The Nature of Learning Disabilities Kenneth A. Kavale, Steven R. Forness, 2012-12-06 The category of learning disabilities continues to be among the most contentious in special education Much of the debate and dissent emanates from a lack of understanding about its basic nature The failure to evolve a comprehensive and unified perspective about the nature of learning disabilities has resulted in the concept being lost The loss is best illustrated through the failure to answer this seemingly simple question What is a learning disability Using historical empirical theoretical conceptual and philosophical analyses this volume explores a number of problems and issues facing the field of learning disabilities The chapters cover historical influences definitional problems primary characteristics assessment practices theoretical development major themes research and measurement models and long term outcomes The goal is to explicate the nature of learning disabilities by analyzing what it was supposed to be what it has become and what it might be A predominant theme running through this text is the necessity for the field of learning disabilities to regain integrity by recapturing its essence Child Health

Psychology Barbara G. Melamed, Karen A. Matthews, Donald K. Routh, Brian Stabler, Neil Schneiderman, 2013-04-15 This unique text offers an interdisciplinary collection of the most current articles concerning the scientific study of Child Health Psychology The subjects of many articles are applicable to pediatrics family medicine child nursing developmental clinical child and pediatric psychology Emphasizing the scientific basis of the field this empirical research is invaluable to the specialist teacher or student seeking the most contemporary research methods used to study psychological aspects of

Neurotoxicology Jose A. Valciukas,2019-07-09 Dr Jose A Valciukas in Foundations of Environmental and Occupational Neurotoxicology has written a thorough lively and educational study on toxic substances and their effects Written in a manner that is accessible to both professionals and non professionals Dr Valciukas explains how health and human behavior may be adversely affected by neurotoxins He introduces his study with a history of environmental and occupational neurotoxicology Phobia Free Harold N. Levinson,Steven Carter,1988 Levinson a professor of psychiatry at New York University Medical School claims to have discovered that the inner ear is responsible for phobic behavior He argues that such behavior consists of sensory misprocessing triggered by concussion mononucleosis prolonged air travel menopause and similar physiologically destabilizing factors Treatment can be limited to medications for motion sickness Levinson s style may be overly insistent but he gives his controversial work a clear and convincing format that includes case histories and definitions of symptoms His advice on obtaining proper diagnosis and treatment is particularly welcome For subject collections William Abrams Portland State Univ Lib Ore Library Journal Learning Disabilities Sandro

Misciagna,2022-03-30 Learning disabilities are a heterogeneous group of disorders characterized by failure to acquire retrieve and use information competently These disorders have a multifactorial aetiology and are most common and severe in children especially when comorbid with other chronic health conditions This book provides current and comprehensive information about learning disorders including information on neurobiology assessment clinical features and treatment Chapters cover such topics as historical research and hypotheses of learning disorders neuropsychological assessment and counselling characteristics of specific disorders such as autism and ADHD evidence based treatment strategies and assistive technologies and much more The Cerebellum, Epilepsy, and Behavior Irving Cooper,2012-12-06 In cats anesthetized lightly with pentobarbital or alpha chloralose electrical stimulation of the paramedian lobule of cerebellum resulted in a change of EEG pattern Prior to stimulation the pattern consisted of high amplitude slow waves with superimposed low amplitude fast activity In addition the EEGs of animals anesthetized with chloralose showed chloralose spikes Immediately following brief cerebellar stimulation the slow wave activity and spikes disappeared leaving only low voltage fast activity The effect was most pronounced in the contralateral leads from the rostral portions of the cerebrum Study of the parameters most effective in evoking this effect revealed that stimulation frequency train duration and probably pulse duration affected the duration of suppression in a sigmoid fashion with inflection points at approximately 90 Hz 2.5 sec and 1 msec respectively Above threshold values stimulation current showed an approximately linear relationship to duration of EEG suppression The after discharge resulting from focal electrical stimulation of the cerebral cortex could be shortened by electrical stimulation of the paramedian lobule The effect was essentially the same when cerebellar stimulation preceded occurred during or followed the cerebral cortical stimulation The great variability of the after discharge resulting from cerebral cortical stimulation as well as the variability of the effects of cerebellar stimulation made it impractical to study systematically the parameters optimal for shortening after discharge Such a study will require use of an awake preferably partially restrained animal with electrodes chronically implanted
