Peripatetic Saying The Problem Of The Thricetold Tale In Talmudic Literature:

The Rhetoric of the Babylonian Talmud Jack N. Lightstone, Canadian Corporation for Studies in Religion, 1994-06-03
Virtually from its redaction about the sixth century A D the Babylonian Talmud became the rabbinic document par excellence Through its lens almost all previous canonical rabbinic tradition was refracted Study and mastery of the Talmud marked one as a rabbi a master This book examines the character use and social meaning of the formalized rhetoric which pervades the Babylonian Talmud It explores first how the editors of the Talmud employ a consistent and highly laconic code of formalized linguistic terms and literary patterns to create the Talmud s renowned dialectical analytic essays Second the work considers the social meanings implicitly communicated by the use of this rhetoric which not only provided an authoritative model for modes of thought and for treatment of earlier authoritative Judaic tradition but also reflected reinforced or helped engender new social definitions Through comparison of the Talmud s rhetoric with that of other earlier rabbinic documents and by placing the editing of the Talmud against the backdrop of the social and political situation of Rabbinism in the Late Persian Empire the book relates the Talmud s creation and promulgation to a major shift in Rabbinism s understanding of the social role rabbi and to the emergence and ascendancy of the talmudic academy the Yeshiva as the primary institution of Rabbinism toward the end of Late Antiquity In its agenda and methodological and theoretical perspectives The Rhetoric of the Babylonian Talmud brings together the insights and tools of historical literary and rhetorical analysis of the New Testament and of early rabbinic literature on the one hand and the sociological and anthropological study of religion on the other

Three Questions of Formative Judaism Jacob Neusner, 2021-10-01 The academic study of Judaism requires a systematic inquiry into the history literature and religion and eventually the theology as revealed in the historical documents themselves Under this premise Three Questions of Formative Judaism encounters the canonical writings of Judaism in the context of their creation at a certain time and place How something is said thus becomes as important as what is said Bringing nearly fifty years of research to bear on these fundamental questions Jacob Neusner challenges his readers to face the difficult often unasked or neglected questions about the nature background and purposes of Rabbinic Judaism and rewards them with an enriched understanding and a stronger foundation for tackling the even more elusive questions concerning the theology of formative Judaism This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details

Rabbinic Literature and the New Testament Jacob Neusner, 2004-01-30 Here is a sustained criticism of the rather facile use of rabbinic literature by New Testament scholarship In particular Neusner addresses the

writings of Helmut Koester Samuel Sandmel Reginald Fuller Harvey Falk Geza Vermes E P Sanders S J D Cohen Morton Smith John P Meier and Brad H Young The book begins with a study of the characteristics of rabbinic literature and a demonstration of why this literature cannot be easily used for the kind of history New Testament scholarship proposes to produce Then follow critiques of the writings by various New Testament scholars and the differences between Professor Neusner and his critics A concluding section pays tribute to the New Testament field for all it has taught the author

Extra- and Non-Documentary Writing in the Canon of Formative Judaism, Vol. 3 Jacob Neusner, 2001 Rabbinic literature in its formative age from the Mishnah through the Bavli ca 100 600 c e is comprised by documents that relate to one another in three ways First they are autonomous and self contained second they are connected with one another and third they are continuous with one another Some point to the connections in the form of parallel versions of sayings or stories as evidence against the theory that the documents possess integrity Volume Three reprises Neusner's The Peripatetic Saying The Problem of the Thrice Told Tale in Talmudic Literature Chico 1985 Scholars Press for Brown Judaic Studies It responds to critics of the documentary reading of the canonical documents of Rabbinic Judaism in the formative age who make much of the variations in manuscript readings of sayings and stories These variations are so different from one another that so the critics maintain they call into question the very conception of a document Each manuscript let alone each compilation has its own representation of a given compilation there are no determinate documents That is because the documentary program of rhetoric topic and logic of coherent discourse makes no impact on sayings or stories that circulate beyond the limits of any one document All we have are diverse versions of we know not what For the sample covered in these pages claims that parallels move from document to document vastly exaggerate the range of variation The variant readings are paltry and pointless just like the parallels to which Volumes One and Two are devoted Rabbinic Categories Jacob

Neusner, 2005-09-01 A systematic study of the canonical construction of Rabbinic categories Halakhic then Aggadic followed by a comparison of the theological category formations in Rabbinic Judaism generative vs inert primary vs subordinate The book provides a systematic and thorough account of the rules of making connections and drawing conclusions that govern in classes of documents for the Halakhah from the Mishnah through the Bavli for the Aggadah from Scripture through the Midrash compilations Genesis Rabbah Leviticus Rabbah and Pesiqta de Rab Kahana for both the Mishnah and Scripture through the Bavli The book then compares and contrasts theological category formations of the Rabbinic Aggadic writings by the criteria indicated in the title generative vs inert primary vs subordinate Rabbinic Narrative: A Documentary

