Woman's Place In The Novels Of Henry James Elizabeth E Allen, 1984-06-21      Person, place, and thing in Henry Jame's novels Charles Roberts Anderson, 1977      Person, Place, and Thing in Henry James's Novels Charles Roberts Anderson, 1977      Portrait of a Novel: Henry James and the Making of an American Masterpiece Michael Gorra, 2012-08-27

Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize Finalist for National Book Critics Circle Award Biography One of the Best Books of 2012 The New Yorker Wall Street Journal Guardian The Millions Kirkus Reviews Boston Phoenix A revelatory biography of the American master as told through the lens of his greatest novel Henry James 1843 1916 has had many biographers but Michael Gorra has taken an original approach to this great American progenitor of the modern novel combining elements of biography criticism and travelogue in re creating the dramatic backstory of James s masterpiece Portrait of a Lady 1881 Gorra an eminent literary critic shows how this novel the scandalous story of the expatriate American heiress Isabel Archer came to be written in the first place Traveling to Florence Rome Paris and England Gorra sheds new light on James s family the European literary circles George Eliot Flaubert Turgenev in which James made his name and the psychological forces that enabled him to create this most memorable of female protagonists Appealing to readers of Menand s The Metaphysical Club and McCullough s The Greater Journey Portrait of a Novel provides a brilliant account of the greatest American novel of expatriate life ever written It becomes a piercing detective story on its own      A Companion to Henry James Greg W. Zacharias, 2014-02-10 Written by some of the world s most distinguished Henry James scholars this innovative collection of essays provides the most up to date scholarship on James s writings available today Provides an essential up to date reference to the work and scholarship of Henry James Features the writing of a wide range of James scholars Places James s writings within national contexts American English French and Italian Offers both an overview of contemporary James scholarship and a cutting edge resource for studying important individual topics      Dwelling in the Text Marilyn R. Chandler, 2023-11-15 What is a house And what can architecture tell us about individual psychology national character and aspiration The house holds a central place in American mythology as Marilyn Chandler demonstrates in a series of house tours through American novels beginning with Thoreau s Walden and ending with Toni Morrison s Beloved and Marilynne Robinson s Housekeeping Chandler illuminates the complex analogies between house and psyche house and family house and social environment and house and text She traces a historical path from settlement to unsettledness in American culture and explores all the rituals in between of building decorating inhabiting and abandoning houses She notes the ambivalence between our desire for rootedness and our romanticization of wide open spaces relating these poles to the tension between materialism and spirituality in our national character At a time when housing has become a problem of unprecedented dimensions in America this look at the place of houses and homes in the American imagination reveals some sources of the attitudes assumptions and expectations that underlie the designing and building of the homes we buy sell and dream about

The Real Thing Miles Orvell, 2014-08-25 In this classic study of the relationship between technology and culture Miles Orvell demonstrates that the roots of contemporary popular culture reach back to the Victorian era when mechanical replications of familiar objects reigned supreme and realism dominated artistic representation Reacting against this genteel culture of imitation a number of artists and intellectuals at the turn of the century were inspired by the machine to create more authentic works of art that were themselves real things The resulting tension between a culture of imitation and a culture of authenticity argues Orvell has become a defining category in our culture The twenty fifth anniversary edition includes a new preface by the author looking back on the late twentieth century and assessing tensions between imitation and authenticity in the context of our digital age Considering material culture photography and literature the book touches on influential figures such as writers Walt Whitman Henry James John Dos Passos and James Agee photographers Alfred Stieglitz Walker Evans and Margaret Bourke White and architect designers Gustav Stickley and Frank Lloyd Wright

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James's The Ambassadors to McCarthy's The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

Sin and Evil Ronald Paulson, 2007-01-01 The 1990s brought surprising industrial development in emerging economies around the globe firms in countries not previously known for their high technology industries moved to the forefront in new Information Technologies IT by using different business models and carving out unique positions in the global IT production networks In this book Dan Breznitz asks why economies of different countries develop in different ways and his answer relies on his exhaustive research into the comparative experiences of Israel Taiwan and Ireland states that made different choices to nurture the growth of their IT industries The role of the state in economic development has changed Breznitz concludes but it has by no means disappeared He offers a new way of thinking about state led rapid innovation based industrial development that takes into account the ways production and innovation are now conducted globally And he offers specific guidelines to help states make advantageous decisions about research and development relationships with foreign firms and investors and other critical issues A

Superficial Reading of Henry James Thomas J. Otten, 2006 Do the surfaces matter In this provocative book A Superficial Reading of Henry James Preoccupations with the Material World Thomas J Otten demonstrates that surfaces matter profoundly Taking seriously the accessories of Henry James s fiction the china and bric a brac the antique cabinets and tapestries the ribbons and hats this book argues that James s famous ambiguity is a material state an indeterminate zone where the difference between essence and ornament disappears Ranging between fictions as well known as The Portrait of a Lady whose heroine is celebrated for her psychological complexity and ones as understudied as Rose Agathe whose heroine is a hairdresser s manikin Otten suggests that the distinction between what counts as thematic depth and what counts as physical surface is for James impossible to maintain Achieving a superficial reading of Henry James means demonstrating the persistence of the material within the novelist s most conceptual formations of meaning an argument with important consequences for literary theory as Otten shows in his concluding chapters Eloquently written and guided by a perverse love for the superfluous detail this book makes an important contribution to a fast growing area of the humanities one newly committed to the serious study of material culture the concrete experiences of everyday life and the history of the physical senses Book jacket

