Feminist Anthropology Ellen Lewin, 2009-02-09 Feminist Anthropology surveys the history of feminist anthropology and offers students and scholars a fascinating collection of both classic and contemporary articles grouped to highlight key themes from the past and present Offers vibrant examples of feminist ethnographic work rather than synthetic overviews of the field Each section is framed by a theoretical and bibliographic essay Includes a thoughtful introduction to the volume that provides context and discusses the intellectual foremothers of the field including Margaret Mead Ruth Landes Phyllis Kaberry and Zora Neale Hurston

Theorising and Representing Maternal Realities Julie Kelso, Marie Porter, 2009-05-05 Maternal research is a rapidly expanding multi disciplinary form of scholarship Prior to second wave feminism most motherhood literature was written from a male perspective This literature focused on telling mothers how to practice mothering without acknowledging the expertise of the mothers themselves Research on motherhood as it is experienced in all its facets by mothers has only emerged in recent decades This book is aimed at expanding academic knowledge of motherhood from a feminist perspective looking particularly at how maternal subjectivities can be represented and theorised When mothers themselves academic or not are responsible for theorisation and representation of maternal realities dominant theories and representations of motherhood are radically challenged In Theorising and Representing Maternal Realities the contributors argue that it is no longer acceptable to regard mothers as mere objects of knowledge and research They are primarily the subjects of knowledge and research

Reproductive Agency, Medicine and the State Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 2005-11-01 Recent years have seen many changes in human reproduction resulting from state and medical interventions in childbearing processes Based on empirical work in a variety of societies and countries this volume considers the relationship between reproductive processes of fertility pregnancy childbirth and the postpartum period on the one hand and attitudes medical technologies and state health policies in diverse cultural contexts on the other

The New Reproductive Order Sarah Franklin, Marcia C. Inhorn, 2025-04-22 The New Reproductive Order documents the effects of half a century of new reproductive technologies on ideas and practices surrounding fertility infertility fertility control and fertility decline that is on reproduction itself causing profound transformations in family life national political agendas global economies and environmental movements in the twenty first century

The SAGE Handbook of Fieldwork Dick Hobbs, Richard Wright, 2006-01-26 Fieldwork is widely practiced but little written about yet accounts of the exotic mundane complex and often dangerous are central to not only sociology and anthropology but also geography social psychology and criminology This handbook presents the first major overview of this method in all its variety introducing the reader to the strengths weaknesses and real world applications of fieldwork techniques

The Elusive Embryo Gaylene Becker, 2000-12-20 This work examines the industry of reproductive technology from the perspective of the consumer An analysis is made of the array of medical options available to those with fertility problems and the financial and emotional toll is assessed      On Having an Own Child Karin Lesnik-Oberstein, 2018-04-24 How are ideas of genetics blood the family and relatedness created and consumed This is the first book ever to consider in depth why people want children and specifically why people want children produced by reproductive technologies such as IVF ICSI etc As the book demonstrates even books ostensibly devoted to the topic of why people want children and the reasons for using reproductive technologies tend to start with the assumption that this is either simply a biological drive to reproduce or a socially instilled desire This book uses psychoanalysis not to provide an answer in its own right but as an analytic tool to probe more deeply the problems of these assumptions The idea that reproductive technologies simply supply an own child is questioned in this volume in terms of asking how and why reproductive technologies are seen to create this ownness Given that it is the idea of an own child that underpins and justifies the whole use of reproductive technologies this book is a crucial and wholly original intervention in this complex and highly topical area      Adopting After Infertility Marilyn Crawshaw, Rachel Balen, 2010 Adopting after Infertility is an informative interdisciplinary book that addresses the issues that professionals and adopters themselves face when going through the adoption process and the impact of infertility on their experiences The book includes chapters on the effects of infertility why people choose adoption and the assessment process      New Intimacies, Old Desires Oishik Sircar, Dipika Jain, 2017-06-21 In the last 15 years queer movements in many parts of the world have helped secure the rights of queer people These moments have been accompanied by the brutal rise of crony capitalism the violent consequences of the war on terror the hyper juridification of politics the financialization managerialization of social movements and the medicalization of non heteronormative identities practices How do we critically read the celebratory global proliferation of queer rights in these neoliberal times This volume responds to the complicated moment in the history of queer struggles by analysing laws state policies and cultures of activism to show how new intimacies between queer sexuality and neoliberalism that celebrate modernity and the birth of the liberated sexual citizen are in fact reproducing the old colonial desire of civilizing the native By paying particular attention to the problematics of race religion and class this volume engages in a rigorous self reflexive critique of global queer politics and its engagements confrontations and negotiations with modernity and its investments in liberalism legalism and militarism with the objective of queering the ethics of our queer politics Published by Zubaan      Gender in Cross-Cultural Perspective Adrienne E. Strong, Richard Powis, 2024-08-19 This fully updated new edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective carefully introduces and responds to changes in anthropological approaches to and perspectives on gender With two new editors and new authors from the Global South and underrepresented communities it combines theoretically and ethnographically based chapters to examine gender roles and ideology around the world The book is divided thematically into five parts with the editors opening each section with a succinct introduction to the principal issues The book retains some of the classic chapters while offering new contributions and extended discussions throughout on methodology It also has entirely new contributions that reflect more recent developments in the discipline including more emphasis on LGBTQ communities COVID and migration This new edition also features additional support for teaching and learning including a film list and discussion questions that are now offered as supplemental online materials The eighth edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective continues to be an essential resource for undergraduate and graduate students encountering the anthropology of gender for the first time

