The background of the entire image is a dramatic, high-contrast landscape of a volcanic world. On the right side, a steep, dark, rocky slope is illuminated by bright, glowing orange and yellow lava flows that cascade down its face. The ground in the foreground is dark and uneven, with several small, bright orange lava vents or pools scattered across it. In the center of the image, a large, semi-transparent globe is superimposed over the landscape. The globe has a glowing white outline and a dark, slightly textured surface. The BBC logo is at the top of the globe, and the title 'PERFECT PLANET' is written across its center in a large, white, serif font.
