Reelpolitik II:

Reelpolitik II Beverly Merrill Kelley, 2004 With reference to eight classic American movies this text explores the political ideologies thrumming through the American psyche during the Cold War period Reelpolitik Ideologies in American Political Film Beverly Merrill Kelley, 2012-03-22 In Reelpolitik Ideologies in American Political Film Beverly Merrill Kelley examines more than a century of political movie history providing a thorough historical background for diametrically opposed political ideologies in order to facilitate debate and dialectical learning Kelley explores 185 American political movies categorized by ideological themes and presented in chronological order in order to illustrate the history of film as well as the history of the specific political ideology Each chapter includes a case study which provides an in depth analysis of the single film that best illustrates the ideology at hand including The Candidate populism Wall Street elitism The Godfather fascism All the President's Men anti fascism Patton interventionism and M A S H isolationism Reelpolitik Ideologies in American Political Film establishes a paradigmatic analysis of political films that details the cyclical nature of ideological dialectic throughout American history and identifies the values attitudes and beliefs of the voters who choose not to affiliate with Republicans and Democrats and who often determine the outcomes of elections The text also includes an extensive ideological filmology spanning more than 100 years of American cinema This study represents a bold investigation of the political and social values of American film and is an essential text in the study of the relationship between culture and politics The Rhetoric of Redemption David A. Bobbitt, 2007-02-16 The Rhetoric of Redemption applies Kenneth Burke's theory of guilt purification redemption in a close critical analysis of Martin Luther King Jr's I Have A Dream speech developing and examining the implications of Burke's redemption drama in contemporary public discourse Tag Teaming the Press James E. Mueller, 2008-06-27 Tag Teaming the Press James Mueller's lively account of the evolution of the press relations of Bill and Hillary Clinton begins with the couple's earliest student political activism in the sixties and continues through Hillary's run for the White House in 2008 Based largely on interviews with the journalists who covered them the book explains how the most powerful political couple in America learned to handle the media an indispensable skill for the twenty first century politician Mueller shows that the Clintons honed that skill through years of interacting with journalists_ as campaign workers as candidates and as candidates spouses He also makes clear that it is the latter category that makes the Clintons unique among American political couples At various times in their more than 30 years in politics Bill and Hillary have fulfilled a number of roles for each other in dealing with reporters including lightning rod bad cop good cop and schmoozer Mueller examines each of these roles and discusses how the Clintons played them sometimes winning sometimes losing but always well worth watching Written in an engaging style but based on thorough research Tag Teaming the Press is a valuable resource for students of media and politics and an informative read for anyone who cares about American democracy and the role the press plays in it Transforming Conflict Donald G. Ellis, 2006 Introduces and explains the dynamics of conflict and resolution particularly in ethnic ethnopolitical and intercultural or intergroup conflicts This book provides an overview of the elements of group conflict ethnicity identity and diasporas It explores key ways of using communication principles to resolve conflict Bring 'Em On Lee Artz,Yahya R. Kamalipour,2004-12-10 How were the American people prepared for the war on Iraq How have political agents and media gatekeepers sought to develop public support for the first preventive war of the modern age Bring Em On highlights the complex links between media and politics analyzing how communication practices are modified in times of crisis to protect political interests or implement political goals International contributors in mass communication political science and sociology address how U S institutional media practices government policy and culture can influence public mobilization for war The 2008 Presidential Campaign Robert E. Denton Jr.,2009-08-16 Presidential campaigns are our national conversations_the widespread and complex communication of issues images social reality and personas In 2008 more people participated in the conversation as voter numbers in every demographic group increased to levels of the 1970s Here political communication specialists break down the historic 2008 presidential campaign and go beyond the quantitative facts electoral counts and poll results of the election Factoring in everything from the campaign in popular culture political cartoons and the effect of celebrity the authors look at the early campaign period the nomination process and conventions the social and political context the debates the role of candidate spouses candidate strategies political advertising and the use of the Internet This enlightening book shows why more technology doesn't always mean more effective communication and how as we attempt to make sense of our environment we collect political bits of communication that comprise our voting choices worldviews and legislative desires Message Control Elizabeth A. Skewes,2007-04-09 Message Control a look at what shapes the news from the presidential campaign trail comes out of the author's experience traveling with campaigns interviews with other journalists who have covered campaigns from the road and research on campaign news Elizabeth Skewes a journalism professor and former reporter investigates journalists beliefs and the role those beliefs play in the election process as well as how the routines of campaign reporting affect news coverage While Skewes does find that journalists make an effort to inform the voting decisions of their readers by giving them a sense of context for each campaign and each candidate's character she also shows that journalists remain wary of staff manipulation and are constrained by pack journalism press pools and life in the bubble From on the trail perspectives to media theory explanations Message Control begins to answer the question of why political coverage focuses on personalities and peccadilloes when studies show the public wants less of this and more discussion of political issues Campaign 2000 William L. Benoit,2003 Campaign 2000 applies the functional theory of political campaign discourse analyzing how messages acclaim attack or defend to several