Performance Indicators in Higher Education Jill Johnes, Jim Taylor, 1990 Compares the performance of entire institutions using a range of variables which are useful performance indicators for policy makers and administrators including cost per student degree results the employability of newly qualified graduates and the research rating of the university

Performance Indicators in Higher Education J. Johnes, 1990      The Use of Performance Indicators in Higher Education Martin Cave, 1988      The Use of Performance Indicators in Higher Education Martin Cave, 1997 This book surveys the use of performance indicators of teaching of research and of administration and offers suggestions on how they might be developed and used      Higher Education Management and Operational Research Gary Bell, Jon Warwick, Peter Galbraith, 2013-02-11 Higher Education in the UK operates in a rapidly changing and highly complex environment Universities need to adapt quickly to this environment and managers must begin to explore new angles and approaches in addressing the challenges they are now facing This book offers a tool box of metaphors and associative Operational Research OR approaches Metaphors are a powerful way of seeing but also a way of not seeing Furthermore the OR discipline has significantly evolved over the last 30 years which has led to the emergence of three distinctive intellectual areas namely Hard OR Soft OR and Methodological Pluralism OR Drawing on these intellectual areas and on the experience of educational and OR practitioners the book highlights the use of various OR approaches to a variety of complex and uncertain problems encountered in higher education management The book aims to explore new perspectives in HE management thinking and to describe and illustrate the use of OR methodologies methods and techniques in helping HE managers to make informed management decisions      Higher Education: Handbook of Theory and Research John C. Smart, 2008-03-21 The Handbook series provides a compendium of thorough and integrative literature reviews on a diverse array of topics of interest to the higher education scholarly and policy communities Each chapter provides a comprehensive review of research findings on a selected topic critiques the research literature in terms of its conceptual and methodological rigor and sets forth an agenda for future research intended to advance knowledge on the chosen topic      Global Issues in Higher Education Pamela B. Richards, 2007 In most developed countries a high proportion of the population up to 50 percent now enter higher education at some time in their lives Higher education is therefore very important to national economies both as a significant industry in its own right and as a source of trained and educated personnel for the rest of the economy It follows that there are enormous stakes involved for a particular country even though the payoff of serious reforms may take decades and thus be counterproductive to the political forces responsible for designing and implementing such reforms since their horizons tend to be very short This new book tackles important issues in this dynamic field      Reconceptualising Feedback in Higher Education Stephen Merry, Margaret Price, David Carless, Maddalena Taras, 2013-07-18 Feedback is a crucial element of teaching learning and assessment There is however substantial evidence that staff and students are dissatisfied with it and there is growing impetus for change Student Surveys have indicated that feedback is one of the most problematic aspects of the student experience and so particularly in need of further scrutiny Current practices waste both student learning potential and staff resources Up until now the ways of addressing these problems has been through relatively minor interventions based on the established model of feedback providing information but the change that is required is more fundamental and far reaching Reconceptualising Feedback in Higher Education coming from a think tank composed of specialist expertise in assessment feedback is a direct and more fundamental response to the impetus for change Its purpose is to challenge established beliefs and practices through critical evaluation of evidence and discussion of the renewal of current feedback practices In promoting a new conceptualisation and a repositioning of assessment feedback within an enhanced and more coherent paradigm of student learning this book analyses the current issues in feedback practice and their implications for student learning identifies the key characteristics of effective feedback practices explores the changes needed to feedback practice and how they can be brought about illustrates through examples how processes to promote and sustain effective feedback practices can be embedded in modern mass higher education Provoking academics to think afresh about the way they conceptualise and utilise feedback this book will help those with responsibility for strategic development of assessment at an institutional level educational developers course management teams researchers tutors and student representatives
