Loyal Opposition Struggling With The Church On Homosexuality:

The Loyal Opposition Tex Sample, Amy E. DeLong, 2000 No issue more polarizes American Protestants today than the church's stance on homosexuality. In recent years a number of denominations have engaged in prolonged and divisive debates on the subject and it appears that these debates will continue to occupy their attention. The contributors to this volume call for the formation of a loyal opposition that is serious in its commitment to the difficult process of reconciliation and forgiveness. Faithfulness to the gospel they remind readers requires nothing less than that Christians will be committed to the full inclusion of all persons in the body of Christ not least of all those who disagree theologically and ethically. The book offers readers a multifaceted argument that the gospel requires a commitment to the full inclusion of all persons in the body of Christ. It focuses on how members of mainline denominations can respond to official denominational positions with which they disagree. Readers are offered an alternative response besides staying in the denomination and remaining silent or leaving the denomination because one disagrees with its official position on this issue. Contributors include J. Philip Wogaman, Roy Sano, Stanley Hauerwas, Jeanne Audrey Powers, Victor Paul Furnish, Dale Dunlap, Gil Caldwell, and Joretta Marshall. Foreword by Leontine Kelly.

We Shall Not Be Moved Jane Ellen Nickell, 2014-10-15 As Protestant denominations are fracturing over whether to ordain gays and lesbians, this work looks at The United Methodist Church's conversations about the issue in light of Methodism's historic contests over the leadership of African Americans and women to see what can be learned from these earlier periods of change. Using the uniform context of the Methodist General Conference where denominational policy is set, the book analyzes transcripts of floor debates in key years of these struggles, letting those who argued for and against the changes speak for themselves. Those arguments are read through the lens of French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu whose theory offers a sophisticated model that goes deeper than simple resistance to change in articulating a dialectic between social structures and agents that predisposes both to reproduce existing power relationships. This interdisciplinary historical study seeks to move beyond conscious motivations for the exclusion of these three groups and uncover deeply embedded misrecognized social dynamics. In exploring these groups' stories, this book examines who holds power in Methodist churches, how changes in authority structures occur, and why it is such a long and painful process.

Stephen Long, 2008-01-01 Stephen Long opens his erudite discussion of theology and ethics with the insistence that moral critique must emerge from a particular location rather than from the fluid values of any neutral observer Long sets out to put theology and ethics as well as the church in proper relation to one another Ethics must be based in theology not the other way around Our finite participation in the infinite make possible participation in a goodness beyond us That goodness comes to us in the flesh of Jesus Christ and the church is indispensable in drawing all people toward God's goodness The church a social ethic in itself gives purpose and order to other social institutions including family government and the market The goodness of God such a simple phrase such a profound and maybe even disruptive concept if we dare explore its implications Not only does Steve Long lead us skilfully and smoothly through potentially difficult matters of theology and philosophy he also brings home how our lives might be different if we really took the goodness of God to heart From matters of violence and economics to sexuality and family Long takes his readers through a thicket of competing ideas and leads them out the other side into greater clarity of vision unity of purpose and passion for God's good kingdom Seminaries and Sunday schools alike will benefit from this scholarly but accessible volume Michael Budde DePaul University D Stephen Long is assistant professor of theology at Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary and codirector of the Center for Ethics and Values He is the author of Divine Economy a volume in Routledge's Radical Orthodoxy series
