Perfecting Women:

Perfecting Women Ashraf 'Alī Thānvī, Barbara Daly Metcalf, 1990 Challenging conventional notions about the place of women in Muslim societies the Bihishti Zewar Heavenly Ornaments gives life to the themes of religious and social reform that have too often been treated in the abstract This instructional guidebook used by the world's largest population of Muslims is a vital source for those interested in modern Indian social and intellectual history in Islamic reform and in conceptions of gender and women's roles The Bihishti Zewar was written in northern India in the early 1900s by a revered Muslim scholar and spiritual guide Maulana Ashraf Ali Thanawi 1864-1943 to instruct Muslim girls and women in religious teachings proper behavior and prudent conduct of their everyday lives In so doing it sets out the core of a reformist version of Islam that has become increasingly prominent across Muslim societies during the past hundred years Throughout the work nothing is more striking than the extent to which the book takes women and men as essentially the same in contrast to European works directed toward women at this time Its rich descriptions of the everyday life of the relatively privileged classes in turn of the century north India provide information on issues of personality formation as well as on family life social relations household management and encounters with new institutions and inventions Barbara Metcalf has carefully selected those sections of the Bihishti Zewar that best illustrate the themes of reformist thought about God the person society and gender She provides a substantial introduction to the text and to each section as well as detailed annotations

Reading Spiritualities Dawn Llewellyn, 2016-04-01 The phenomenon of sacred text has undergone radical deconstruction in recent times reflecting how religion has broken out of its traditional definitions and practices and how current literary theories have influenced texts inside the religious domain and beyond Reading Spiritualities presents both commentary and vivid examples of this evolution engaging with a variety of reading practices that work with traditional texts and those that extend the notion of text itself The contributors draw on a range of textual sites such as an interview Caribbean literature drama and jazz women's writings emerging church blogs Neopagan websites the reading practices of Buddhist nuns empirical studies on the reading experiences of Gujarati Christian and post-Christian women Chicana short stories the mosque cinema modern art and literature These examples open up understandings of where and how sacred texts are emerging and being reassessed within contemporary religious and spiritual contexts and make room for readings where the spiritual resides not only in the textual but in other unexpected places Reading Spiritualities includes contributions from Graham Holderness Ursula King Michael N Jagessar David Jasper Anthony G Reddie Michelle Roberts and Heather Walton to reflect and encourage the interdisciplinary study of sacred text in the broad arena of the arts and social sciences It offers a unique and well-focused snapshot of the textual constructions and representations of the sacred within the contemporary religious climate accessible to the general reader as well as more specialist interests of students and researchers working in the crossover fields of religious theological cultural and literary studies Private Lectures on Perfect Men, Women and Children, in Happy Families Orson Squire Fowler, 1880 Muslim Women, Reform and Princely Patronage Siobhan Lambert-Hurley, 2007-01-24 Shedding new light on an important part of India's history Lambert Hurley skillfully examines the emergence of a Muslim women's movement in India Women, Islam and Familial Intimacy in Colonial South Asia Asiya Alam, 2021-01-25 Women Islam and Familial Intimacy in Colonial South Asia highlights the rich tradition of protest and defiance among the Muslim women of colonial India Bringing together a range of archival material including novels pamphlets commentaries and journalistic essays it narrates a history of Muslim feminism conversing with and confronting the dominant and influential narratives of didactic social reform The book reveals how discussion about marriage and family evoked claims of women's freedom and rights in a highly charged literary and cultural landscape where lesser known female intellectuals jostled for public space alongside well known male social reformers Definitions of Islamic ethics remained central to these debates and the book illustrates how claims of social obligation religious duty and freedom balanced and negotiated each other in a period of nationalism and reform By doing so it also illuminates a story of Muslim politics that goes beyond the well established accounts of Muslim separatism and the Pakistan movement 'Muslim Woman'/Muslim women Patricia Jeffery, Kaveri Qureshi, 2024-11-25 This book addresses South Asian Muslim women's lived experiences whilst questioning dominant concepts of agency Negative homogenising constructions of the Muslim Woman are not the result of a knowledge deficit but constitutive of Euro American and Hindu nationalist forms of civilizational self assurance Portraying the richness and diversity of Muslim women's voices and agency cannot therefore rectify discourses casting Muslim women as invisible or silent so long as the vision of agency is shackled to dominant feminist precepts Mindful of this problem the book examines Muslim women's legal agency with respect to the family their claims making upon the state livelihoods and the impact of male outmigration on left behind wives Working across these domains of everyday life contributors highlight how women's vulnerabilities within their families dovetail with oppressions experienced in the local state the labour market and in the streets Women's economic locations continue to shape their agency in crucial ways with upward mobility often entailing greater restrictions on women's mobility and independence yet the chapters caution against romanticising the ironic independence of poverty Collectively this volume showcases Muslim women's diverse identities and desires that may be sidelined in dominant concepts of agency This book will be beneficial for scholars and students of South Asian Studies interested in gender justice politics and the intersection of religion culture and identity The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Contemporary South Asia Muslim Women and Misogyny Samia Rahman, 2024-06-06 Muslim women are among the most fetishised and objectified groups in society today Much is assumed and imagined about their lives and it is all too easy to succumb to orientalist myths For too long Muslim women have been reduced to two dimensional stereotypes empowered heroines rejecting patriarchal religious teachings or victims of a misogyny believed to run deep within Islam But why is this neatly packaged view so pervasive Are oppression and subjugation actually so central to Muslim women s lives How is this misogyny influenced by white supremacy and Islamophobia And where do the biggest threats to Muslim women s freedom and safety really come from In this bold new book Samia Rahman explores the relationships between misogyny and Muslim women s experiences in Britain today untangling complex issues such as Muslim feminism representation toxic masculinity marriage and sexuality Based on extensive interviews with both women and men from Islamic communities she offers a powerful much needed response to the misappropriation of female Muslim voices revealing the many faces of Muslim womanhood within the UK

The World of Muslim Women in Colonial Bengal, 1876-1939 Sonia Amin, 2021-10-11 This highly interesting book studies the cultural context of modernisation of middle class Muslim women in late 19th and 20th century Bengal Its frames of reference are the Bengal Awakening the Reform Movements Brahmo Hindi and Muslim and the Women s Question as articulated in material and ideological terms throughout the period Tracing the emergence of the modern Muslim gentlewomen the bhadramahil starting in 1876 when Nawab Faizunnesa Chaudhurani published her first book and ending with the foundation in 1939 of The Lady Brabourne College the book gives an excellent analysis of the rise of a Muslim woman s public sphere and broadens our knowledge of Bengali social history in the colonial period
