Performing Russia Folk Revival And Russian Identity:

Performing Russia Laura Olson, 2004-07-31 This book examines folk music and dance revival movements in Russia exploring why this folk culture has come to represent Russia how it has been approached and produced and why memory and tradition in these particular forms have taken on particular significance in different periods Above all it shows how folk tradition in Russia is an artificial cultural construct which is periodically reinvented and it demonstrates in particular how the folk revival has played a key role in strengthening Russian national consciousness in the post Soviet period Performing

Russia Laura Olson, 2004 Olson explores the contemporary movement s links with nationalist Cossack revival and other political groups as well as with aesthetic trends in the performing arts such as avant garde pop and world music The book will be of great interest to both specialists and general readers interested in Russian Culture Jacket The Cambridge

Companion to Modern Russian Culture Nicholas Rzhevsky, 2012-04-05 A fully updated new edition of this overview of contemporary Russia and the influence of its Soviet past Minority Rights in Central and Eastern Europe Bernd

Rechel, 2010-06 This book provides a comprehensive assessment of minority rights in Central and Eastern Europe covering all the countries of the region that have joined the EU since 2004 including Poland Czech Republic Hungary Slovenia Estonia Lithuania Latvia Slovakia Romania and Bulgaria Soviet Consumer Culture in the Brezhnev Era Natalya

Chernyshova, 2013-06-26 After decades of turmoil and trauma the Brezhnev era brought stability and an unprecedented rise in living standards to the Soviet Union enabling ordinary people to enjoy modern consumer goods on an entirely new scale This book analyses the politics and economics of the state s efforts to improve living standards and shows how mass consumption was often used as an instrument of legitimacy ideology and modernization However the resulting consumer revolution brought its own problems for the socialist regime Rising well being and the resulting ethos of consumption altered citizens relationship with the state and had profound consequences for the communist project The book uses a wealth of sources to explore the challenge that consumer modernity was posing to Soviet mature socialism between the mid 1960s and the early 1980s It combines analysis of economic policy and public debates on consumerism with the stories of ordinary people and their attitudes to fashion Western goods and the home The book contests the notion that Soviet consumers were merely passive abused eternally queuing victims and that the Brezhnev era was a period of stagnation arguing instead that personal consumption provided the incentive and the space for individuals to connect and interact with society and the regime even before perestroika This book offers a lively account of Soviet society and everyday life during a period which is rapidly becoming a new frontier of historical research Cinema, State Socialism and Society in the Soviet Union and

Eastern Europe, 1917-1989 Sanja Bahun, John Haynes, 2014-07-25 This book presents a comprehensive re examination of the cinemas of the Soviet Union and Central and Eastern Europe during the communist era It argues that since the end of communism in these countries film scholars are able to view these cinemas in a different way no longer bound by an outlook relying on binary Cold War terms With the opening of archives in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union much more is known about these states and societies at the same time the field has been reinvigorated by its opening up to more contemporary concepts themes and approaches in film studies and adjacent disciplines Taking stock of these developments this book presents a rich varied tapestry relating specific films to specific national and transnational circumstances rather than viewing them as a single monolithic Cold War Communist cinema

New Europe's New Development Aid Balázs Szent-Iványi, Simon Lightfoot, 2015-04-17 This book examines the international development policies of five East Central European new EU member states the Czech Republic Hungary Poland Slovakia and Slovenia These countries turned from being aid recipients to donors after the turn of the millennium in the run up to EU accession in 2004 The book explains the evolution subsequent to EU accession and current state of foreign aid policies in the region and the reasons why these deviate from many of the internationally agreed best practices in development cooperation It argues that after the turn of the millennium a Global Consensus has emerged on how to make foreign aid more effective for development A comparison between the elements of the Global Consensus and the performance of the five countries reveals that while they have generally implemented little of these recommendations there are also emerging differences between the countries with the Czech Republic and Slovenia clearly aspiring to become globally responsible donors Building on the literatures on foreign policy analysis international socialization and interest group influence the book develops a model of foreign aid policy making in order to explain the general reluctance of the five countries in implementing international best practices and also the differences in their relative performance

