Reform Through Community:

Building Commitment to Reform through Strategic Communication Cecilia Caba ero-Verzosa, Helen R. Garcia, 2009-10-06 Strategic communication is a powerful tool for creating broad based support for reform and change initiatives Much has been written about why communication matters in reform efforts but there is scant material available to help those who manage reforms apply communication concepts and approaches to their own programs and policy reform initiatives Building Commitment to Reform through Strategic Communication attempts to bridge that gap The authors present a pragmatic and systematic approach for reformers ready to use communication strategically to achieve their reform goals The Five Communication Management Decision Tool helps reformers and their teams develop a framework for their communication strategies This decision tool helps managers see change initiatives through the eyes of those who will be affected by the reforms When the decision tool is used in the early stages of the development of change programs reformers gain an even deeper understanding of the stakeholders perspectives on the reforms which influence stakeholder opposition or support for them Such understanding will not only be instructive but possibly transformative for both change agents and those stakeholders whose support is critical to the success of reform Reform agents may recognize the source of stakeholder resistance and be able to revise reform goals and redesign change interventions Stakeholders who have a shared understanding of why the status quo is not acceptable and change is necessary are more likely to create coalitions of committed allies and supporters who will work together to achieve reform goals This workbook illustrates how the decision tool can be used for various types of change and reform initiatives from policy reform to country and donor partnership agreements to sectoral reforms Tested and used in learning interventions across cultures regions and sectors the tool has been used successfully by teams in government nongovernmental organizations the business sector and donor agencies The book will be of great interest to readers working in all of these areas Community-based Water Law and Water Resource Management Reform in Developing Countries Barbara C. P. Koppen, Mark Giordano, John Butterworth, 2007 The lack of sufficient access to clean water is a common problem faced by communities efforts to alleviate poverty and gender inequality and improve economic growth in developing countries While reforms have been implemented to manage water resources these have taken little notice of how people use and manage their water and have had limited effect at the ground level On the other hand regulations developed within communities are livelihood oriented and provide incentives for collective action but they can also be hierarchal enforcing power and gender inequalities This book shows how bringing together the strengths of community based laws rooted in user participation and the formalized legal systems of the public sector water management regimes will be more able to reach their goals Tenure reform and perceived food security in Indonesia: An exploratory study Liswanti, N., Kirby, D., Tamara, A., Juniwati, K.S., Mwangi, E., 2021-12-24 Community Participation in China Janelle Plummer, John G. Taylor, 2013-06-17 This important volume provides a source of information on the key issues including constraints and capacity building necessary to implement participatory approaches in China today A wealth of case studies are provided by principal Chinese academics and practitioners in forestry natural resource management rural development irrigation and poverty alleviation At the core the book is about strengthening local government as a key player in the development of participatory initiatives It is an invaluable text for development practitioners donors researchers and students seeking to understand the opportunities and constraints for participation in China and for those working to institutionalize participatory processes in a complex rural context

The Reorganisation of British Local Government John Dearlove, 1979-09-20 This volume was first published in 1979 just a few years after the Local Government Act of 1972 redrew the map of British local government Local authorities were also encouraged to change their organization and methods of work anxiety was expressed about finance councillor calibre and the credibility of the whole system itself and neighbourhood councils and public participation in planning were introduced John Dearlove's aim is to make sense of these changes and the discussion they generated He does this by showing that both the official case for reorganization and the academic discussion of it have hindered their own understanding by uncritically accepting superficial traditional wisdoms which fail to reveal the concealed ideological positions behind reorganization Thus he aims to develop a truly political perspective on reorganisation which is rounded out and given greater depth by the insertion at appropriate points of comparative material drawn from American experience and studies

Non-Territorial Autonomy and Decentralization Tove H. Malloy, Levente Salat, 2020-10-15 This volume describes and analyzes alternative and emerging models of non territorial autonomy NTA particularly in relation to decentralization The authors push the NTA debate in new directions by offering a re conceptualization based on ethno cultural bottom up decentralized action that redefines autonomy into its true sense of autonomous action Through description critical analysis and evaluation of several case studies this book assesses the potential for new paradigms within decentralized systems The authors explore two approaches to political decentralization which add to the theoretical debate on NTA network governance which focuses on new dynamics in policy processes and normative pluralism which focuses on accommodating the distinctness of the groups through the subsidiarity principle with regard to their own affairs The book explores the potential ramifications of ethno cultural NTA institutions acting within the wider framework of state institutions and assesses the functions of these institutions as another dimension of decentralization and thus another layer of democracy With contemporary examples from Europe the Middle East Asia and South Africa as well as theoretical aspects of the conceptualization of autonomy this book offers a truly global perspective It will be of great interest to policy makers in countries experiencing adverse developments due to the pressure on public management as well as advanced students and scholars questioning the ability of the Westphalian system to address cultural diversity