Institutionalizing Assisted Reproductive Technologies Alexander Styhre,Rebecka Arman,2016-02-12 Reproductive medicine has been very successful at developing new therapies in recent years and people having difficulties conceiving have more options available to them than ever before These developments have led to a new institutional landscape emerging and this innovative volume explores how health and social structures are being developed and reconfigured to take into account the increased use of assisted reproductive technologies such as IVF treatments Using Sweden as a central case study it explores how the process of institutionalizing new assisted reproductive technologies includes regulatory agencies ethical committees political bodies and discourses scientific communities patient and activists groups and entrepreneurial activities in the existing clinics and new entrants to the industry It draws on new theoretical developments in institutional theory and outlines how health innovations are always embedded in social relations including ethical political and financial concerns This book will be of interest to advanced students and academics in health management science and technology studies the sociology of health and illness and organisational theory

The New Arab Man Marcia C. Inhorn,2012-03-25 Middle Eastern Muslim men have been widely vilified as terrorists religious zealots and brutal oppressors of women The New Arab Man challenges these stereotypes with the stories of ordinary Middle Eastern men as they struggle to overcome infertility and childlessness through assisted reproduction Drawing on two decades of ethnographic research across the Middle East with hundreds of men from a variety of social and religious backgrounds Marcia Inhorn shows how the new Arab man is self consciously rethinking the patriarchal masculinity of his forefathers and unseating received wisdoms This is especially true in childless Middle Eastern marriages where contrary to popular belief infertility is more common among men than women Inhorn captures the marital moral and material commitments of couples undergoing assisted reproduction revealing how new technologies are transforming their lives and religious sensibilities And she looks at the changing manhood of husbands who undertake transnational egg quests set against the backdrop of war and economic uncertainty out of devotion to the infertile wives they love Trenchant and emotionally gripping The New Arab Man traces the emergence of new masculinities in the Middle East in the era of biotechnology

The Wrong Prescription for Women Maureen C. McHugh,Joan C. Chrisler,2015-07-14 This groundbreaking book challenges the medicalized approach to women s experiences including menstruation pregnancy and menopause and suggests that there are better ways for women to cope with real issues they may face Before any woman diets douches botoxes reduces reconstructs or fills a prescription for antidepressants statins hormones menstrual suppressants or diet pills she should read this book Contesting common medical practice the book addresses the many aspects of women's lives that have been targeted as deficient in order to support the billion dollar profits of the medical pharmacological industry and suggests alternatives to these remedies. The contributors, psychologists, sociologists and health experts, are also gender experts and feminist scholars who recognize the ways in which gender is an important aspect of the human experience. In this eye-opening work, they challenge the marketing and science that increasingly render women's bodies and experiences as a series of symptoms, diseases and dysfunctions that require treatment by medical professionals who prescribe pharmaceutical and surgical interventions. Each article in the book addresses the marketing of a specific condition that has been constructed in a way that convinces a woman that her body is inadequate or her experience and behavior are not good enough. Among the topics addressed are menstruation, menopause, pregnancy, post partum adjustment, sexual desire, weight, body dissatisfaction, moodiness, depression, grief and anxiety.