Perspective, Volume Three Jacob Neusner, 2021-11-22 Each Rabbinic document from the Mishnah through the Bavli defines itself by a unique combination of indicative traits of rhetoric topic and particular logic that governs its coherent discourse But narratives in the same canonical compilations do not conform to the documentary indicators that govern in these compilations respectively They form an anomaly for the documentary reading of the Rabbinic canon of the formative age To remove that anomaly this project classifies the types and forms of narratives and shows that particular documents exhibit distinctive preferences among those types This detailed systematic classification of Rabbinic narrative supplies these facts concerning the classification of narratives and their regularities 1 what are the types and forms of narrative in a given document 2 how are these distinctive types and forms of narrative distributed across the canonical documents of the formative age the first six centuries C E The answers for the documentary preferences are in Volumes One through Three for the Mishnah Tosefta the Tannaite Midrash compilations and Rabbah Midrash compilations respectively Volume Four then sets forth the documentary history of each of the types of Rabbinic narrative including the authentic narrative the ma'aseh and the mashal How the traits of the several types of narratives shift as the respective types move from document to document is spelled out in complete detail This project opens an entirely new road toward the documentary analysis of Rabbinic narrative It fills out an important chapter in the documentary hypothesis of the Rabbinic canon in the formative age

Rabbinic Narrative Jacob Neusner, 2003 This detailed systematic classification of Rabbinic narrative supplies these facts concerning the classification of narratives and their regularities 1 what are the types and forms of narrative in a given document 2 how are these distinctive types and forms of narrative distributed across the canonical documents of the formative age the first six centuries C E The answers for the documentary preferences are in Volumes One through Three for the Mishnah Tosefta the Tannaite Midrash compilations and Rabbah Midrash compilations respectively Volume Four then takes up the types of Rabbinic narratives and shows the documentary history of each of them including the authentic narrative the ma'aseh and the mashal the documentary hypothesis of the Rabbinic canon in the formative age Where We Stand : Issues and Debates in Ancient Jerusalem Jacob Neusner, Alan Jeffery Avery-Peck, 1995 This collection of systematic Auseinandersetzungen articulates difference and spells out what is at issue Learning atrophies when political consensus substitutes for criticism and when other than broadly accepted viewpoints approaches and readings find a hearing only with difficulty if at all The editors therefore have invited colleagues systematically to outline their views in an Auseinandersetzung with contrary ones The several participants explain how in broad and sweeping terms they see the state of learning in their areas of special interest The editors invited leading players in the USA Europe and the State of Israel in the study of ancient Judaism both in Second Temple Times and after 70 C E The work commences with a thoroughly fresh perspective of a theoretical question what in a religion so concerned with social norms and public policy can we possibly mean by law when we speak of law in Judaism It then proceeds with two chapters on Second Temple Judaism and two on the special subject of the Dead Sea library The two papers in the present part provide an overview of matters and a systematic critical account of the fading consensus respectively The next set of papers ought to stand as the definitive account of the diverse viewpoints on a basic question of method Because of the willingness of contending parties to meet one another in a single frame of discourse the work is able to portray with considerable breadth the presently contending viewpoints concerning the use of Rabbinic literature for historical purposes Then proceed a number of other accounts of how matters look from the perspective of major participants in scholarly debate At the sametime as the requirements of historical critical reading of the Rabbinic literature precipitated sustained and vigorous debate other problems have attracted attention Among these a critical issue emerges in the hermeneutics to govern the reading of the documents for the purposes of other than historical study feminist interests for example Furthering Interfaith Biblical Scholarship Doreen McFarlane, 2024-07-05 The legacy of the late Andr LaCocque is brought to life in this book each chapter having been written by his beloved friends and former students His work has so inspired them that each of the contributor chapters moves LaCocque s work forward in directions of which he surely would have joyfully approved His great love of Jewish Christian relations matters of social justice feminist biblical scholarship and interdisciplinary dialogue are carried forward in the enthusiasm and careful work presented here These offerings in his memory are sure to serve as a jumping off point for further scholarship in each of these areas of interest and blossom in the years ahead The Documentary History of Judaism and Its Recent Interpreters Jacob Neusner, 2012-07-10 The result for the history of Judaism of a documentary reading of the Rabbinic canonical sources illustrates the working of that hypothesis It is the first major outcome of that hypothesis but there are other implications and a variety of new problems emerge from time to time as the work proceeds In the recent past Neusner has continued to explore special problems of the documentary hypothesis of the Rabbinic canon At the same time Neusner notes others join in the discussion that have produced important and ambitious analyses of the thesis and its implications Here Neuser has collected some of the more ambitious ventures into the hypothesis and its current recapitulations Neusner begins with the article written by Professor William Scott Green for the Encyclopaedia Judaica second edition as Green places the documentary hypothesis into the context of Neusner's entire oeuvre Neuser then reproduces what he regards as the single most successful venture of the documentary hypothesis contrasting between the Mishnah's and the Talmuds programs for the social order of Israel the doctrines of economics politics and philosophy set forth in those documents respectively Then come the two foci of discourse Halakhah or normative law and Aggadah or normative theology Professors Bernard Jackson of the University of Manchester England and Mayer Gruber of Ben Gurion University of the Negev treat the Halakhic program that Neusner has devised and Kevin Edgecomb of the University of California Berkeley has produced a remarkable summary of the theological system Neusner discerns in the Aggadic documents Neusner concludes with a review of a book by a critic of the documentary hypothesis

