

Reflective Practice

In nursing practice and especially leadership an administration, reflection remains as one of the main practices that enhance service delivery and efficacy. Any nurse that does not reflect on his or her service delivery is deemed to reduce the efficiency associated with medical services offerings. Nicol and Dosser (2016) note that nurses are bound to reflect on the information provided by the patients to ensure that they improve on service delivery. Previously and commonly, nurses have utilized reflection after an incidence. However, reflection should be utilized before an occurrence has taken place to ensure that the service delivery is improved (Nicol, & Dosser, 2016). Reflection allows individual nurses to offer better services while at the same time allowing them to upgrade on their preparation for existing and expected situations.

Nursing leadership and leadership requires a lot of reflection to allow for the enhancement of service delivery. Oelofsen (2012) notes that in frontline nursing, nurses can use the reflective practice to enhance the sense of the work they do and the mode of service delivery. According to Oelofsen (2012), reflective practice is a model that allows for nurses and especially leaders and administrators to up their skills in the way they deliver care among the patients they are taking care of. Moreover, this practice allows nurses to take more control of the clinicians by allowing them to be careful while offering care to the patients. It is imperative to, however, note that the aspect of reflective practice takes place both at group and personal level and should not be mistaken for personal milestones in healthcare.

 care Beyond Reflection Susan Schutz, 2015 A Uro-Oncology Nurse Specialist's Reflection on her Practice Journey Beverley Anderson, 2022-03-22 This book provides a unique insight and background of a uro oncology nurse's career from a personal and professional perspective one that encapsulates the ever changing dynamics in the nursing profession over 40 years 1970's to current 2022 In writing this book the objective is to devise a beneficial point of reference one that is conducive to enlightening individuals within the healthcare profession and the wider context on the art of reflection and acknowledging its benefits in terms of exploring their feelings and understanding their meaning Reflection is a highly beneficial tool In this context the process enables the author to reflect constructively on her nursing career and practice to highlight the positive as well as the negative aspects within that practice and illustrate how the experiences gained have contributed to her development personally and professionally throughout that journey Reflection includes deliberate reflection on experience emotions actions and responses and acknowledging how essential these have been to informing the author's existing knowledge base and in ensuring a higher level of learning and understanding. In the continued quest to deliver optimal healthcare, the objective of reflection is in enabling healthcare individuals e.g. nursing students, newly qualified nurses or those considering change of nursing speciality to better understand their patients from a holistic standpoint: physical, psychological, psycho-social, spiritual, cultural and economic, and ultimately improving the individual patient's overall experience, cancer or otherwise, as well as improving and enhancing practice outcomes. The importance of reflection and its contribution to increasing the healthcare professional's self-awareness, emotional, personal and professional, is also well underlined. Various Modules and Case Studies within the book are used to explain and highlight key issues and to enhance content and visual acuity.
