challenges and opportunities for adult education and lifelong learning amidst a changing world Contributing authors analyse key aspects of the field through the lenses of democracy sustainability and social justice What Counts as Mathematics? Gail E. FitzSimons, 2005-12-15 J R GEN MAASS WOLFGANG SCHL GLMANN THEORY AND PRACTICE OF MATHEMATICS EDUCATION FOR ADULTS Our world is dominated by technological developments The philosopher Heinz H Ismann wrote that Atom Gen and Bit are the three basic principles now see H Ismann 1985 Each of the so called new technologies is based upon mathematics The first computer was built as a part of the Manhattan Project to calculate models of the atomic bomb The human genome project uses computers very often to find out the structure of the genome And computers are mathematical machines materialised mathematics Social organisations companies and not least governments use computers to process information A precondition for this is to formalise the social or economical structure which produces the information This formalisation is a type of mathematisation too The social and economical models of organisations or companies are a part of the process of mathematising the world Last but not least mathematics is a part of everyday life and work People handle money buy things do handywork at home measure areas to paint and so on All together mathematics is not only the basis for technology economy work and everyday life but a part of our culture It seems clear that everyone in our society should know more about this Educational Issues in the Learning Age Catherine Matheson, David Matheson, 2000-09-01 Education and its context are both changing rapidly In a world characterized by postmodernism and globalization even the discourses that we use to discuss education are changing This raises fundamental questions concerning the relationship of education to culture identity society and power To understand education in the twenty first century we need a new map By considering issues both fundamental and topical from citizenship to lifelong learning from school effectiveness to learning outside the school this book provides a comprehensive multi disciplinary guide to education in the new era Learning Outside the Academy Richard Edwards, Jim Gallacher, Susan Whittaker, 2006-11-22 This book weaves together different strands of research in the area of lifelong learning that concentrates particularly on learning in alternative settings and ways such experiential learning and informal and community learning Drawing upon international research the book examines how these strands of research can contribute to each other The contributions to this book are based on material presented at a conference at the Centre for Research in Lifelong Learning UK and they focus on research into key issues of policy and practice in lifelong learning Establishing a wider framework for debate about the meaning and significance of lifelong learning this timely and thought provoking book provides practitioners in the field with a relevant and current discussion on some very important ideas about non formal education A Feast of Learning Roger Hiemstra, Philippe Carré, 2013-08-01 This book provides perspectives from authors in six countries Canada Colombia Germany France UK USA pertaining to adult learning in the 21st Century This book grew out of an exciting International Conference on Adult Learning ICAL held in Paris May 27 29 2012 Imagine listening in as these international scholars representing expertise in various areas related to adult education focus their collective attention to the topic of adult learning. Their task is to concentrate their research and intellectual acumen on where adult learning is heading in the 21st Century and to bring together their varied areas of expertise to expand the field of adult education's knowledge base. This book provides more than a record of their papers and meetings. Instead, each author has revised their paper with symposium feedback to help capture the discussion synergy and growing knowledge base we envision together. Now you can read how these leading scholars understand adult learning in light of their collective work. Areas of focus include: Heuristics of Adult Learning, Facilitating Self-Directed Learning, Individuals and the Learning Process, Executives Self-Development, Distance Learning, Science Self-Directed Learning for All, Entertainment Education, Communication Strategy, Positive Deviance to Transform Education, Learning Through the Life Course. This book will benefit teachers, researchers, administrators, and students in the field of adult education learning and practice. The synergistic result of bringing together nine scholars results in many new practical applications, research streams, scholarship, and practice suggestions.

Human-Centered AI at Work: Common Ground in Theories and Methods Annette Kluge, Corinna Peifer, Uta Wilkens, Verena Nitsch, Sophie Berretta, Greta Ontrup, 2024-04-26. Research can face artificial intelligence (AI) as an issue of technology development but also as an issue of enacted technology at work. Human-centered design of AI gives emphasis to the expertise and needs of human beings as a starting point of technology development or as an outcome of AI-based work settings. This is an important goal as expressed for example by the International Labor Organization's call for a human-centered agenda for the future of AI and automation collaboration. This Research Topic raises the question of what human centrality means, i.e., what are the criteria and indicators of human-centered AI and how can they be considered and implemented.

Research Perspectives on Music Education in Ibero-America Rosa María Serrano, Guadalupe López-Íñiguez, José Luis Aróstegui, Gwen Moore, 2025-02-26. This volume brings together a selection of essential articles from the journal Revista Internacional de Educación Musical RIEM, a Spanish language journal published by the International Society for Music Education, making this work available to an English-speaking audience for the first time. With chapters representing a wide range of countries in the Ibero-American world, including Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Mexico, Portugal, and Spain, the book aims to develop international exchange in the music education community. The book is structured around key themes including music teacher training, youth music education, higher music education, and sociomusical programs, with a focus on opportunities for improvement across music education contexts inside and outside schools. Making vibrant research and practice from across the region available to a wider international audience, this book facilitates exchanges between researchers and educators and enhances global music education studies by highlighting groundbreaking work from Spanish and Portuguese-speaking countries.
