Perilous Bargain:

A Perilous Bargain Jane Peart, 1997 Aaronsohn's Maps Patricia Goldstone, 2015-08-11 Aaron Aaronsohn was one of the most extraordinary figures in the early struggle to create a homeland for the Jewish people Brought to Palestine at age five as a young man Aaronsohn was a rugged adventurer who became convinced during years of solo explorations that water should govern the region's fate He compiled both the area's first detailed water maps and a plan for Palestine's national borders that predicted and in its insistence on partnership between Arabs and Jews might have prevented the decades of conflict to come In World War I he ran a spy network with his sister Sarah that enabled the British to capture Jerusalem but also made him the rival of his colleague T E Lawrence There is evidence that beautiful rebellious Sarah who died tragically in 1917 was the only woman the enigmatic Lawrence ever loved Ultimately Aaron Aaronsohn also paid for his devotion to the new nation with his life A history that speaks directly to the present Aaronsohn's Maps reveals for the first time Aaronsohn's key role in establishing Israel and the enduring importance of Aaronsohn's maps in Middle Eastern politics today

Transcultural Cinema David MacDougall,2021-07-13 David MacDougall is a pivotal figure in the development of ethnographic cinema and visual anthropology As a filmmaker he has directed in Africa Australia India and Europe His prize winning films many made jointly with his wife Judith MacDougall include The Wedding Camels Lorang s Way To Live with Herds A Wife among Wives Takeover PhotoWallahs and Tempus de Baristas As a theorist he articulates central issues in the relation of film to anthropology and is one of the few documentary filmmakers who writes extensively on these concerns The essays collected here address for instance the difference between films and written texts and between the position of the filmmaker and that of the anthropological writer In fact these works provide an overview of the history of visual anthropology as well as commentaries on specific subjects such as point of view and subjectivity reflexivity the use of subtitles and the role of the cinema subject Refreshingly free of jargon each piece belongs very much to the tradition of the essay in its personal engagement with exploring difficult issues The author ultimately disputes the view that ethnographic filmmaking is merely a visual form of anthropology maintaining instead that it is a radical anthropological practice which challenges many of the basic assumptions of the discipline of anthropology itself Although influential among filmmakers and critics some of these essays were published in small journals and have been until now difficult to find The three longest pieces including the title essay are new

Mad As Hell Dave Itzkoff of The New York Times recounts the surprising and dramatic story of how Network made it to the screen. Such a movie rarely gets made any more: one man's vision of the world independent of studio testing or market research. And that man was Paddy Chayefsky, the tough-driven Oscar-winning screenwriter whose vision outlandish for its time is all too real today. Itzkoff uses interviews with the cast and crew as well as Chayefsky's notes, letters, and drafts to recreate the action in front of and behind the camera at a time of swirling cultural turmoil. The result is a riveting account that enriches our appreciation of this prophetic and still startling film. Itzkoff also speaks with today's leading broadcasters and filmmakers to assess Network's lasting impact on television and popular culture. They testify to the enduring genius of Paddy Chayefsky, who foresaw the future and whose life offers an unforgettable lesson about the true cost of self-expression.

Festival of Shadows Lisa Diaz, 2024-11-13 Escape the ordinary and journey into a world where vibrant traditions mask ancient secrets. In Oaxaca, the air vibrates with the intoxicating rhythm of the Festival of Shadows, a mesmerizing celebration where the veil between worlds thins and the whispers of spirits carry on the wind. Elena Ramirez, a Chicana photographer fleeing the spectral echoes of her heritage, arrives not as a tourist but as a woman on the cusp of a destiny she scarcely understands. Her grandmother's enchanted camera, a mystical conduit to the unseen, captures not just images but the ethereal remnants of souls caught between realms. Amidst the swirling cempaschil petals and flickering candlelight of ofrendas, Elena encounters Miguel Flores, a captivating Nahual shape shifter and guardian of the delicate balance between life and death. He recognizes in Elena a dormant power, a kindred spirit yearning to awaken. Miguel unveils a realm beyond the vibrant spectacle of Día de los Muertos, a world where benevolent Alebrijes, guardians of dreams, clash with malevolent Tzitzimime, skeletal star demons ravenous for human souls. This ancient conflict, born from a celestial betrayal during the reign of Quetzalcoatl, threatens to tear asunder the veil and plunge the world into eternal night. Elena's photography becomes an unexpected weapon, her lens capturing and manipulating spiritual energy unknowingly influencing the very fabric of existence. As her powers surge, the Tzitzimime, drawn to her burgeoning potential, see in her either a beacon of balance or a harbinger of everlasting darkness. Miguel, bound by duty and an undeniable attraction to Elena's fiery spirit, mentors her, unlocking the secrets of her ancestry and the forgotten language of light woven into her grandmother's whispered prayers. Their bond deepens amidst escalating danger, a fragile flower blooming in the shadow of impending doom. Yet Miguel harbors a secret, a sacrifice made centuries ago, tethering his fate to the very darkness he combats. Elena's journey intertwines with Isabella Cruz, a skeptical journalist drawn into the supernatural vortex of the festival, her investigative prowess a crucial asset in unraveling ancient mysteries. Simultaneously, Elena's grandmother's spirit, Abuela Emilia, appears, offering cryptic guidance and unwavering support, bridging Elena's past and present. As the final night of the festival approaches, the Dance of the Obsidian Butterfly, a ritual shrouded in myth, becomes the only hope for salvation. But the Tzitzimime, led by their formidable queen Itzpapalotl, intensify their assault. The streets of Oaxaca transform into a battleground, the vibrant festival decorations a stark contrast to the desperate struggle for survival Miguel's secret unravels he is the key to sealing the Tzitzimime a sacrifice he made centuries ago Elena faces a heart wrenching choice allow Miguel's sacrifice or forge a new path potentially jeopardizing the balance between worlds In a breathtaking climax Elena empowered by her photographic magic and fueled by love captures the essence of the Tzitzimime weaving their power into a photographic tapestry that binds them within her camera's lens This act of artistic defiance subverts destiny offering a new equilibrium Festival of Shadows is a captivating tale of heritage sacrifice and the enduring power of love It's a vibrant tapestry woven with Mexican folklore where ancient magic collides with modern skepticism and the whispers of the spirit world guide the way toward a deeper understanding of ourselves and the universe we inhabit