Judaism in Late Antiquity Jacob Neusner, J Avery-Peck, 2023-12-14 This collection of systematic Auseinandersetzungen articulates difference and spells out what is at issue Learning atrophies when political consensus substitutes for criticism and when other than broadly accepted viewpoints approaches and readings find a hearing only with difficulty if at all The editors therefore have invited colleagues systematically to outline their views in an Auseinandersetzung with contrary ones The several participants explain how in broad and sweeping terms they see the state of learning in their areas of special interest The editors invited leading players in the USA Europe and the State of Israel in the study of ancient Judaism both in Second Temple Times and after 70 C E The work commences with a thoroughly fresh perspective of a theoretical question what in a religion so concerned with social norms and public policy can we possibly mean by law when we speak of law in Judaism It then proceeds with two chapters on Second Temple Judaism and two on the special subject of the Dead Sea library The two papers in the present part provide an overview of matters and a systematic critical account of the fading consensus respectively The next set of papers ought to stand as the definitive account of the diverse viewpoints on a basic question of method Because of the willingness of contending parties to meet one another in a single frame of discourse the work is able to portray with considerable breadth the presently contending viewpoints concerning the use of Rabbinic literature for historical purposes Then proceed a number of other accounts of how matters look from the perspective of major participants in scholarly debate At the same time as the requirements of historical critical reading of the Rabbinic literature precipitated sustained and vigorous debate other problems have attracted attention Among these a critical issue emerges in the hermeneutics to govern the reading of the documents for the purposes of other than historical study feminist interests for example

The Transformation of Judaism Jacob Neusner, 2011-03-31 Jacob Neusner describes analyzes and interprets the transformation of one system of the Israelite social order by a connected but autonomous successor system He characterizes the successive systems classifying the one as philosophical and the other as religious He explains the categorical account of each and sets forth the outcome of a number of topical studies on the category formations of Rabbinic Judaism with special attention to the social order politics philosophy and economics These systems emerged as 1 autonomous when viewed synchronically 2 connected when seen diachronically and 3 as a continuous construction when seen at the end of their formative age In their successive stages of categorical autonomy connection and finally continuity the three distinct systems may be classified respectively as philosophical religious and theological each one taking over and revising the definitive categories of the former and framing its own fresh generative categories as well The formative history of Judaism is the story of the presentations and re presentations of categorical structures In method it is the exegesis of taxonomy and taxic systems Now after more than two decades Neusner has decided to review the initial statement Since the book summarizes ten years of work from 1980 to 1990 on the Rabbinic category formations of social science politics philosophy and economics in the setting of the law and theology of Rabbinic Judaism from the Mishnah through the Bavli 200 600 C E it seemed well worth the effort to recapitulate the original work The revised introduction explains the omission of theology in his category formation philosophy religion theology Neusner s account of the Bavli produced the decade after this title was completed did not make possible the continuous description of the unfolding of the Rabbinic system The pattern that appealed to Neusner from philosophy to religion to theology has not yet come to a satisfactory account In the twenty years

The Talmud of Babylonia , 1991 The Talmud of Babylonia Jacob Neusner, 1991 Rabbi Paul Bruce Chilton, 2011-01-12 A brilliant new biography of Saint Paul whose interpretations of the life and teachings of Jesus transformed a loosely organized grassroots peasant movement into the structured religion we know today Without Paul there would be no Christianity His letters to various churches scattered throughout the Roman Empire articulated for the first time the beliefs that make up the heart of Christian practice and faith In this extraordinary biography Bruce Chilton explains the changing images of Paul from the early Church period when he was regarded as the premiere apostle who separated

Christianity from Judaism to more recent liberal evaluations which paint him as an antifeminist homophobic figure more dedicated to doctrine than to spiritual freedom By illuminating Paul s thoughts and contributions within the context of his time Chilton restores him to his place as the founding architect of the Church and one of the most important figures in Western history Rabbi Paul is at once a compelling highly readable biography and a window on how Jesus message was transformed into a religion embraced by millions around the world Drawing on Paul s own writings as well as historical and scholarly documents about his life and times Chilton portrays an all too human saint who helped to create both the most beautiful and the most troublesome aspects of the Church He shows that Paul sought to specify the correct approach to such central concerns as sexuality obedience faith conscience and spirit to define religion as an institution and to clarify the nature of the religious personality issues that Christians still struggle with today From the Trade Paperback edition
