glittering oil rich city in a revealing travelogue through the capital of the United Arab Emirates Publishers Weekly Jo Tatchell first arrived in the city of Abu Dhabi as a child in 1974 when the discovery of oil was quickly turning a small fishing town into a growing international community Decades later this Middle Eastern capital is a dizzying metropolis of ten lane highways and overlapping languages and its riches and emphasis on cultural development have thrust it into the international spotlight Here Tatchell returns to Abu Dhabi and explores the city and its contradictions It is a tolerant melting pot of cultures and faiths but only a tiny percentage of its native residents are deemed eligible to vote by the ruling class and the nation's president holds absolute veto power over his advisory boards and councils The Emirates boast one of the world's highest GDP per capita but the wealth inequality in its cities is staggering Abu Dhabi's royal family worth an estimated 500 billion lives off the sweat of the city's migrant workers who subject themselves to danger and poverty under barely observed labor laws But now the city is making an international splash with a showy investment in tourism arts and culture perhaps signaling a change to a more open tolerant state As this sparkling city surges into the future it devotes just as much energy to concealing its past Tatchell looks not only at history and social issues the ancient system of tribal organization the condition of the city's million foreign workers the emergence of women in Emirati society but also her own experiences as both a child and adult in this fascinating city that has radically changed and in other ways stayed the same

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
