Reflections Of Eden My Years With The Orangutans Of Borneo:

Reflections of Eden Biruté Marija Filomena Galdikas, 1996 Since 1971 Birute Galdikas has lived and worked in the forests of Borneo documenting the lives of the orangutans This text describes her groundbreaking scientific and conservation work that has been recorded in more than a dozen television documentaries Reflections of Eden Birute M. F.

Galdikas, 2000-05 The riveting story of Birute Galdikas who has spent much of her life studying orangutans In 1971 at age 25 she began living in the remote jungles of Indonesian Borneo where she encountered menacing poachers blood sucking leeches swarms of insects Galdikas embarked on a quest of more than 25 years to become the foremost chronicler or orangutan life Her first task was to forge a bond of trust but her initial forays into their world were thwarted by territorial orangutans Eventually Galdikas became a surrogate member of their community An exotic adventure a history of vital scientific research the memoir of a remarkable woman Reflections of Eden Birute Marija Filomena Galdikas, 1996-08-01

The Mentalities of Gorillas and Orangutans Sue Taylor Parker, Robert W. Mitchell, H. Lyn Miles, 1999-08-26 Research on the mental abilities of chimpanzees and bonobos has been widely celebrated and used in reconstructions of human evolution In contrast less attention has been paid to the abilities of gorillas and orangutans This 1999 volume aims to help complete the picture of hominoid cognition by bringing together the work on gorillas and orangutans and setting it in comparative perspective The introductory chapters set the evolutionary context for comparing cognition in gorillas and orangutans to that of chimpanzees bonobos and humans The remaining chapters focus primarily on the kinds and levels of intelligence displayed by orangutans and gorillas compared to other great apes including performances in the classic domains of tool use and tool making imitation self awareness social communication and symbol use All those wanting more information on the mental abilities of these sometimes neglected but important primates will find this book a treasure trove The Madame Curie

Complex Julie Des Jardins, 2010-10-06 Why are the fields of science and technology still considered to be predominantly male professions The Madame Curie Complex moves beyond the most common explanations limited access to professional training lack of resources exclusion from social networks of men to give historical context and unexpected revelations about women's contributions to the sciences Exploring the lives of Jane Goodall Rosalind Franklin Rosalyn Yalow Barbara McClintock Rachel Carson and the women of the Manhattan Project Julie Des Jardins considers their personal and professional stories in relation to their male counterparts Albert Einstein Robert Oppenheimer Enrico Fermi to demonstrate how the gendered culture of science molds the methods structure and experience of the work With lively anecdotes and vivid detail The Madame Curie Complex reveals how women scientists have often asked different questions used different methods come up with different explanations for phenomena in the natural world and how they have forever transformed a scientist's role

Storytelling Apes Mary Sanders Pollock, 2015-05-04 The annals of field primatology are filled with stories about charismatic animals native to some of the most challenging and remote areas on earth There are for example the chimpanzees of Tanzania whose social and family interactions Jane Goodall has studied for decades the mountain gorillas of the Virungas chronicled first by George Schaller and then later more obsessively by Dian Fossey various species of monkeys Indian langurs Kenyan baboons and Brazilian spider monkeys studied by Sarah Hrdy Shirley Strum Robert Sapolsky Barbara Smuts and Karen Strier and finally the orangutans of the Bornean woodlands whom Birut Galdikas has observed passionately Humans are after all storytelling apes The narrative urge is encoded in our DNA along with large brains nimble fingers and color vision traits we share with lemurs monkeys and apes In Storytelling Apes Mary Sanders Pollock traces the development and evolution of primatology field narratives while reflecting upon the development of the discipline and the changing conditions within natural primate habitat Like almost every other field primatologist who followed her Jane Goodall recognized the individuality of her study animals defying formal scientific protocols she named her chimpanzee subjects instead of numbering them thereby establishing a trend For Goodall Fossey Sapolsky and numerous other scientists whose works are discussed in Storytelling Apes free living primates became fully realized characters in romances tragedies comedies and never ending soap operas With this work Pollock shows readers with a humanist perspective that science writing can have remarkable literary value encourages scientists to share their passions with the general public and inspires the conservation community

Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Birx, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories

Just Another Ape? Helene Guldberg, 2013-11-12 Today the belief that human beings are special is distinctly out of fashion Almost every day we are presented with new revelations about how animals are so much more like us than we ever imagined The argument is at its most powerful when it comes to our closest living relatives the great apes This book argues that whatever first impressions might tell us apes are really not just like us Science has provided strong evidence that the boundaries between us and other species are vast Unless we hold on to the belief in our exceptional abilities we will never be able to envision or build a better future in which case we might as well be monkeys

Centralizing Fieldwork Jeremy MacClancy, Agustín Fuentes, 2010-12-01 Fieldwork is a central method of research throughout anthropology a much valued much vaunted mode of generating information But its nature and process have been seriously understudied in biological anthropology and primatology This book is the first ever comparative investigation across primatology biological anthropology and social anthropology to look critically at this key research practice It is also an innovative way to further the comparative project within a broadly conceived anthropology because it does not focus on common theory but on a common method The questions asked by contributors are what in the pursuit of fieldwork is common to all three disciplines what is unique to each how much is contingent how much necessary Can we generate well grounded cross disciplinary generalizations about this mutual research method and are there any telling differences Co edited by a social anthropologist and a primatologist the book includes a list of distinguished and well established contributors from primatology and biological anthropology      The Environmental Communication Yearbook Stephen P. Depoe, 2014-04-08 First Published in 2006 For scholars and students in environmental communications journalism rhetoric PR mass communication and other related areas      Delia Akeley and the Monkey Iain McCalman, 2022-02-01 By telling this story Iain McCalman illuminates much about human animal relations and the tyranny of gender inequality He reinstates a twentieth century story of a dedicated amateur primatologist and her adopted Vervet monkey On an East African hunting expedition in 1909 Delia Akeley a forty year old American woman captured a baby female monkey Delia's loneliness in an isolating patriarchal world and her long frustrated desire to adopt a child had motivated her to nurture the animal She named the monkey JT Jr and decided to study her interactions with humans The unique relationship between Delia and JT unlocked Delia's latent talents of research and observation anticipating both Jane Goodall's chimpanzee writings and Margaret Mead's Samoan ethnographies However Delia's love for JT clashed with her husband Carl's obsession to create a temple of African wildlife dioramas at the Museum of Natural History in New York Nursing Carl's broken body and realising their diverging interests pushed Delia into a breakdown in Uganda which led to a savage divorce in Manhattan and the heartbreaking caging of JT in a Washington zoo Carl's death triggered a long battle between Delia and Carl's widow who succeeded in obliterating most of Delia's achievements In Delia Akeley and the Monkey Iain McCalman uses official records and personal documents to build a story of passionate love and hate among women men animals and museums that predates our times but speaks to our present It illuminates much about human animal relations and the tyranny of gender inequality through reinstating an obscured story of a dedicated amateur primatologist      Marriage and Civilization William Tucker, 2014-02-03 In his stunning new book Marriage and Civilization author William Tucker looks at the evidence from biology evolution anthropology history and culture to come to a remarkable conclusion it was the monogamous pairing of male and female unusual among mammals that led to human evolution Moreover it is monogamous marriage that has shaped Western Civilization giving us our sense of justice undergirded Western democracy and is the greatest institution we have for perpetuating human freedom and happiness Yet marriage is now under threat and perhaps not in ways that people suspect We could actually see the de facto abolition of marriage with the state taking many of the responsibilities formerly assumed by the nuclear family Among Tucker's many eye opening observations How primitive polygamy was a retrogression from the original monogamous structure of the human family Why monogamy was essential to the development of ancient Greek democracy Why it was the Catholic Church not the Bible or Christianity in general that was the great defender of monogamous marriage in Western Civilization Why polygamous societies from primitive farming communities to the Mongols to the Muslim world to the early Mormons are internally violent and have bloody borders Why same sex marriage utterly irrelevant in evolutionary terms is a distraction from the real marriage debate we should be having The prospects for monogamous marriage and the dangers if it collapses Marriage and Civilization might be the most important provocative and
