Research traditions in marketing Gilles Laurent, Gary L. Lilien, Bernard Pras, 2012-12-06 Divergence A Source of Creative Thinking The outstanding job accomplished by Bernard Gary and Gilles is really praiseworthy not only did they succeed in completing within a remarkably short span of time the editing of the contributions to the conference that marked the 20th Anniversary of the European Institute for Advanced Studies in Management they have also managed to elicit numerous insightful comments from a host of dashing young scholars as well as from the fortunate few established authorities whose findings have long become leading articles in the best academic journals who now chair those journals editorial boards and after whom great scientific awards have been named In so doing our dedicated triumvirate has blended together pieces of diverse research traditions some of them quite puzzling and mixed significantly differentiated styles of expression The controversial display of self confidence by some distinguished colleagues the amazingly emotional good old memories revived by their peers the scapegoat finding and moralizing confessions produced by some of their disciples together with the detached systematic rigidity of some others all combine to produce a multivarious patchwork that may well prove the existence of a marketing scholar lifecycle This cartoon like four class typology might even make it worth the reader's while to indulge in some guesswork to discover the sequence of the four stages as an exercise and then partition the author population accordingly

A to Z of Pharmaceutical Marketing Volume 2 Subba Rao Chaganti, 2024-05-08 Transactional to Transformational Marketing in Pharma The Science of Why and the Art of How is a ground breaking book that explores the current state of the pharmaceutical industry's marketing practices and how they can be improved Despite being instrumental in saving countless lives and improving the health of people worldwide for over a century the modern pharmaceutical industry has suffered from a tarnished reputation due to unethical business practices and transactional marketing In this timely and informative book the author delves into the reasons behind pharma's fall from grace and shows how transactional marketing practices cannot build brand loyalty or reputation Instead the book highlights the importance of transformational marketing practices and ethical business behavior which can lead to long term success and customer loyalty Using real world examples and case studies Transactional to Transformational Marketing presents a step by step approach to help pharma companies transform their marketing practices From understanding the importance of customer centricity to leveraging digital technologies this book provides practical tips and strategies that can be implemented immediately Transactional to Transformational Marketing in Pharma is a must read for anyone interested in elevating the pharmaceutical industry's reputation and creating sustainable growth in the long term If you are a marketer business leader or anyone interested in transforming the pharmaceutical industry's marketing practices this book is for you

Lee, Dick R. Wittink, Michel Wedel, Philippe A. Naert, 2013-06-29 This book is about marketing models and the process of model building Our primary focus is on models that can be used by managers to support marketing decisions It has long been known that simple models usually outperform judgments in predicting outcomes in a wide variety of contexts For example models of judgments tend to provide better forecasts of the outcomes than the judgments themselves because the model eliminates the noise in judgments And since judgments never fully reflect the complexities of the many forces that influence outcomes it is easy to see why models of actual outcomes should be very attractive to marketing decision makers Thus appropriately constructed models can provide insights about structural relations between marketing variables Since models explicate the relations both the process of model building and the model that ultimately results can improve the quality of marketing decisions Managers often use rules of thumb for decisions For example a brand manager will have defined a specific set of alternative brands as the competitive set within a product category Usually this set is based on perceived similarities in brand characteristics advertising messages etc If a new marketing initiative occurs for one of the other brands the brand manager will have a strong inclination to react The reaction is partly based on the manager's desire to maintain some competitive parity in the marketing variables The Marketing / Accounting Interface Robin Roslender, Richard M.S. Wilson, 2013-09-13 When marketing managers and financial managers join forces within any business the result can often be poor communication on financial criteria and goals The risk of this situation occurring is inevitably present when those with different professional backgrounds and roles are working in accordance with their own norms In his seminal 1956 paper on general systems theory the economist Kenneth Boulding referred to the phenomenon of specialised ears and generalised deafness which can be seen to exist when marketing managers are financially illiterate or when financial managers lack the necessary insights to design implement and operate accounting systems which are useful to marketing managers in carrying out their roles It is increasingly difficult to attach credence to the idea of marketing managers who lack financial skills or financial managers who fail to relate to the context in which marketing managers operate Understanding the marketing accounting interface is therefore important in generating emergent properties from the interaction of marketers and accountants whereby the whole is greater than the sum of the parts The chapters in this volume seek to address this challenge This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Management Strategic Global Marketing Erdener Kaynak, 2021-08-29 Learn to select appropriate strategic tools and measure the competitiveness of international firms This essential text addresses important strategic marketing issues and questions in a unique and insightful way Strategic Global Marketing Issues and Trends takes on the standardization vs adaptation issue and will familiarize you with important topics including customer value measurement in highly competitive industries factors influencing export attitudes qualities necessary for successful international business conduct distribution channels behavior and regional differences in the way these channels function and more Handy charts tables and figures make the information easy to access and understand In Strategic Global Marketing Issues and Trends authors from Israel the United States India Hong Kong and New Zealand examine the usefulness of comparative studies of dominant cultural values in successful international strategy development as well as other specific facets of international marketing strategy such as technometrics a benchmarked approach to compare competing brands on a set of attributes the attitudes of Taiwanese executives regarding exporting and international conduct the cultural values that must be taken into account to produce effective print advertisements in the United States and India the marketing roles and functions undertaken by Chinese wholesalers and the functions they are still reluctant to perform a meta analysis tested model of the relationship between export performance and the degree of standardization of international marketing strategy used by the exporter the effectiveness of policies put in place by leaders of United States cities in their efforts to promote exports

