Nutritional and Therapeutic Interventions for Diabetes and Metabolic Syndrome Debasis Bagchi, Sreejayan Nair, 2012-01-31 Diabetes mellitus affects approximately 20 million people in the US or nearly 7% of the population. It is expected to increase by 70% within the next 25 years and numerous epidemiologic studies have demonstrated that type 2 diabetes increases the risk of cardiovascular morbidity and mortality. It is estimated to cost over 92 billion in health care costs and lost productivity. The increased risk is due to the detrimental vascular effects of prolonged exposure to a hyperglycemic oxidant rich environment yielding associated cardiovascular risk factors: atherosclerosis, hypertension, and clotting abnormalities. Hypertension and dyslipidemia in diabetic patients produces substantial decreases in cardiovascular and microvascular diseases. Nutritional and Therapeutic Interventions for Diabetes and Metabolic Syndrome provides an overview of the current epidemic, outlines the consequences of this crisis, and lays out strategies to forestall and prevent diabetes, obesity, and other intricate issues of metabolic syndrome. The contributing experts from around the world give this book relevant and up to date global approaches to the critical consequences of metabolic syndrome and make it an important reference for those working with the treatment, evaluation, or public health planning for the effects of metabolic syndrome and diabetes. Scientific discussion of the epidemiology and pathophysiology of the relationship between diabetes and metabolic syndrome. Includes coverage of Pre-diabetes conditions plus both Type I and Type II Diabetes. Presents both prevention and treatment options. Prototype Inventory, 1979 Reaching the Poor with Health, Nutrition, and Population Services Davidson R. Gwatkin, Adam Wagstaff, Abdo Yazbeck, 2005-01-01 This volume presents eleven case studies that document how well or poorly health, nutrition, and population programs have reached disadvantaged groups in the countries of Africa, Asia, and Latin America where they were undertaken. The studies were commissioned by the Reaching the Poor Program undertaken by the World Bank in cooperation with the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and the Dutch and Swedish governments in an effort to find better ways of ensuring that health, nutrition, and population programs benefit the neediest. These case studies reinforced by other material gathered by the Catalog.
