Kings of Arabia Harold Fenton Jacob,1923 Lieutenant Colonel Harold Fenton Jacob 1866 1936 was an officer in the British Army stationed primarily in Yemen at the turn of the 20th century He served as British political agent at Dhala and chief political officer to the Aden Field Force Between 1917 and 1920 he was an advisor on southwestern Arabian affairs to the British high commissioner in Egypt The work presented here Kings of Arabia examines the history of the Ottoman Turkish presence in the Hejaz region of Arabia but focuses mainly on the small Arab kingdoms of Yemen most of which later became part of the British controlled Aden Protectorate The book provides detailed background on the history of Yemen from the 17th century until the aftermath of World War I including information on the rulers of the Sherifate of Mecca and the Zaidi Imamate of Sanaa It also recounts the Turkish and British attempts to dominate the region especially the sea route to Asia through the Straits of Bab el Mandeb The Ottoman Turkish presence in Yemen began in the early 16th century with the seizure of Aden and the Red Sea coast during the reign of Suleiman the Magnificent However after continued unrest in the interior the Turks evacuated the region in 1630 leaving it in the hands of the Shiite Zaidi imams of Sanaa Muhammad Ali Viceroy of Egypt established a presence in the region after he defeated the Wahhabis in Hejaz in the early 19th century The Turks returned in 1849 establishing themselves in various cities and ports where they remained until they surrendered to the British in 1918 Aden fell to the British in 1839 The Aden Protectorate was established at that time and included the tribal kingdoms in the hinterland around the city that signed protection agreements with the British The protectorate ceased to exist in 1963 and in 1967 the region declared independence and became known as the People s Democratic Republic of Yemen South Yemen which united with the North in 1990 to form present day Yemen

The Perfume Handbook N. Groom,2012-12-06 In 1948 I was posted as a Political Officer to a remote part of south west Arabia on the edge of the great desert called the Empty Quarter In valleys made fertile by seasonal flood waters lay the remains of an ancient civilization I found inscriptions and the ruin sites of towns palaces and temples Almost buried under the sand dunes were the tumbled walls of a great city From here two thousand years before huge camel caravans had trudged their way along 1600 miles of burning sand and rocks to Petra and Gaza burdened with a most precious cargo frankincense myrrh and other perfume materials for the courts temples and perfume shops of Rome My book Frankincense and Myrrh delved into the details of this romantic trade and led to a broader interest in the perfumes of ancient times Then researching on behalf of a perfume house into the Arab contribution to perfumery I came across the collection of perfume recipes assembled by the Arab philosopher scientist Yaqub al Kindi which have never been translated into English some which I have translated myself are now included in an appendix to this book I realized that in that work I had found key evidence to demonstrate how the medieval Arab perfume makers had been the bridge in perfume history between ancient and modern times Perfumery could now be seen as an art with a continuous history of development since the dawn of civilization

Dirt Terence McLaughlin, 2021-03-15 Delve Into the Fascinating World of Dirt Dirt is a matter of opinion according to public health and hygiene authority Terence McLaughlin In this engaging thoroughly researched and often humorous study of the imperfections of human existence and our relationship to them McLaughlin dissects human attitudes about the slime mud stench and filth which has accompanied society through history Our notion of cleanliness has a marked cultural aspect For instance McLaughlin cites Old Testament examples of cleanliness which unbeknownst at the time helped protect observant followers from the plague The famous baths of ancient Rome were seen as progress for personal hygiene and later scorned by Christians who rejected all things Roman McLaughlin recites a long litany of examples of how we accept or reject substances exploring why we dislike sensations such as stickiness and sliminess Cultural attitudes about everything from factory smoke to personal hygiene are constantly shifting with the economic and political exigencies of the era In this age of pandemic viruses there has never been a more important time to observe how people think about the possible contaminants around us Dirt is a key resource for anyone wishing to understand humanity's role in shaping our environment
