Looking To Learn Visual Pedagogy At The University Of Chicago:

Looking to Learn Linda Seidel, Katherine Fischer Taylor, 1998 Looking to Learn an exhibition at the Smart Museum of Art at the University of Chicago challenges the decontextualized approach to images and learning by setting ritual functional and intentionally aesthetic objects side by side together with inventories technical viewing devices photographs of ceremonial practices deploying the objects printed materials representing them and records and fragments of some of the environments to which they have belonged The resulting installations probed the ways in which objects artifacts and images have been collected deployed and exhibited in teaching research and self representation from the earliest days at the University

Looking and Learning: Visual Literacy across the Disciplines Deandra Little, Peter Felten, Chad Berry, 2015-03-13 In this volume the authors focus on the importance of inclusive teaching and the role faculty can play in helping students achieve though not necessarily in the same way To teach with a focus on inclusion means to believe that every person has the ability to learn It means that most individuals want to learn to improve their ability to better understand the world in which they live and to be able to navigate their pathways of life This volume includes the following topics best practices for teaching students with social economic gender or ethnic differences adjustments to the teaching and learning process to focus on inclusion strategies for teaching that help learners connect what they know with the information presented environments that maximize learners academic and social growth The premise of inclusive teaching works to demonstrate that all people can and do learn Educators and administrators can incorporate the techniques of inclusive learning and help learners retain more information This is the 141st volume of the quarterly Jossey Bass higher education series New Directions for Teaching and Learning It offers a comprehensive range of ideas and techniques for improving college teaching based on the experience of seasoned instructors and the latest findings of educational and psychological researchers The Practice of Persuasion Keith Moxey, 2018-08-06 This sequel to The Practice of Theory stresses the continued need for self reflective awareness in art historical writing Offering a series of meditations on the discipline of art history in the context of contemporary critical theory Moxey addresses such central issues as the status of the canon the nature of aesthetic value and the character of historical knowledge The chapters are linked by a common interest in even fascination with the paradoxical power of narrative and the identity of the authorial voice Moxey maintains that art history is a rhetoric of persuasion rather than a discourse of truth Each chapter in The Practice of Persuasion attempts to demonstrate the paradoxes inherent in a genre that while committed to representing the past must inevitably bear the imprint of the present In Moxey's view art history as a discipline is often unable to recognize its status as a regime of truth that produces historically determined meanings and so continues to act as if based on a universal aesthetic foundation His new book should enable art historians to engage with the past in a manner less determined by tradition and more responsive to contemporary values and aspirations The Smart Museum of Art Bulletin , 1999 Art Journal , 1960 Visual Culture Approaches to the Selfie Derek Conrad

Murray,2021-11-24 This collection explores the cultural fascination with social media forms of self portraiture selfies with a specific interest in online self imaging strategies in a Western context This book examines the selfie as a social and technological phenomenon but also engages with digital self portraiture as representation as work that is committed to rigorous object based analysis The scholars in this volume consider the topic of online self portraiture both its social function as a technology driven form of visual communication as well as its thematic intellectual historical and aesthetic intersections with the history of art and visual culture This book will be of interest to scholars of photography art history and media studies

Video-based Research in Education Lihua Xu,George Aranda,Wanty Widjaja,David Clarke,2018-11-09 The rapid development of video technology in the last decade has changed the ways in which people communicate how they learn and how research is done Video technology offers rich potential in capturing complex social interactions over a prolonged period of time and in supporting teacher professional learning and development This book explores the ontological epistemological methodological and ethical challenges associated with the different uses of video in research ranging from video as a tool for investigating social interactions and for stimulating participants reflection to the use of video for engaging varied communities and social groups in the process of teaching learning and research Each chapter presents the authors critical reflection on the ways in which video was employed the research decisions made the methodological challenges faced and the consequences for how educational practices were understood As such it illustrates a wide range of philosophical and theoretical standpoints with respect to video based research approaches This book will stimulate broad and rich discussion among education researchers who are interested in video research and contributes to advancing knowledge of the field developing approaches to dealing with emergent ethical theoretical and methodological issues and generating new protocols and guidelines for conducting video based research across a variety of disciplinary areas in education

Essentials of Teaching and Integrating Visual and Media Literacy Danilo M.
