A Short History of Film, Third Edition Wheeler Winston Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2018-03-30 With more than 250 images new information on international cinema especially Polish Chinese Russian Canadian and Iranian filmmakers an expanded section on African American filmmakers updated discussions of new works by major American directors and a new section on the rise of comic book movies and computer generated special effects this is the most up to date resource for film history courses in the twenty first century

A Short History of Film Wheeler Winston Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2008-03-01 The history of international cinema is now available in a concise conveniently sized and affordable volume Succinct yet comprehensive A Short History of Film provides an accessible overview of the major movements directors studios and genres from the 1880s to the present More than 250 rare stills and illustrations accompany the text bringing readers face to face with many of the key players and films that have marked the industry Beginning with precursors of what we call moving pictures Wheeler Winston Dixon and Gwendolyn Audrey Foster lead a fast paced tour through the invention of the kinetoscope the introduction of sound and color between the two world wars and ultimately the computer generated imagery of the present day They detail significant periods in world cinema including the early major industries in Europe the dominance of the Hollywood studio system in the 1930s and 1940s and the French New Wave of the 1960s Special attention is also given to small independent efforts in developing nations and the corresponding more personal independent film movement that briefly flourished in the United States the significant filmmakers of all nations censorship and regulation and how they have affected production everywhere and a wide range of studios and genres Along the way the authors take great care to incorporate the stories of women and other minority filmmakers who have often been overlooked in other texts Compact and easily readable this is the best one stop source for the history of world film available to students teachers and general audiences alike The Silent Cinema Reader Lee Grieveson, Peter Krämer, 2004 The Silent Cinema Reader brings together key writings on cinema from the beginnings of film in 1894 to the advent of sound in 1927 addressing the development of film production and exhibition technologies methods of distribution film form and film culture during this critical period on film history Thematic sections address film projection and variety shows storytelling and the Nickelodeon cinema and reform feature films and cinema programs classical Hollywood cinema and European national cinemas Each section is introduced by the editors and contains suggestions for further readings and film viewings Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood Karen Ward Mahar, 2008-08-25 A study of how and why women in early twentieth century Hollywood went from having plenty of filmmaking opportunities to very few Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood explores when how and why women were accepted as filmmakers in the 1910s and why by the 1920s those opportunities had disappeared In looking at the early film industry as an industry a place of work Mahar not only unravels the mystery of the disappearing female filmmaker but untangles the complicated relationship among gender work culture and business within modern industrial organizations In the early 1910s the film industry followed a theatrical model fostering an egalitarian work culture in which everyone male and female helped behind the scenes in a variety of jobs In this culture women thrived in powerful creative roles especially as writers directors and producers By the end of that decade however mushrooming star salaries and skyrocketing movie budgets prompted the creation of the studio system As the movie industry remade itself in the image of a modern American business the masculinization of filmmaking took root Mahar s study integrates feminist methodologies of examining the gendering of work with thorough historical scholarship of American industry and business culture Tracing the transformation of the film industry into a legitimate big business of the 1920s and explaining the fate of the female filmmaker during the silent era Mahar demonstrates how industrial growth and change can unexpectedly open and close opportunities for women With meticulous scholarship and fluid writing Mahar tells the story of this golden era of female filmmaking Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood is not to be missed Samantha Barbas Women s Review of Books Mahar views the business of making movies from the inside out focusing on questions about changing industrial models and work conventions At her best she shows how the industry s shifting business history impacted women s opportunities recasting current understanding about the American film industry s development Hilary Hallett Reviews in American History A scrupulously researched and argued analysis of how and why women made great professional and artistic gains in the U S film industry from 1906 to the mid 1920s and why they lost most of that ground until the late twentieth century Kathleen Feeley Journal of American History Women Filmmakers in Early Hollywood offers convincing evidence of how economic forces shaped women s access to film production and presents a complex and engaging story of the women who took advantage of those opportunities Pennee Bender Business History Review
