art collective until you read this book Guerrilla Girls Ever since Web 2.0 with its wikis, blogs and social networks the art of collaboration is back on the agenda. Collectivism after Modernism convincingly proves that art collectives did not stop after the proclaimed death of the historical avant-gardes. Like never before, technology reinvents the social and artists claim the steering wheel. Geert Lovink, Institute of Network Cultures, Amsterdam. This examination of the succession of post-war avant-gardes and collectives is new, important and engaged. Stephen F. Eisenman, author of The Abu Ghraib Effect. Collectivism after Modernism crucially helps us understand what artists and others can do in mushy, stinky times like ours. What can the seemingly powerless do in the face of mighty forces that seem to have their act really together? Here Stimson and Sholette put forth many good answers. Yes, Men. Spanning the globe from Europe, Japan and the United States to Africa, Cuba and Mexico, Collectivism after Modernism explores the ways in which collectives function within cultural norms, social conventions and corporate or state-sanctioned art. Together, these essays demonstrate that collectivism survives as an influential artistic practice despite the art world's star system of individuality. Collectivism after Modernism provides the historical understanding necessary for thinking through postmodern collective practice now and into the future. Contributors: Irina Aristarkhova, Jesse Drew Okwui Enwezor, Rubén Gallo, Chris Gilbert, Brian Holmes, Alan Moore, Jelena Stojanović, Reiko Tomii, Rachel Weiss. Blake Stimson is associate professor of art history at the University of California, Davis, the author of The Pivot of the World: Photography and Its Nation and coeditor of Visual Worlds and Conceptual Art: A Critical Anthology. Gregory Sholette is an artist, writer and cofounder of collectives Political Art Documentation Distribution and REPOhistory. He is coeditor of The Interventionists: Users Manual for the Creative Disruption of Everyday Life. To understand the various forms of postwar collectivism as historically determined phenomena and to articulate the possibilities for contemporary collectivist art production is the aim of Collectivism after Modernism. The essays assembled in this anthology argue that to make truly collective art means to reconsider the relation between art and public examples from the Situationist International and Group Material to Paper Tiger Television and the Congolese collective Le Groupe Amos make the point. To construct an art of shared experience means to go beyond projecting what Blake Stimson and Gregory Sholette call the imagined community; a collective has to be more than an ideal and more than communal craft; it has to be a truly social enterprise. Not only does it use unconventional forms and media to communicate the issues and experiences usually excluded from artistic representation but it gives voice to a multiplicity of perspectives. At its best, it relies on the participation of the audience to actively contribute to the work, carrying forth the dialogue it inspires. Activism Afonso Dias Ramos, Tom Snow, 2023-10-24. An edited collection that addresses the vital intersection of contemporary art and activism in this watershed cultural moment. Activism is a critical point of contention for institutions and genealogies of contemporary art around the world. Yet artists have consistently engaged in activist discourse lending their skills to social movements and regularly participating in civil and social rights campaigns while also boycotting cultural institutions and exerting significant pressure on them. This timely volume edited by Tom Snow and Afonso Ramos addresses an extraordinary moment in debates over the institutional frameworks and networks of art including large scale direct actions as well as a radical rethinking of art venues and urban spaces according to racial class or gender based disparities including demonstrations against the extractive and exploitative practices of neoliberal accumulation and climate catastrophe. From ACT UP and its affiliate groups since the dawn of the AIDS crisis to the counter spectacle and street theatrics of the so called Arab Spring and Occupy to ongoing protest movements such as Black Lives Matter Rhodes Must Fall and Decolonize This Place activist aesthetics has proven increasingly difficult to define under traditional classifications. Resurgent campaigns for decolonial reckoning ecological justice gender equality indigenous rights and antiracist pedagogies indicate that the role of activism in contemporary art practice urges a critical reassessment. One pressing question is whether contemporary art's most radical politics now takes place outside against or in spite of conventional sites of display such as museums biennials and galleries. Artists surveyed include ACT UP Basel Abbas Ruanne Abou Rahme Allora Calzadilla Tania Bruguera Black Audio Film Collective Choto Delat Andrea Fraser Nan Goldin Sanja Iveković Gulf Labor Amar Kanwar Leslie Labowitz Liberate Tate Sethembile Msezane Zanele Muholi Jan Nikolai Nelles Nora Al-Badri Decolonize This Place Michael Rakowitz Oliver Ressler. France and the Visual Arts Since 1945 Catherine Dossin, 2019-01-01. Taking on the myth of France's creative exhaustion following World War II this collection of essays brings together an international team of scholars whose research offers English readers a rich and complex overview of the place of France and French artists in the visual arts since 1945. Addressing a wide range of artistic practices spanning over seven decades and using different methodologies their contributions cover ground charted and unknown They introduce greater depth and specificity to familiar artists and movements such as Lettrism Situationist International or Nouveau Réalisme while bringing to the fore lesser known artists and groups including GRAPUS the Sociological Art Collective and Nicolas Schaffner Collectively they stress the political dimensions and social ambitions of the art produced in France at the time deconstruct the traditional geography of the French art world and highlight the multiculturalism of the French art scene that resulted from its colonial past and the constant flux of artistic travels and migrations Ultimately the book contributes to a story of postwar art in which France can be inscribed not as a main or sub chapter but rather as a vector in the wider constellation of modern and contemporary art
