Perceptions of the Past in Southeast Asia Anthony Reid, 1979      Perceptions of the Past in South East Asia, 1979
The Diliman Review, 1995      Telling Lives, Telling History Susan Rodgers, 1995-04-19 These two memoirs provide windows into the Sumatran past in particular and the early 20th century history of south east Asia in general In reconstructing their own passage into adulthood the writers tell the story of their country's turbulent journey to independence      Responding to the West Hans Hägerdal, 2009 The international contributors to this penetrating volume apply fresh perspectives and new methodologies to the Asian colonial experience from the eighteenth century through the post World War II decolonization Historiography gender military studies finance and issues of race and class all feature in this wide ranging account of the diversity of human relationships forged by the colonial presence For all of its features of structural oppression colonialism was not a one way communicative process as this volume demonstrates through its analysis of the ever shifting roles of colonizer and colonized      Shadows of Empire Laurie Jo Sears, 1996 Shadows of Empire explores Javanese shadow theater as a staging area for negotiations between colonial power and indigenous traditions Charting the shifting boundaries between myth and history in Javanese Mahabharata and Ramayana tales Laurie J Sears reveals what happens when these stories move from village performances and palace manuscripts into colonial texts and nationalist journals and most recently comic books and novels Historical anthropological and literary in its method and insight this work offers a dramatic reassessment of both Javanese literary theatrical production and Dutch scholarship on Southeast Asia Though Javanese shadow theater wayang has existed for hundreds of years our knowledge of its history performance practice and role in Javanese society only begins with Dutch documentation and interpretation in the nineteenth century Analyzing the Mahabharata and Ramayana tales in relation to court poetry Islamic faith Dutch scholarship and nationalist journals Sears shows how the shadow theater as we know it today must be understood as a hybrid of Javanese and Dutch ideas and interests inseparable from a particular colonial moment In doing so she contributes to a re envisioning of European histories that acknowledges the influence of Asian African and New World cultures on European thought and to a rewriting of colonial and postcolonial Javanese histories that questions the boundaries and content of history and story myth and allegory colonialism and culture Shadows of Empire will appeal not only to specialists in Javanese culture and historians of Indonesia but also to a wide range of scholars in the areas of performance and literature anthropology Southeast Asian studies and postcolonial studies      Chineseness And Modernity In A Changing China: Essays In Honour Of Professor Wang Gungwu Yongnian Zheng, Litao Zhao, 2020-02-13 This book is a collection of essays in honour of Professor Wang Gungwu Professor Wang is not only a great historian on Chinese history in general and the Chinese overseas in particular but has much wider influence through remarkable domain crossing namely spatial crossing characterised by geographical straddling between inside and outside of China temporal crossing from the ancient past to the contemporary inter disciplinary crossing from history to the social sciences and intellectual crossing from the academia to public activism He has been a long lasting source of inspiration for understanding some of the most pressing and complex issues in our times including the nature of China's rise and its implications for the regional and world order In a nutshell this book presents Wang as a highly active educator scholar who has achieved the highest academic standard as well as far reaching influence over issues that concern all walks of life By focusing on the theme of Chineseness and China's modernity this book adds depth to the analysis of China's rise and its implications for the region and the world It contains a chapter providing the most comprehensive and updated review of Wang's scholarship thus far Another chapter demonstrates how Wang based on his deep understanding of Chinese civilisation and history articulates a distinct view of the world order that differs from either the thesis of Thucydides's trap or the advocacy of mutual accommodation Interestingly this book also includes a chapter that highlights Wang's Southeast Asian-ness suggesting that Wang's scholarship cautions against not only western centric views towards China but also Sino-centric views towards Southeast Asia In short this edited volume is both a reference book for understanding Wang's scholarship and an extension of his scholarship to the analysis of China's growing international influence and its implications for the world order

Making Blood White William Cummings, 2002-01-01 Central to his argument is the notion that histories are not just records or representations of the past but are themselves forces or agents capable of transforming the worlds in which humans live Not simply structured by the prevailing social cultural and ideological contexts in which they are made they also shape these contexts