Post-Communist Poland - Contested Pasts and Future Identities Ewa Ochman, 2013-07-18 This book explores the reinterpretations of Poland's past which have been undertaken by Polish national and local elites since the fall of communism It focuses on remembrance practices and traces the de commemorating of communism to examine the ways in which collective remembering and forgetting shapes present power constellations in Poland and impacts on foreign and domestic policy The book outlines the detail of the new hegemonic national myths which are being established but also investigates fragmentation and diversification of commemorative practices at the local level that has the most potential to challenge the dominant vision of national Polish identity historically centred on martyrdom heroism and independence as less relevant to Poland's new aspirations for the future

The Capitalist Transformation of State Socialism David Lane, 2013-11-20 David Lane outlines succinctly yet comprehensively the development and transformation of state socialism While focussing on Russia and the countries of Eastern Europe he also engages in a discussion of the Chinese path In response to the changing social structure and external demands he outlines different scenarios of reform He contends that European state socialism did not collapse but was consciously dismantled He brings out the West's decisive support of the reform process and Gorbachev's significant role in tipping the balance of political forces in favour of an emergent ascendant class In the post socialist period he details developments in the economy and politics He distinguishes different political and economic trajectories of countries of the former USSR the New Member States of the European Union and China and he notes the attempts to promote further change through coloured revolutions The book provides a detailed account not only of the unequal impact of transformation on social inequality which has given rise to a privileged business and political class but also how far the changes have fulfilled the promise of democracy promotion wealth creation and human development Finally in the context of globalisation the author considers possible future political and economic developments for Russia and China Throughout the author a leading expert in the field brings to bear his deep knowledge of socialist countries draws on his research on the former Soviet Union and visits to nearly all the former state socialist countries including China

Eastern Europe and the Challenges of Modernity, 1800-2000 Stefano Bianchini, 2015-03-02 This book presents a concise and comprehensive overview of the mainstream flows of ideas politics and itineraries towards modernity in Central and Eastern Europe and the Balkans over two centuries from the beginning of the nineteenth century to the end of the Gorbachev administration Unlike other books on the subject which view modernity based on the idea of Western European supremacy this book outlines the various different pathways of development and of growing industrialisation urbanisation and secularisation which took place across the region It provides rich insights on the complex networks whereby very varied ideas aspirations and policies interacted to bring about a varied pattern of progress and of integration and isolation with different areas moving in different ways and at different paces Overall the book presents something very different from the traditional picture of the two Europes Particular examples covered include agrarian reform movements in various phases different models of socialism and different models of socialist reform

Western Intellectuals and the Soviet Union, 1920-40 Ludmila Stern, 2006-10-17 Despite the appalling record of the Soviet Union on human rights questions many western intellectuals with otherwise impeccable liberal credentials were strong supporters the Soviet Union in the interwar period This book explores how this seemingly impossible situation came about Focusing in particular on the work of various official and semi official bodies including Comintern the International Association of Revolutionary Writers the All Union Society for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries and the Foreign Commission of the Soviet Writers Union this book shows how cultural propaganda was always a high priority for the Soviet Union and how successful this cultural propaganda was in seducing so many Western thinkers

Russian Transformations Leo McCann, 2004-07-31 Examining contemporary Russian socio economic development this book explores the degree to which Russian experiences can be incorporated into current social science theories

Between Stalin and Hitler Geoffrey Swain, 2004-09-02 Covering the horrors that took place in Latvia from the beginning of the Second World War until 1947 this book focuses Stalinist industrialisation collectivisation and political annihilation and Nazi expansionism and genocide

Globalization and the State in Central and Eastern Europe Jan Drahokoupil, 2009 This book examines the transformation of the state in Central and Eastern Europe since the end of communism and adoption of market oriented reform in the early 1990s exploring the impact of globalization and economic liberalization on the region's states societies and political economy It compares the different policies and national strategies adopted by key Central and Eastern European states including the Czech Republic Poland Hungary and Slovakia showing how initial internally oriented strategies of market reform privileging domestic sources of investment had by the late 1990s given way to externally oriented strategies emphasising the promotion of competitiveness by attracting foreign investment It explores the reasons behind this convergence considering the influence of internal and external forces and the roles of interests institutions and ideas It argues that internationalization of the state is forged in the processes through which domestic groups linked to transnational capital attain domestic influence necessary to shape state policy and strategy These groups the comprador service sector in particular constitute and organize political social and institutional support of the competition state in the region Overall this book not only provides a detailed account of the political economy of post communist transformation in Central and Eastern Europe but also the processes by which states adapt to the forces of globalization

