Reflections on Fieldwork in Morocco Paul Rabinow, 1977 Rarely have anthropologists regarded fieldwork as a serious object of study although it is tacitly accepted as their major activity How valid is the process To what extent are the cultural data an artifact of the interaction between anthropologist and informants Rabinow takes the view that fieldwork is an independent cultural activity valuable in its own right and worthy of narrative report Reflections on Fieldwork in

Morocco Paul Rabinow, 2016-08-05 In this landmark study now celebrating thirty years in print Paul Rabinow takes as his focus the fieldwork that anthropologists do How valid is the process To what extent do the cultural data become artifacts of the interaction between anthropologist and informants Having first published a more standard ethnographic study about Morocco Rabinow here describes a series of encounters with his informants in that study from a French innkeeper clinging to the vestiges of a colonial past to the rural descendants of a seventeenth century saint In a new preface Rabinow considers the thirty year life of this remarkable book and his own distinguished career Women Writing Culture Ruth

Behar, Deborah A. Gordon, 1995 Extrait de la couverture Here for the first time is a book that brings women's writings out of exile to rethink anthropology's purpose at the end of the century As a historical resource the collection undertakes fresh readings of the work of well known women anthropologists and also reclaims the writings of women of color for anthropology As a critical account it bravely interrogates the politics of authorship As a creative endeavor it embraces new Feminist voices of ethnography that challenge prevailing definitions of theory and experimental writing Book Review Digest, 1996-05
