Rerighting History:

Re/rihting History Barbara J. Bloemink, Lisa Gail Collins, Katonah Museum of Art, 1999 A Malawi Church History 1860 - 2020 Kenneth R. Ross, Klaus Fiedler, 2025-02-15 This is the first attempt to comprehend the whole of Malawi's church history in a single volume. It aims to unfold this history from beginning to end considering every expression of Christianity and taking account of its every dimension. This revised edition includes additional material to take account of developments in Malawi church historiography between 2020 and 2025. A great achievement offering a comprehensive analysis of the history of Christianity in Malawi, a must-have book for institutional and personal libraries in Malawi and for all those interested in the impact of Christianity in Africa. Isabel Apawo Phiri, Vice Chancellor, University of Blantyre Synod. The significance of this book cannot be over-emphasised: a one-stop account for understanding Malawi's church history, captivating and refreshingly informative. Wapulumuka O. Mulwafu, Deputy Vice Chancellor, Mzuzu University Hidden History Jim Willis, 2020-05-01

Investigates and questions the scientific consensus on the origins of civilization. Do we, the human species, really know who we are or where we came from or how we originated or our place in the cosmos? Or is much of what we have been taught wrong or misguided or possibly even blatant lies intended to keep people in power and everyone else in line? Exploring alternative theories on the establishment of society and civilization, Hidden History: Ancient Aliens and the Suppressed Origins of Civilization looks at a variety of dissenting, suppressed and forbidden accounts of history and the origins of humanity. It takes a broad and inclusive survey of historical documents, various theories and a wide array of perspectives to explore what conventional wisdom might have gotten right and wrong. The book serves as a useful introduction into the suppressed accounts of the origins of modern civilization. It combines cutting-edge science with metaphysical, spiritual and even paranormal views, daring to ask whether there might be a better explanation for humanity's existence and the origins of civilization than the current scientific consensus. Hidden History looks at the multiverse and parallel dimensions, the ancient alien theory, metaphysics and hypotheses beyond physical perception, the eleven dimensions of string theory, radio telescopes that penetrate to the event horizon of our universe, mathematical equations that take us where no one has gone before and the world-wide sharing of experiences, old and new, that speak of long forgotten ancient mythologies that reveal historical truths. With more than 120 photos and graphics, this tome is richly illustrated. Its helpful bibliography provides sources for further exploration and an extensive index adds to its usefulness. This fascinating book is a thorough investigation and examination of the mysteries surrounding early civilizations, their myths, legends, histories, monuments and lasting legacies.

Making History Happen Derrilyn E. Morrison, 2015-10-05 Making History Happen: Caribbean Poetry in America examines Lorna Goodison's Turn Thanks 1999, McCallum's The Water Between Us 1999 and Claudia Rankine's Plot 2001 and Don't Let Me Be Lonely 2004. Engaging familiar themes and issues of time, language and identity, the readings focus on signifying moments in the works of the poets under discussion. Reflecting on some of the ways that transnational women poets of the black diaspora are using tropes of mobility to create a renewed sense of identity and a sense of belonging to a communal network the readings also demonstrate that the project of re writing individual self identity in light of one s expanding consciousness or awareness of the other is more urgent and more demandingly realistic in contemporary poetry written by women poets who occupy transnational spaces In these works re memory becomes a process that transforms the gathering of memory reflecting the interrelatedness of communal and individual subjective identities Rankine s poetry collections are used to close the discourse in this book for the call they make An intriguing crossing of genres their structural use of time and space reflects the stylistic inventiveness that has become a hallmark of transnational poets of the black diaspora In its transformation of language and of images that remain open ended in their meanings Don t Let Me Be Lonely fuses poetry dialogue and prose with images from television and other forms of communication media to create a poetic collection that is relentless in its confrontation with the way we make cultural meanings The collection of essays in this book calls attention to an emerging poetic body of Caribbean writing in America that requires naming for it is new polytektonDesign

Wendy W. Walters,2013-09-02 Many African diasporic novelists and poets allude to or cite archival documents in their writings foregrounding the elements of archival research and data in their literary texts and revising the material remnants of the archive This book reads black historical novels and poetry in an interdisciplinary context to examine the multiple archives that have produced our historical consciousness In the history of African diaspora literature black writers and intellectuals have led the way for an analysis of the archive querying dominant archives and revising the ways black people have been represented in the legal and hegemonic discourses of the west Their work in genres as diverse as autobiography essay bibliography poetry and the novel attests to the centrality of this critique in black intellectual culture Through literary engagement with the archives of the slave trader colonizer and courtroom creative writers teach us to read the archives of history anew probing between the documents for stories left untold questions left unanswered and freedoms enacted against all odds Opening new perspectives on Atlantic history and culture Walters generates a dialogue between what was and what might have been Ultimately Walters argues that references to archival documents in black historical literature introduce a new methodology for studying both the archive and literature itself engaging in a transnational and interdisciplinary reading that exposes the instability of the archive s truth claim and highlights rebellious possibility The History of Blacks in context of postmodern globalization and the resurgence of nationalist ideology either as a response to globalization or the exigencies of historical events This crisis has been brought on in part by the very postmodernist and poststructuralist questioning of the ideologies upon which nation states construct themselves The central argument of the book is that postmodernist Greek writers question the idea of national identity based on both the impact of globalization and a reexamination of the discourses of national ideology they suggest a turn away from the traditional concerns with cultural homogeneity towards an acceptance of multiplicity and diversity which is reflected through experimentation with postmodernist literary techniques Consequently the unifying idea of this book is national identity as it is reconfigured in recent contemporary novels My analysis incorporates the view that metafiction is a borderline or marginal discourse that exists on the boundary between fiction and criticism The book illuminates the connections between the formal concerns of contemporary authors and the larger debates and philosophical underpinnings of postmodernism in general History of the Life Boat and Its Work Richard Lewis,1874 Women Editing Modernism Jayne Marek,2021-10-21 For many years young writers experimenting with forms and aesthetics in the early decades of this century small journals known collectively as little magazines were the key to recognition Joyce Stein Eliot Pound Hemingway and scores of other iconoclastic writers now considered central to modernism received little encouragement from the established publishers It was the avant garde magazines many of them headed by women that fostered new talent and found a readership for it Jayne Marek examines the work of seven women editors Harriet Monroe Alice Corbin Henderson Margaret Anderson Jane Heap H D Bryher Winifred Ellerman and Marianne Moore whose varied activities often behind the scenes and in collaboration with other women contributed substantially to the development of modernist literature Through such publications as Poetry The Little Review The Dial and Close Up these women had a profound influence that has been largely overlooked by literary historians Marek devotes a chapter as well to the interactions of these editors with Ezra Pound who depended upon but also derided their literary tastes and accomplishments Pound s opinions have had lasting influence in shaping critical responses to women editors of the early twentieth century In the current reevaluation of modernism this important book long overdue offers an indispensable introduction to the formative influence of women editors both individually and in their collaborative efforts
