Person And God International Society For Metaphysics Studies In Metaphysics Vol Iii:

The Nature of Metaphysical Knowledge George F. McLean, Hugo Anthony Meynell, 1988 Trinitarian Personhood Bill Ury, 2002-02-01 The concept of the person is a crucial yet elusive component in the development of Western thought Few concepts are as replete with definitional difficulty Equally important is the application of a proper definition to all major Christian doctrinal commonplaces This work recognizing the insufficiency of modern theology to offer a cogent concept of person proposes a thorough historical and theological evaluation of Trinitarian personhood presented in three critical paradigm shifts by which one can measure the development of the idea of true personhood presented The three watershed eras of discernment of divine personhood presented are seen here as first the Cappadocian position of the mutual indwelling perichoresis of the divine persons is contrasted with Augustine s view of the place of relations in defining divine persons Second the ideas of Richard of St Victor whose caritas consummata and its relational implications met the nemesis of the Thomistic category of subsistent relations And last as an example of this important discussion in modernity the German Heribert M hlen s dynamic phenomenological approach to Triune personhood is offered as a means of countering the implicit modalisms of Barth and Rahner If the personhood of God is in essence Being in Another then Christianity must apply that ontology to all sectors of reality to be fully Christian Research on Culture and Values George F.  account of our present situation in the Philosophy of Religion is given leading to a discussion of the very idea of a Christian Philosophy and the coherence of the traditional concept of God The implications of science and a concern for the environment in our concepts of God are carefully examined A discussion follows on the possibility of speech about God and silence about God Since much of modern European philosophy is concerned with the Death of God theme the positions of Nietzsche and some of his twentieth century interpreters are presented There are presentations on Feminist Approaches to Philosophy of Religion and Comparative Religion is examined in relation to cultures and the demands of rationality The volume concludes with a critical dialogue on the relation of Religious Discourse to the Public Sphere Developing global awareness has led to significant change in the Philosophy of Religion One dimensional approaches have given way to honest dialogue The traditional boundaries between the secular and the religious have shifted and new approaches to traditional problems are required This volume presents examples of these new approaches
