demonstrates how states can make decisions coherently about the structure and posture of their defence forces despite strategic uncertainty It draws on case studies from the United States Australian and New Zealand each of which developed key concepts for their particular circumstances and risk perception in Asia Success as well as failure in developing coherent defence planning frameworks holds lessons for the United States and other countries as they consider how best to structure their military forces for the uncertain challenges of the future

Being and Becoming Hausa Anne Haour, Benedetta

Rossi, 2010-07-30 Hausa society in West Africa has attracted researchers attention for decades and has featured in the historical record for at least 500 years Yet no clear picture is available of the historical trajectories that underpin Hausa ethnogenesis This book addresses this gap deploying interdisciplinary approaches to revisit questions to which single disciplines have given partial answers often due to the paucity of written sources for early periods of Hausa history Contributors draw from the disciplines of anthropology linguistics economic history and archaeology to enquire into how a Hausa identity took shape and what have been its changing material and cultural manifestations The result is a compelling overview of one of the most iconic groups of modern West Africa