The Visual Arts, Pictorialism, and the Novel Marianna Torgovnick, 2014-07-14 Marianna Torgovnick maintains that it is worthwhile to think about novels in terms of the visual arts in part because major novelists like James Lawrence and Woolf did so and did so fruitfully as they were influenced by their perceptions of artistic movements Originally published in 1985 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 City Codes Hana Wirth-Nesher, 1996-01-26 City Codes is a study of the representation of the city in the modern novel that takes difference as its point of departure so that cities are read according to the cultural and social position of the urbanite These urban narratives are analysed in the context of a cultural repertoire of city codes from the architectural features of window and street to the social and historical signs of the landmark and the passer by with the emphasis on the subject's construction of his or her place as shaped by history politics nationality gender class and race The study moves from boundaries inscribed onto the cityscape to distances experienced by the city dwellers its real and textual cities are Warsaw Jerusalem New York Chicago Paris London and Dublin The novels discussed are by Isaac Bashevis Singer Amos Oz Theodore Dreiser Ralph Ellison Henry James Henry Roth James Joyce and Virginia Woolf

Meaning in Henry James Millicent Bell, 1991 Henry James rebelled intuitively against the tyranny and banality of plots Believing a life to have many potential paths and a self to hold many destinies he hung the evocative shadow of what might have been over much of what he wrote Yet James also realized that no life can be lived and no story written except by submission to some outcome The limiting conventions of society and literature are he found almost inescapable In a major comprehensive new study of James's work Millicent Bell explores this oscillation between hope and fatalism indeterminacy and form and uncertainty and meaning In the process Bell provides fresh insight into how we read and interpret fiction Bell demonstrates how James's texts steadfastly almost perversely at times preserve a sense of alternative possibilities James involves his characters in overlapping scenarios drawn from folklore drama literature or naturalist formula The reader engages with the hero or heroine in imagining many plots other than the one that finally and often ambiguously emerges The story arouses expectations proposes courses then cancels them successively In complicity with author and character the reader crafts the story in an adventure of constant revision and anticipation Literary meaning becomes an experience as well as a goal In the end revelations and resolutions even if unclear or partial assume an altered significance in light of the earlier imaginings Not surprisingly James's deepest sympathies lay with those characters who resisted entrapment by cultural expectations his idealistic free spirits like Isabel his marriage renouncers like Fleda Vetch his largely silent and detached witnesses to life like Strether and the generous Maisie They are frequently the victims of callous manipulators who box them into oppressive roles or who literally plot against them By looking closely at James's critiques of clever categorical mind and at his loving and complex portraits of characters of unfulfilled potentiality Bell celebrates the paradoxes of James's story denying fiction In extended analyses of Daisy Miller Washington Square The Portrait of a Lady The Bostonians The Princess Casamassima The Aspern Papers The Spoils of Poynton The Turn of the Screw What Maisie Knew The Beast in the Jungle The Jolly Corner The Wings of the Dove and The Ambassadors Bell relates James's work to influential movements of the day notably impressionism and naturalism She examines the influence of Hawthorne Emerson Flaubert Balzac and Zola on James at various periods throughout his career Drawing on rich traditions of criticism and on stimulating recent theories Bell forges a critical approach both accessible and profound for this elegant reading of one of the greatest writers of this or any time It is a book that will be of high value and interest to the advanced scholar marking out new ground in its methodology and offering innovative interpretations of James's fiction At the same time it will appeal equally to the general reader who will find his reading of James enriched by Bell's lucid and impassioned discussion      Downwardly Mobile Andrew Lawson, 2014-05-22 Downwardly Mobile explores the links between a growing sense of economic precariousness within the American middle class and the development of literary realism over the course of the nineteenth century as it examines works by Rebecca Harding Davis William Dean Howells Henry James Hamlin Garland and others      Henry James's Portrait of the Writer as Hero Sara S Chapman, 1990-02-12 One of the subjects of deepest and most enduring interest to Henry James was the creative experience of writers and critics This study examines James's fictions about this experience placing them within the context of James's critical work and enabling the reader to see this body of work as James himself did as a coherent extended portrayal of the creative experience of the writer critic      Cather Studies, Volume 10 Cather Cather Studies, 2015-08-01 Willa Cather and the Nineteenth Century explores with textual specificity and historical alertness the question of how the cultures of the nineteenth century the cultures that shaped Willa Cather's childhood animated her education supplied her artistic models generated her inordinate ambitions and gave embodiment to many of her deeply held values are addressed in her fiction In two related sets of essays seven contributors track within Cather's life or writing the particular cultural formations emotions and conflicts of value she absorbed from the atmosphere of her distinct historical moment their ten colleagues offer a compelling set of case studies that articulate the manifold ways that Cather learned from built upon or resisted models provided by particular nineteenth century writers works or artistic genres Taken together with its Cather Studies predecessor Willa Cather and Modern Cultures this volume reveals Cather as explorer and interpreter sufferer and master of the transition from a Victorian to a Modernist America      A Thing Divided John Landau, 1996 The subject of the book is representation in the three major novels of the late phase of James's work The Ambassadors The Wings of the Dove and The Golden Bowl A chapter is also devoted to a discussion of The Tragic Muse written some ten years earlier which shows James's schematic focus on this question at the middle stage of his career      Henry James Judith Woolf, 1991-04-04 An introduction to the major novels of Henry James the American writer who became a great European novelist
