Reflections Of Nz Touched By Nature:

New Zealand National Bibliography, 1982 Bodies as Sites of Cultural Reflection in Early Childhood Education
Rachael S. Burke, Judith Duncan, 2014-10-30 Taking the body as a locus for discussion Rachael S Burke and Judith Duncan argue not only that implicit cultural practices shape most of the interactions taking place in early childhood curricula and pedagogy but that many of these practices often go unnoticed or unrecognized as being pedagogy Current scholars inspired by Foucault acknowledge that the body is socially and culturally produced and historically situated it is simultaneously a part of nature and society as well as a representation of the way that nature and society can be conceived Every natural symbol originating from the body contains and conveys a social meaning and every culture selects its own meaning from the myriad of potential body symbolisms Bodies as Sites of Cultural Reflection in Early Childhood Education uses empirical examples from qualitative fieldwork conducted in New Zealand and Japan to explore these theories and discuss the ways in which children s bodies represent a central focus in teachers pedagogical discussions and create contexts for the embodiment of children s experiences in the early years Reflections of New Zealand Firstpic, 2005-09-09 Touch in Sports Coaching and Physical Education Heather Piper, 2014-08-07 In our increasingly risk averse society touch and touching behaviours between professionals and children have become a fraught issue In sports coaching and physical education touching young sports performers and participants has in some contexts come to be redefined as dubious and dangerous Coaches find themselves operating in a framework of regulations and guidelines that create anxiety for them and others and for many volunteer and sometimes professional coaches this fearful context has led them to question the risks and benefits of their continuing involvement in sport Touch in Sports Coaching and Physical Education is the first book to explore this difficult topic in detail Drawing on a series of international studies from the US UK Australia Canada Sweden and elsewhere it presents important new research evidence and examines theories of risk and moral panic that frame the discussion By challenging prevailing orthodoxies the book makes a significant contribution to critical discussion around practice pedagogy politics and policy in sport and physical education and also informs current debates around the nature and quality of all in loco parentis relationships Innovations in Deaf Studies Annelies Kusters, Maartje De Meulder, Dai O'Brien, 2017-04-14 What does it mean to engage in Deaf Studies and who gets to define the field What would a truly deaf led Deaf Studies research program look like What are the research practices of deaf scholars in Deaf Studies and how do they relate to deaf research participants and communities What innovations do deaf scholars deem necessary in the field of Deaf Studies In Innovations in Deaf Studies The Role of Deaf Scholars volume editors Annelies Kusters Maartje De Meulder and Dai O'Brien and their contributing authors tackle these questions and more Spurred by a gradual increase in the number of Deaf Studies scholars who are deaf and by new theoretical trends in Deaf Studies this book creates an important space for contributions from deaf researchers to see what happens when they enter into the conversation Innovations in Deaf Studies expertly foregrounds deaf ontologies defined as deaf ways of being and how the experience of being deaf is central not only to deaf research participants own ontologies but also to the positionality and framework of the study as a whole Further this book demonstrates that the research and methodology built around those ontologies offer suggestions for new ways for the discipline to meet the challenges of the present which includes productive and ongoing collaboration with hearing researchers Providing fascinating perspective and insight Kusters De Meulder O Brien and their contributors all focus on the underdeveloped strands within Deaf Studies particularly on areas around deaf people s communities ideologies literature religion language practices and political aspirations Camp-life in Fiordland, New Zealand William McHutcheson,1892