Reproductive Disruptions Marcia C. Inhorn, Marcia Claire Inhorn, 2007. Based on research by leading medical anthropologists from around the world, this book examines such issues as local practices detrimental to safe pregnancy and birth, conflicting reproductive goals between women and men and miscommunications between pregnant women and their genetic counselors. Parenthood between Generations Siân Pooley, Kaveri Qureshi, 2016-04-01. Recent literature has identified modern parenting as an expert-led practice, one which begins with pre-pregnancy decisions, entails distinct types of intimate relationships, places intense burdens on mothers and increasingly on fathers too. Exploring within diverse historical and global contexts how men and women make and break relations between generations when becoming parents, this volume brings together innovative qualitative research by anthropologists, historians and sociologists. The chapters focus tightly on inter-generational transmission and demonstrate its importance for understanding how people become parents and rear children.

Reproductive Health and Maternal Sacrifice Pam Lowe, 2016-06-29. This book demonstrates that the symbol of maternal sacrifice is the notion that proper women put the welfare of children, whether born in utero or not conceived, over and above any choices and desires of their own. The idea of maternal sacrifice acts as a powerful signifier in judging women's behaviour that goes beyond necessary care for any children. The book traces its presence in various aspects of reproductive health, from contraception to breastfeeding. Pam Lowe shows how, although nominally choices are presented to women around reproductive health, maternal sacrifice is used to discipline women into conforming to specific norms, reasserting traditional forms of womanhood. This has significant implications for women's autonomy. Women can resist or reject this disciplinary position when making reproductive decisions, but in doing so they may be positioned as transgressing and/or need to justify their decisions. The book will be of great interest to scholars of sociology, gender studies and health studies.

Reproductive Medicine and the Life Sciences in the Contemporary Economy Alexander Styhre, 2016-04-08. In Reproductive Medicine and the Life Sciences in the Contemporary Economy, Alexander Styhre and Rebecka Arman illuminate issues that have given rise to terms such as the bioeconomy and the baby business. The life sciences play an increasing role in providing services and commodities consumed by businesses and the public Based on an in depth study of clinics offering assisted fertilization in Sweden this book is the first to examine the commercialization and commodification of know how derived from the life sciences from the point of view of organization theory In the field of reproductive medicine there has been significant growth of both public and private clinical work Clinics are places where individual interests and concerns and social and institutional arrangements intersect With a front office where patients encounter various professional groups and a back office comprising the laboratories wherein human reproductive materials are handled and stored they are more than just places in which medicine is applied in a clinical setting Clinicians in this field actively influence policy making and the regulatory frameworks that monitor and set the boundaries for their work These are places where social and cultural interests and concerns are translated into policies and practice The clinics are open social systems responding to and influencing discussions This book combines organization theory sociological theory gender theory science and technology studies and philosophy It emphasises the critical importance of a sociomaterial perspective on organization stressing how material and social resources are always of necessity folded into each other in day to day organizing

Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation Introduction

In today's digital age, the availability of Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals for download has revolutionized the way we access information. Gone are the days of physically flipping through pages and carrying heavy textbooks or manuals. With just a few clicks, we can now access a wealth of knowledge from the comfort of our own homes or on the go. This article will explore the advantages of Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals for download, along with some popular platforms that offer these resources. One of the significant advantages of Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals for download is the cost-saving aspect. Traditional books and manuals can be costly, especially if you need to purchase several of them for educational or professional purposes. By accessing Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation versions, you eliminate the need to spend money on physical copies. This not only saves you money but also reduces the environmental impact associated with book production and transportation. Furthermore, Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals for download are incredibly convenient. With just a computer or smartphone and an internet connection, you can access a vast library of resources on any subject imaginable. Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement. So why not take advantage of the vast world of Reproducing Reproduction Kinship Power And Technological Innovation books and manuals for download and embark on your journey of knowledge?
