The definitive fully authorised story of the record breaking rivalry between London Olympics organiser Sebastian Coe and Steve Ovett Steve Ovett and Sebastian Coe presided over the golden era of British athletics Between them they won three Olympic gold medals two silvers one bronze and broke a total of twelve middle distance records They were part of the landscape of the late seventies and early eighties both household names their exploits were watched by millions As far apart as possible in terms of class and upbringing Ovett is the art student the long haired son of a market trader from Brighton a natural athlete Coe s formative years were spent under the rigorous training routine of Peter Coe a self taught trainer who referred to his son as my athlete their rivalry burned as intense on the track as away from it The pendulum swung between the pair of them each breaking the other s records and memorably triumphing in each other s events in Moscow in 1980 for the best part of a decade until the final showdown at the Los Angeles Olympics in 1984 The Perfect Distance is both a detailed re creation and a fitting celebration of the greatest era of British athletics Catch

Me If You Can Filbert Bayi, Myles Schrag, 2022-06-01 Half a century ago Filbert Bayi revolutionized how the middle distance races were run During that heyday of athletics competition before pacers were hired to take the lead the unheralded Tanzanian served as his own rabbit The innovative Bayi set a blistering pace that dared formidable challengers from around the globe to catch me if you can After a singular career that included two world records and Olympic and Commonwealth Games medals Bayi took the same assertive approach into post racing life as an educator and sports administrator He still embodies excellence in a school and foundation that bear his name as he strives to improve his country and community In telling his long awaited story Bayi recounts hardships as well as enduring friendships with great rivals like John Walker Over nearly 70 years his experiences consistently reflect the three values he treasures most sacrifice commitment and confidence setting an unforgettable example for anyone anywhere to follow Sports around the World John Nauright,2012-04-06 This multivolume set is much more than a collection of essays on sports and sporting cultures from around the world it also details how and why sports are played wherever they exist and examines key charismatic athletes from around the world who have transcended their sports Sports Around the World History Culture and Practice provides a unique global overview of sports and sports cultures Unlike most works of this type this book provides both essays that examine general topics such as globalization and sport international relations and sport and tourism and sport as well as essays on sports history culture and practice in world regions for example Latin America and the Caribbean the Middle East and North Africa Europe and Oceania in order to provide a more global perspective These essays are followed by entries on specific sports world athletes stadiums and arenas famous games and matches and major controversies Spanning topics as varied as modern professional cycling to the fictional movie Rocky to the deadly ball game of the ancient Mayans the first three volumes contain overview essays and entries for specific sports that have been and are currently practiced around the world The fourth volume provides a compendium of information on the winners of major sporting competitions from around the world Readers will gain invaluable insights into how sports have been enjoyed throughout all of human culture and more fully comprehend their cultural contexts The entries provide suggestions for further reading on each topic helpful to general readers students with school projects university students and academics alike Additionally the four volume Sports Around the World spotlights key charismatic athletes who have changed a sport or become more than just an outstanding player The Four-Minute Mile John Bale,David Howe,2020-11-25 Breaking records and challenging the limits of human ability are central to much of our understanding of athletic track and field sports with a world record title arguably as valued as an Olympic gold medal Some particular limits and records take on greater significance however as in the case of the Four Minute Mile which was roundly believed to be impossible until Roger Bannister shattered the illusion with half a second to spare in May 1954 These essays look at the background of Bannister s achievement and the meaning that was ascribed to it by the media and the public at large drawing on an array of interdisciplinary and international influences to unpick the legend surrounding an historic moment in our social and sporting past Black-and-White Thinking Kevin Dutton,2021-01-05 A groundbreaking and timely book about how evolutionary biology can explain our black and white brains and a lesson in how we can escape the pitfalls of binary thinking Several million years ago natural selection equipped us with binary black and white brains Though the world was arguably simpler back then it was in many ways much more dangerous Not coincidentally the binary brain was highly adept at detecting risk the ability to analyze threats and respond to changes in the sensory environment a drop in temperature the crack of a branch was essential to our survival as a species Since then the world has evolved but we for the most part haven't confronted with a panoply of shades of gray our brains have a tendency to force quit to sort the things we see hear and experience into manageable but simplistic categories We stereotype pigeon hole and above all draw lines where in reality there are none In our modern interconnected world it might seem like we are ill equipped to deal with the challenges we face that living with a binary brain is like trying to navigate a teeming city center with a map that shows only highways In Black and White Thinking the renowned psychologist Kevin Dutton pulls back the curtains of the mind to reveal a new way of thinking about a problem as old as humanity itself While our instinct for categorization often leads us astray encouraging polarization rigid thinking and sometimes outright denialism it is an essential component of the mental machinery we use to make sense of the world Simply put unless we perceived our environment as a chessboard our brains wouldn't be able to play the game Using the latest advances in psychology neuroscience and evolutionary biology Dutton shows how we can optimize our tendency to categorize and fine tune our minds to avoid the pitfalls of too little and too much complexity He reveals the enduring importance of three super categories fight or flight us versus them and right or wrong and argues that they remain essential to not only convincing others to change their minds but to changing the world for the better Black and White Thinking is a scientifically informed wake up call for an era of increasing extremism and a thought provoking uplifting guide to training our gray matter to see that gray really does matter

The Commonwealth Games

Brian Oliver, 2014-05-22 How well do you know the Friendly Games Sports journalist Brian Oliver brings the Commonwealth Games to life with riveting stories of the athletes who have competed over the years He delves into the best tales of the past and interviews the key protagonists to unveil the highs and lows of this idiosyncratic sporting competition There is the classic contest between Roger Bannister and John Landy just months after both had at last broken the four minute mile and the lesser known struggles of one of Australia's greatest swimmers Dawn Fraser against the petty minded and all male silver spoon mob who ran amateur sport Read the sad tale of Emmanuel Ifeajuna the first ever black African to win a gold medal in any sport in any international event He won high jump gold in 1954 and became a national hero in Nigeria but after staging a coup was arrested for treachery and shot by firing squad Find out why the 1974 Games in Christchurch New Zealand were known as the Emigration Games and the story behind the bitter 1980s swimming pool rivalry between England's Adrian Moorhouse and Victor Davis of Canada There are many more from that of 4 foot 10 inch weightlifter Precious McKenzie who rose through brutal abuse and discrimination to record breaking success and a dance with the Princess Royal to the penniless and boycotted 1986 Games in Edinburgh that were saved by Robert Maxwell and a bucket of fried chicken The Commonwealth Games is a fascinating insight into human tales of endeavour success and failure