BOOK JACKET From Jail to Jail Tan Malaka, 2020-03-10 From Jail to Jail is the political autobiography of Sutan Ibrahim gelar Tan Malaka an enigmatic and colorful political thinker of twentieth century Asia who was one of the most influential figures of the Indonesian Revolution Various labels a communist Trotskyite and nationalist Tan Malaka managed to run afoul of nearly every political group and faction involved in the Indonesian struggle for independence During his decades of political activity he spent periods of exile and hiding in nearly every country in Southeast Asia As a Marxist who was expelled from and became a bitter enemy of his country's Communist Party and as a nationalist who was imprisoned and murdered by his own government's forces as a danger to its anticolonial struggle Tan Malaka was and continues to be soaked in contradiction and controversy Translated by Helen Jarvis and with a new introduction from Harry A Poeze this edition of From Jail to Jail contextualizes the life and political accomplishments of Tan Malaka in one of the few known autobiographies by a Marxist of this political era and region

New Terrains in Southeast Asian History Abu Talib Ahmad, Liok Ee Tan, 2003 Annotation Southeast Asian scholars may have special insights into their respective countries but they are just as easily infected by political and didactic functions of their national histories as any historian The editors a professor and former professor with the School of Humanities U Sains Malaysia present 15 papers in which Southeast Asian scholars turn a critical eye on their national historiographies Five of the papers explore broad methodological issues while others examine particular historiographic traditions from Burma

Myanmar Singapore Malaysia and Thailand The final group consists of case studies of the application of new methodologies and understandings to particular historical events or periods Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

Southeast Asia Views the United States Ann Marie Murphy, 2025-01-28 This book is a comprehensive study of Southeast Asian views of their respective countries foreign policies towards the United States The Southeast Asian contributors are all individuals who bridge both academia and foreign policy circles in their countries in Southeast Asia the Indo Pacific more broadly and globally There is a dearth of theoretically informed empirically rich literature on the foreign policies of Southeast Asian states This volume with eight chapters written by some of Southeast Asia s leading analysts is therefore important timely and fills a large gap in the literature