Land, Faith and the Crofting Community Allan W. MacColl, 2006-04-20 This book probes the deep rooted links between the land the people and the religious culture of the Scottish Highlands and Islands in the nineteenth century The responses of the clergy to the social crisis which enveloped the region have often been characterised as a mixture of callous indifference cowering deference or fatalistic passivity Allan MacColl's pioneering research challenges such stereotypical representations of Highland ministers head on Land Faith and the Crofting Community is the first full scale examination of Christian social teaching in the nineteenth century Gaidhealtachd and addresses a major gap in the historical understanding of Gaelic society Seeking to lay bare the existing myths by a wide ranging analysis of all the denominational theological and social factors at play this study boldly overturns the received scholarly and popular interpretations A ground breaking work it explores a substantial but under utilised field of evidence and questions whether or not Highland Christians both clergy and laity were committed to land reform as an engine of social improvement and conciliation The Christian contribution to the development of a distinctively Highland identity which found expression during the Crofters War of the 1880s is delineated while wider links between theology and social philosophy are examined from beyond the perspective of the Highlands

House of Commons - Communities and Local Government Committee: Community Budgets - HC 163 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Communities and Local Government Committee, 2013-10-23 Community Budgets are demonstrating their potential to deliver cheaper more integrated and more effective public services They are at risk however of being replaced after a few years if key issues are not resolved If this opportunity is missed the Committee warns that local services could come under unsustainable pressure in the face of increased demand and reduced budgets This in turn may result in more spending later on judicial and emergency health and welfare interventions The Government should send a clear message that it will assist every local authority wishing to introduce Community Budgets and to set out the specific assistance it will provide them with Furthermore the programme of pilots must not be allowed to slow progress towards wider implementation If they are to succeed public service providers and local authorities must realise investment in Community Budgets will bring them benefits Local authorities their partners and central government should therefore develop a framework for agreements on how the benefits of investment are to be shared On the Troubled Families Programme the Committee is supportive of the work being done but highlights the need for greater focus on how work with these families will continue after the programme ends in 2016 Noting that the resources available have not increased in proportion to the number of families added to the programme in June DCLG needs to monitor carefully progress and provide more resources to local authorities if necessary

Community Engagement for Better Schools Michael Guo-Brennan, 2020-09-18 In the United States government participation in education has traditionally involved guaranteeing public access public funding and public governance to achieve accountability representativeness and equality This volume discusses the role of broad regimes of local community actors to promote school improvement through greater civic engagement Taking a historical perspective this text examines the relationship between government at the federal state and local level and local actors both inside the traditional education regime and those stakeholders outside the schools including parents non profit organizations and businesses It then drills deeper into the role of state legislatures and finally local leadership both inside and outside the schools to promote change focusing on efforts that include parental choice through tax incentives charter schools magnet schools and school vouchers to achieve accountability representativeness and equality The text examines the perceptions and relationships of various actors in urban education reform in numerous cities across the country with special attention dedicated to Chicago Illinois and Milwaukee Wisconsin to offer a deeper understanding of the barriers to and opportunities for fostering greater civic capacity and engagement in urban education reform as well as developing inclusive educational policy Attention is also given to accountability and measuring success traditionally defined by high stakes testing which fails to consider non classroom factors within the community that contribute to student performance An alternative approach is offered driven by a wholistic accounting of various factors that contribute to school success centered around third party inspections and accreditation Providing insight into school reform at the local level this book will be useful to researchers and students interested in public policy education policy urban governance intergovernmental relations and educational leadership as well as teaching professionals administrators and local government officials

Promoting Sustainable Local and Community Economic Development Roland V. Anglin, 2017-09-25

Growing local economies empowering communities revitalizing downtowns developing entrepreneurship building leadership and enhancing nonprofits you can achieve all these benefits and more with a comprehensive and strategic revitalization plan Chronicling the struggle of local revitalization as organizers move from trial and error to effective revitalization strategies Promoting Sustainable Local and Community Economic Development documents the current transformation in community revitalization from market based incentives to mixed strategies of public sector learning partnerships and community capacity Knowledge about the field and what works is growing but not always publicized and readily accessible This reference surveys the breadth of innovative place and people development practices presenting lessons and examples at a general and textured level putting information about innovative ways to change influence and improve the economic development process within easy reach Roland Anglin brings his unique vantage point to the topic his experience as a practitioner and applied academic allowed him to see how community economic development practices grow over time in size scale and impact He highlights the difference between what is now termed community economic development CED and traditional local economic development practice specifically the priority placed on community involvement in economic development partnerships between the private sector and government The book includes case studies that demonstrate what has and has not worked in revitalization efforts as well as how active public and private sector partnerships have been the most effective in revitalization efforts A Resource Guide is included at the end of the book for readers who may want a more expansive understanding of community economic development