Managing Market Relationships Adam Lindgreen, 2017-11-28 Sole reliance on traditional marketing practices can cost a lot of money for little gain That s why establishing developing and maintaining market relationships with customers and other stakeholders is often hailed as an effective means to achieve a sustained competitive market advantage Despite this the benefits of relationship marketing remain uncertain and efforts in this arena often fail Managing Market Relationships explains what relationship marketing entails how it is implemented how it evolves and how it is controlled Building on research with colleagues Adam Lindgreen argues that companies must add value either through their products and services or through their relationships networks and interactions Readers are introduced to the buyer seller market exchange model that recognizes the importance of relationship marketing but argues that it should co exist with traditional marketing The book offers guidance on how to develop involve and evaluate management and employees in relationship building market activities To avoid the one size fits all approach to relationships that so often leads to the premature death of managers efforts a relationship management assessment tool is provided that helps companies to question identify and prioritize critical aspects of relationship marketing This timely and comprehensively researched book is essential reading for researchers those involved in the professional training and development of marketers and higher level students and practitioners who will want to learn more about relationship marketing relevant research methodologies and how to use sound managerial models and tools ECSM 2022 9th European Conference on Social Media Elisabeth Pereira, Carlos Costa, Zélia Breda, 2022-05-12 *Catalog of Copyright Entries. Quantitative Marketing and Marketing Management Adamantios Diamantopoulos, Wolfgang Fritz, Lutz Hildebrandt, 2013-01-31 Quantitative marketing has been gaining importance during the last decade This is indicated by the growing number of model and method oriented studies published in leading journals as well as by the many successful applications of quantitative approaches in pricing advertising new product planning and market segmentation decisions In addition market research has clearly benefitted from applying advanced quantitative models and methods in practice Some 60 researchers among them worldwide leading scholars offer a broad overview of quantitative approaches in marketing They not only highlight diverse mathematical and methodological perspectives but also demonstrate the relevance and practical consequences of applying quantitative approaches to marketing problems

Paradoxes in Food Chains and Networks J.H. Trienekens, S.W.F. Omta, 2023-08-28 This publication contains the proceedings of the 5th international conference on chain and network management in agribusiness and the food industry Papers will focus on the paradoxes caused by conflicting interests in the fields of economics and ethics technology and environment legislation and internationalisation etc The modern consumer demands high quality products in broad assortments throughout the year and for competitive prices Society imposes constraints on companies in order to economize on the use of resources ensure animal friendly and safe production and restrict pollution Together with technological developments and increased international competition these demands have changed the production trade and distribution of food products beyond recognition Demand is no longer confined to local or regional supply The food industry is now swiftly becoming an interconnected system with a large variety of complex relationships This is changing the way food is brought to the market Currently even fresh produce shipped from halfway around the world can be offered at competitive prices These developments are accompanied by national and international regulations and legislation in the area of food quality and safety In response to these changes business strategies must now focus not only on traditional economical and technological interests but also on topical issues such as the safety and healthfulness of food products animal friendliness the environment etc To effectively address paradoxical demands facing businesses many problems and opportunities must be approached from a multi disciplinary perspective and trade offs must be made between different aspects of production trade and the distribution of food