Lion City Narratives: Singapore Through Western Eyes Victor R Savage, 2021-11-18 Lion City Narratives: Singapore Through Western Eyes fulfils four aims First it is a study of subjective Western impressions of Singapore s 145 years 1819 1963 of colonial history The study is not meant to be an in depth historical analysis of Singapore but rather to give the reader an impressionistic account of how Western residents viewed Singapore over the decades Second this study could be seen as a short biography of Singapore s evolution as a city The chapters on the imageability of Singapore and its urban morphology provide a holistic perspective of Singapore s urban dynamics Third this book provides a cultural insight into Singapore s population both White residents and transient visitors as well as the locals or Asians Fourth it opens a window into Singapore s development at a time when the West was at its cultural zenith and when Great Britain was the principal superpower of the 19th century Hence Singapore carried twin colonial legacies it was the archetype trading emporium between East and West and it became for the British the major point d appui for defence Finally the Singapore colonial narrative is set in a broader academic discourse that allows the reader to see a wider picture of Singapore s colonial development The book does not attempt to make a definitive statement about the Western involvement in Singapore it deals more with an association of many subjective Western perspectives that add colour to the liveability of the tropics perceptions of the exotic Orient and the myriad views of ethnic groups Without the Western writings paintings and maps academia would have minimal records of Singapore s development As a new colony in the early 19th century however Singapore s growth has been extremely well documented This book will appeal to Singaporeans interested in understanding Singapore s colonial past Westerners interested in the Western cultural persona in the development of Singapore researchers dealing with the urban development of less developed countries and colonial development in the tropical world and lastly academics who are interested in Singapore and the region s political and economic development as a case study evaluating multidisciplinary perspectives on Southeast Asian regionalism      Post-Colonial Perceptions of the EU's Trade Identity in Vietnamese and Indonesian Media Camille Nessel, 2025-08-25 This book provides a comprehensive exploration of the European Union's trade policy and its external perception incorporating a post colonial perspective and utilizing a hermeneutic analysis of an extensive media dataset It responds to the scholarly educational and practical demands for a deeper grasp of the intricate dynamics at the crossroads of trade sustainable development and identity development The research delves into the EU's identity as a global normative trading entity examining systemic identity related and specific issue dimensions By focusing on bilateral trading connections with former European colonies the study advances a fresh decentering agenda within the realm of EU foreign policy and international relations This agenda incisively questions the EU's Eurocentric standpoint communications and behaviours in its external interactions notably with past colonies of EU member states particularly in the context of global trade This is timely given the new geopolitical context with increased ideological rivalries while urgently demanding international cooperation to channel the effects of climate change Leveraging the concept of perceptions and framing the research presents innovative insights substantiated by meticulous empirical observations Consequently this study enriches our comprehension of the EU's function and challenges as a trading entity and illuminates the intricacies of its interaction with Southeast Asian nations contributing valuable wisdom to the domain of international relations      Asian Perceptions of Nature Ole Bruun, Arne Kalland, 2014-02-25 This highly acclaimed bold and refreshing collection of essays takes a critical look at Asians perception of their natural environments as well as at Western views of Asia in this respect      Perceptions, Relations Between the United States and the Soviet Union, 1979      China Threat: Perceptions Myths Herbert Yee, Ian Storey, 2013-04-03 Since the end of the Cold War one of the most significant debates in international relations has been the question of whether the rise of China as a major economic political and military power will be a force for stability or instability in the international system and the East Asian region Forceful arguments have been put forward on both sides This book examines perceptions of the China Threat and governments policies in response to the perceived threat in a wide range of countries including the United States Russia Europe Japan South Asia South East Asia and the Middle East as well as the perceptions of the Chinese themselves For each country current security concerns and policies especially the policy of engagement are examined in detail and future prospects for relations with China are assessed As the Bush administration in Washington increasingly focuses on China as a strategic competitor and Sino US relations becomes increasingly tense the China Threat issue has come to dominate the security agenda in the Asia Pacific region and now poses the biggest foreign policy challenge of the 21st century      EU-ASEAN Relations in the 21st Century D. Novotny, C. Portela, 2012-10-17 Escaping the economic and security centered approaches prevalent in contemporary U S debate the contributors explore political relations between the European Union EU and Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Their inter disciplinary perspectives touch on domains such as security comparative integration human rights energy      Regional Security in Southeast Asia Mely Caballero Anthony, 2005 The book examines ASEAN's mechanisms in managing challenges and threats to regional security Its extensive analyses of the ASEAN story of managing regional security cover the different phases of ASEAN's development as a regional organization and explore the perceptible changes that have occurred in regional mechanisms of conflict management The book also examines the roles of relevant actors beyond the states of ASEAN and the key interactions that have evolved over time which have been instrumental in moving regional mechanisms beyond the ASEAN way The book argues that the ASEAN way has not been impervious to change As the association finds its way through periods of crises and continues to confront the many challenges ahead ASEAN and its mechanisms are already being transformed beyond the narrow confines of the modalities associated with the ASEAN way The changes in the political and security landscape of the region as well as the democratic transitions taking place in some member states have set the stage for a much more dynamic set of regional actors and processes that bring into question the kind of regionalism that is now taking place in the region the way regionalism is changing in Southeast Asia      India and Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Mohammed Ayoob, 2013-01-11 This title first published in 1990 provides a close contextual analysis of how influential Indian policy makers have perceived India's interests within the ASEAN region since Indian independence in 1947 Placing these perceptions in the context of India's broad strategic and foreign policy framework Ayoob analyses the policies which had emerged by the close of the 1980s and stresses the close link between the futures of the two regions Including a thorough analysis of superpower involvement as well as Indian relations with Indonesia Vietnam and Cambodia this is a comprehensive study of great value to students with an interest in Indian and Southeast Asian history and diplomacy
