Intellectual Property, Finance and Corporate Governance Janice Denoncourt, 2018-04-19 IP law has evolved from being a little pool to a big ocean Corporate governance needs to respond to society s rising expectations of directors and boards as the impact of the global intellectual property ecosystem is felt How can a responsible corporate culture of IP transparency be stimulated to create a rosy future to connect corporate communication with the desires of shareholders investors and other stakeholders The astonishing lack of material quantitative and qualitative information companies report about their IP assets makes it difficult for shareholders and other stakeholders to assess directors stewardship of those assets a pressing corporate governance issue in the 21st century This book advances IP reporting in alignment with the key corporate governance principles of transparency and disclosure It analyses the juncture between the IP ecosystem corporate finance and accounting for intangibles and corporate governance Patents mini case studies and an original business triage style model for assessing IP disclosures are used to illustrate the gaps corporate governance theory needs to address Focussing on the common law tradition of corporate governance in England and Wales intangibles and IP reporting developments in other jurisdictions are also explored World Intellectual Property Report 2013: Brand - Reputation and Image in the Global Marketplace World Intellectual Property Organization, 2013 WIPO's World Intellectual Property Report 2013 explores the role that brands play in today's global marketplace. The Report looks at how branding behavior and trademark use have evolved in recent history, how they differ across countries, what is behind markets for brands, what lessons economic research holds for trademark policy, and how branding strategies influence companies' innovation activities. STOP! : a progress report on protecting and enforcing intellectual property rights here and abroad : hearing , Innovation, Startups and Intellectual Property Management Ignacio De Leon, Jose Fernandez Donoso, 2017-05-17 This book identifies the potential of intellectual property as a competitive asset for Latin American firms. The authors employ a cognitive approach that involves identifying why small firms are reluctant to register patents, resorting rather to alternative IP competitive strategies. This in turn results in the undercapitalization of intellectual assets, thus creating hurdles for the development of capital venture markets. Using new data gathered from highly innovative SMEs in Latin America and the Caribbean, the authors bring a fresh cognitive approach towards understanding the institutional role of intellectual property and outline various new policy recommendations.

Progress Report of the Department of Justice's Task Force on Intellectual Property United States. Department of Justice's Task Force on Intellectual Property, 2006 Examines all of the Department of Justice's intellectual property enforcement efforts and explores methods for the Justice Department to strengthen its protection of the nation's valuable intellectual resources. Evolving properties of intellectual capitalism Ove Granstrand, 2018 Intellectual capitalism is evolving, driving and driven by technological innovations and various forms of entrepreneurship. The purpose of this eagerly anticipated book is to analyze the linkages between R D, patents, innovations, entrepreneurship, and growth. Based on a large array of national empirical and policy studies, it elaborates on a comprehensive range of innovation and IP issues that are pertinent not only to Europe but to the world as a whole. These issues include the role of patents and licensing in the governance of technology and innovation and the various uses and abuses of patents. It further elaborates on new IP phenomena in an increasingly patent-intensive world with patent-rich multinationals and patent-savvy new entrants from Asia. In a world facing challenges that call for innovative responses, the book contains a set of valuable policy recommendations for strengthening innovativeness for economic growth and ultimately for social value creation. World Intellectual Property Report 2011 - The Changing Face of Innovation World Intellectual Property Organization, 2011 WIPO's World Intellectual Property Report 2011 focuses on the Changing Face of Innovation. It describes key trends in the innovation landscape, including the increasingly open, international, and collaborative character of the innovation process, the causes of the increased demand for IP rights, and the rising importance of technology markets. World Intellectual Property Organization Program of Work and Budget for 2024/25.
