Balough,2023-06-08 What goes into the making of a creative genius and how can their gifts be used to help uplift humankind These were questions that led the Australian American pianist composer and music educator Percy Aldridge Grainger 1882 1961 to exhaustively document his life his thoughts and his associations and establish in the country of his birth a museum dedicated to helping answer those questions Grainger was a creative genius who thought more in terms of the future than of the present and was an advocate for the role that music can play in creating a more harmonious and loving future for humankind This book is the first attempt to bring together in one volume the details of Grainger's life as they relate to his music using his own words and those of the people who knew him It makes use of many heretofore unpublished documents and musical examples and is written in such a way as to be accessible to all while also offering a detailed study of his musical works

Grainger the Modernist Suzanne Robinson, Kay Dreyfus, 2016-03-09 Unaccountably Percy Grainger has remained on the margins of both American music history and twentieth century modernism This volume reveals the well known composer of popular gems to be a self described hyper modernist who composed works of uncompromising dissonance challenged the conventions of folk song collection and adaptation re visioned the modern orchestra experimented with ego less composition and designed electronic machines intended to supersede human application Grainger was far from being a self sufficient maverick working in isolation Through contact with innovators such as Ferruccio Busoni L on Theremin and Henry Cowell promotion of the music of modern French and Spanish schools appreciation of vernacular jazz and folk musics as well as with the study and transcription of non Western music he contested received ideas and proposed many radical new approaches By reappraising Grainger's social and historical connectedness and exploring the variety of aspects of modernity seen in his activities in the British American and Australian contexts the authors create a profile of a composer propagandist and visionary whose modernist aesthetic paralleled that of the most advanced composers of his day and in some cases anticipated their practical experiments

Writing Anthropologists, Sounding Primitives A. Elisabeth Reichel, 2021-08 Writing Anthropologists Sounding Primitives re examines the poetry and scholarship of three of the foremost figures in the twentieth century history of U S American anthropology Edward Sapir Margaret Mead and Ruth Benedict While they are widely renowned for their contributions to Franz Boas s early twentieth century school of cultural relativism what is far less known is their shared interest in probing the representational potential of different media and forms of writing This dimension of their work is manifest in Sapir s critical writing on music and literature and Mead s groundbreaking work with photography and film Sapir Mead and Benedict together also wrote more than one thousand poems which in turn negotiate their own media status and rivalry with other forms of representation A Elisabeth Reichel presents the first sustained study of the published and unpublished poetry of Sapir Mead and Benedict charting this largely unexplored body of work and relevant selections of the writers scholarship In addition to its expansion of early twentieth century literary canons Writing Anthropologists Sounding Primitives contributes to current debates about the relations between different media sign systems and modes of sense perception in literature and other media Reichel offers a unique contribution to the history of anthropology by synthesizing and applying insights from the history of writing sound studies and intermediality studies to poetry and scholarship produced by noted early twentieth century U S American cultural anthropologists Access the OA edition here