different forms of campaign communication in the 2000 U S presidential primary and general election These forms include political advertisements on television and radio debates television talk show appearances campaign web pages and convention speeches by candidates and their spouses The authors also look at the election outcomes and explore lessons to apply to future campaign discourse Women's Political Discourse Molly A. Mayhead, Brenda DeVore Marshall, 2005-09-21 Following an overview of women's political discourse from the early twentieth century this book features selected women governors representatives and senators of the past several decades from Jeannette Rankin the first woman elected to the US House of Representatives to Hillary Rodham Clinton Center Stage Gary C. Woodward, 2007 Exploring political communication as theater Center Stage shows how American civic culture is both enriched and diminished by the ways journalists organize narratives about civic life This up to date text focuses on issues such as politics as representational theater economic forces shaping political media and growth of new media Covering contexts from the presidency and Congress to political art Center Stage suggests additional pathways for imagining our national life including Internet supported activism and innovative uses of documentary film Presidential Candidate Images Kenneth L. Hacker, 2004 This engaging look at presidential candidate images features a wide range of essays that dissect how these images are formed and manipulated during campaigns As more and more emphasis is placed on a candidate's persona and how it affects our voting decisions Presidential Candidate Images provides a variety of frameworks and cases for analyzing candidate images in past current and future elections Visit our website for sample chapters

Towel Snapping the Press James E. Mueller, 2006-05-25 Towel Snapping the Press follows the president's lifelong association with the media showing how he has developed and over the years modified his tactics During Bush's early years in the public eye the press did not scrutinize him but as president he became a subject of New Frontiers in International Communication Theory Mehdi Semati, 2004-04-02 New Frontiers in International Communication Theory offers a wide ranging assessment of the present state of the field of international communication and charts new directions for theory and research It brings together renowned and emerging scholars who challenge the field to move beyond the limits of existing formulations approaches and trajectories providing an alternative and a supplement to traditional approaches in analysis and study In rethinking the central problematics of the field exploring established and new tools and models of inquiry and articulating new research agendas this interdisciplinary collection anticipates the future of international communication studies News Narratives and News Framing Karen S. Johnson-Cartee, 2005 News Narratives and News Framing is a revealing look at how the media's construction of news affects our political economic and social realities In this introduction to the theory behind news framing Karen Johnson Cartee pulls together elements from communication journalism politics and sociology to create a picture of how news forms these realities for the public With its comprehensive reference section and suggestions on how to influence the news agenda this is a beneficial resource for students in political communication media criticism and communication theory Visit our website for sample chapters The Talk of the Party Sharon Jarvis, 2005-07-07 The Talk of the Party listens to how the language of partisanship including words like Democrat Republican party liberal conservative and independent has been used over the past fifty years and how it has created or limited political opportunities Listening to the talk o Mediating the Vote Michael Pfau,J. Brian Houston,Shane M. Semmler,2007 A sea change is taking place in how people use media and it affects not only how people perceive political candidates and where they get their information but also more broadly their basic democratic values Mediating the Vote explores a number of questions about media use and its relation to democratic engagement analyzing the effects of communication forms on the 2004 presidential elections The book contributes to an important goal in political communication studies creating a more refined integrated and ultimately precise picture of how media affects democratic engagement Inventing a Voice Molly Meijer Wertheimer,2004 Inventing a Voice is a comprehensive work on the lives and communication of twentieth century first ladies Using a rhetorical framework the contributors look at the speaking writing media coverage and interaction and visual rhetoric of American first ladies from Ida Saxton McKinley to Laura Bush The women s rhetorical devices varied some practiced a rhetoric without words while others issued press releases gave speeches and met with various constituencies All used interpersonal or social rhetoric to support their husbands relationships with world leaders party officials boosters and the public Featuring an extensive introduction and chapter on the First Lady as a Site of American Womanhood Wertheimer has gathered a collection that includes the post White House musings of many first ladies capturing their reflections on public expectations and perceived restrictions on their communication Strategic Political Communication Karen S. Johnson-Cartee,Gary Copeland,2004 To become a successful political communicator and a savvy political consumer it is essential to know the elements of social influence what works and why Strategic Political Communication provides an introduction to persuasion social influence and propaganda tactics focusing on political communication This rich well documented work looks at the power of language the importance of targeting a specific audience and the significance of interpersonal relationships among other key issues It further examines propaganda in order to understand how communicators can best exercise influence in contemporary society Political Campaign Communication Judith S. Trent,Robert V. Friedenberg,2008 Now in its sixth edition Political Campaign Communication provides a realistic understanding of the strategic and tactical communication choices candidates and their staffs must make as they wage an election campaign Trent and Friedenberg s classic text has been updated throughout to reflect recent election campaigns including 2004 and 2006 as well as the early stages of 2008 A new chapter focuses on the use of the Internet Political Campaign Communication continues to be a classroom favorite and is thoroughly researched insightful and is a reader friendly text
