Albl, 2014-04-09 This work argues that many early Christian quotations of the Old Testament derive not from scriptural manuscripts but rather from authoritative written testimonia collections developed to support basic Christian beliefs Combining recent patristic studies notably on Justin and Barnabas and evidence from Qumran with detailed examination of quotations in the New Testament the book builds a fresh case for a neglected scholarly hypothesis After reviewing the scholarly literature and analogous Jewish and Greco Roman literary collections the book presents a comprehensive overview of extant testimonia traditions from the second to the fourth century C E The final chapters argue for the use of written testimonia collections in the New Testament This study offers solid evidence for a remarkably unified early Christian scriptural tradition that extended throughout the Mediterranean world

In Praise of Antiheroes Victor Brombert, 2001-11 In an age of upheaval and challenged faith traditional heroes are hard to come by and harder still to love with their bloodstained hands and backs unbowed by the consequences of their actions Through penetrating readings of key works of modern European literature Victor Brombert shows how a new kind of hero the antihero has arisen to replace the toppled heroic model Though they fail by design to live up to conventional expectations of mythic heroes antiheroes are not necessarily failures They display different kinds of courage more in tune with our time and our needs deficiency translated into strength failure experienced as honesty dignity achieved through humiliation Brombert explores these paradoxes in the works of Balzac, Gogol, Dostoevsky, Flaubert, Svevo, Hemingway, Camus and Levi Coming from diverse cultural and linguistic traditions these writers all use the figure of the antihero to question handed down assumptions to reexamine moral categories and to raise issues of survival and renewal embodying the spirit of an uneasy age