Russian Constitutionalism Andrei Medushevsky, 2006-09-27 Medushevsky examines constitutionalism in Russia from Tsarist times to the present He traces the different attitudes to constitutionalism in political thought and in practice at different periods showing how the balance between authoritarianism and liberalism has shifted In addition he discusses the importance of constitutional developments for societies in transition and concludes that post communist constitutional development in Russia is still far from complete As an empirical resource Russian Constitutionalism takes a longer historical view than other books on this topic and it also goes further than this in its interpretive approach providing a greater understanding of Russian constitutionalism

Peopling the Russian Periphery Nicholas Breyfogle, Abby Schrader, Willard Sunderland, 2007-11-02 Though usually forgotten in general surveys of European colonization the Russians were among the greatest colonizers of the Old World eventually settling across most of the immense expanse of Northern Europe and Asia from the Baltic and the Pacific and from the Arctic Ocean to Central Asia This book makes a unique contribution to our understanding of the Eurasian past by examining the policies practices cultural representations and daily life experiences of Slavic settlement in non Russian regions of Eurasia from the time of Ivan the Terrible to the nuclear era The movement of tens of millions of Slavic settlers was a central component of Russian empire building and of the everyday life of numerous social and ethnic groups and remains a crucial regional security issue today yet it remains relatively understudied Peopling the Russian Periphery redresses this omission through a detailed exploration of the varied meanings and dynamics of Slavic settlement from the sixteenth century to the 1960s Providing an account of the different approaches of settlement and expansion that were adopted in different periods of history it includes detailed case studies of particular episodes of migration Written by upcoming and established experts in Russian history with exceptional geographical and chronological breadth this book provides a thorough examination of the history of Slavic settlement and migration from the Muscovite to the Soviet era It will be of great interest to students and scholars of Russian history comparative history of colonization migration interethnic contact environmental history and European Imperialism

Folklore and Ethnology in the Soviet Western Borderlands Simon J. Bronner, Toms Kencis, Elo-Hanna Seljamaa, 2023-12-08 Thirteen international scholars assess the profound impact of Soviet era movements to study apply and perform folklore as a priority in socialist policy formation and culture building Representing generations who lived through and after Soviet occupation they reflect on the consequences of state supported promotion of folk arts in a region called the Western Borderlands that include Baltic countries Ukraine Poland Slovakia Belarus Romania and Hungary In their incisive analyses authors present original archival materials as well as ethnographic data to understand colonialist support for bottom up folklore movements and resistance to them Capping the volume is a timely consideration of Soviet orchestration of folkloristic work on present developments in conflicts of Russia with its neighbors and alignments with Western folkloristics and ethnology

The Russian Revolution in Retreat, 1920-24, Russian Legal Culture Before and After Communism Frances Nethercott, 2007-12-03 Following the emancipation of the serfs in 1861 and again during the 1990s individual legal rights occupied a central place in the drive to modernize criminal justice This book explores these debates focusing particularly on the work of Vladimir Solov'ev a leading philosopher of law writing in the 1890s

Russian Archaism Irina Shevelenko, 2024-08-15 Russian Archaism considers the aesthetic quest of Russian modernism in relation to the nation building ideas that spread in the late imperial period Irina Shevelenko argues that the cultural milieu in Russia where the modernist movement began as an extension of Western trends at the end of the nineteenth century soon became captivated by nationalist indoctrination Members of artistic groups critics and theorists advanced new interpretations of the goals of aesthetic experimentation that would allow them to embed the nation building agenda within the aesthetic one Shevelenko's book focuses on the period from the formation of the World of Art group 1898 through the Great War and encompasses visual arts literature music and performance As Shevelenko shows it was the rejection of the Russian westernized tradition informed by the revival of populist sensibilities across the educated class that played a formative role in the development of Russian modernist agendas particularly after the 1905 revolution Russian Archaism reveals the modernist artistic enterprise as a crucial source of insight into Russia's political and cultural transformation in the early twentieth century and beyond