Learning through Community Kathryn Church, Nina Bascia, Eric Shragge, 2008-02-01

The Turbulence of Learning to Publish As researchers we learned about working together and collaborating across multiple dimensions of space time and our own identities We learned and we are still learning We are learning as we write and revise this book We learn as we begin to see this book through the eyes of others who have not lived through the process of discovery with us in the field We learn as we go back to work to try to figure out how our learnings can make a difference Jackson 2004 p 289 It took 10 years to create this book Of course none of us intended to take so long Like a lot of things that appear to be individual pathology our tardiness was socially produced The first defining relation was the collegial way in which Nina Bascia Eric Shragge and I selected contributors for this volume As co editors we sought contributions from academics who had produced case studies for the Toronto based 1 research network called NALL Network for New Approaches to Lifelong Learning Accelerating Health Reforms through Collective Action Yvonne Nkrumah, Julia Mensah, 2014-10-30 This publication briefly describes the processes and methodologies for building and sustaining multistakeholder coalition to drive reforms in the health sector It is based on the experiences of three East African countries Uganda Tanzania and Kenya It outlines by chapter each country's experience in identifying mobilizing and coalescing key stakeholders to address governance bottlenecks in pharmaceutical procurement and supply chain management It highlights challenges successes as well as lessons learned to guide other countries The Internal

Implementation of Peace Agreements after Violent Intrastate Conflict Arist von Hehn, 2011-08-11 This book is at heart a guide on how to best approach the management of an internally led peace implementation process after a violent intrastate conflict It explains the principal tasks legal framework and management implications of internal peace implementation and illustrates this with many examples of best practice as well as possible pitfalls The book integrates a broad analysis of current academic research with a substantial number of interviews with experts from the field With a foreword by Nobel Peace Prize Laureate President Martti Ahtisaari Resources in Education, 1998 Curriculum, Community, and Urban School Reform B. Franklin, 2010-03-01 This book asserts that efforts to reform schools particularly urban schools are events that engender a host of issues and conflicts that have been interpreted through the conceptual lens of community

Southern African Development Community Land Issues Ben Chigara, 2013-03 This book constitutes volume one of a two volume examination of development community land issues in Southern Africa In this volume Ben Chigara undertakes a holistic inter disciplinary evaluation of the legitimacy of colonial and emergent post colonial rule property rights in affected States of the Southern African Development Community SADC It particularly focuses on intensifying litigation in national courts the SADC Tribunal and more recently the Washington based International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID regarding counter claims to title to property The book examines cultural economic and political drivers at the core of SADC land issues focusing on their significance and potential to contribute to the discovery of a new sustainable land relations policy that guarantees social justice in the distribution of all the advantages and disadvantages relating to the allocation and use of land Chigara shows that persistent systematic administrative failures by pre colonial colonial and post colonial authorities have made for a very complex challenge that requires Solomonic tools that neither the Courts alone nor human rights centric morality alone could resolutely attend The book recommends a sophisticated systematic new approach to SADC land issues which is developed in volume two Re conceiving Property Rights in the New Millennium This book will be of great interest to students and researchers of Property and Conveyancing Law Human Rights Law and Land Law

Rebuilding the Rural Southern Community Mary S. Hoffschwelle, 1998 In this book Mary Hoffschwelle shines a much needed light on the efforts of rural reformers She focuses on Tennessee because its varied geography and the large number of rural reform programs it hosted make it a particularly rich subject for study Also the state typified the burdens of poverty and racial division that characterized the South as a whole and as the author shows such problems attracted considerable attention from reformers Computerization Movements and Technology Diffusion Margaret S. Elliott, Kenneth L.

Kraemer, 2008 Computerization movement CM refers to a special kind of social and technological movement that promotes the adoption of computing within organizations and society Through theoretical analyses systematic empirical studies field based studies and case studies of specific technologies the book shows CMs to be driven by Utopian visions of technology that become part of the ether within society The empirical studies presented here show the need for designers users and the media to be aware that CM rhetoric can propose grand visions that never become part of a reality and reinforce the need for critical and scholarly review of promising new technologies Back cover UN Millennium Development Library:

Halving Hunger UN Millennium Project, 2013-07-23 The Millennium Development Goals adopted at the UN Millennium Summit in 2000 are the world's targets for dramatically reducing extreme poverty in its many dimensions by 2015 income poverty hunger disease exclusion lack of infrastructure and shelter while promoting gender equality education health and environmental sustainability These bold goals can be met in all parts of the world if nations follow through on their commitments to work together to meet them Achieving the Millennium Development Goals offers the prospect of a more secure just and prosperous world for all The UN Millennium Project was commissioned by United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan to develop a practical plan of action to meet the Millennium Development Goals As an independent advisory body directed by Professor Jeffrey D Sachs the UN Millennium Project submitted its recommendations to the UN Secretary General in January 2005 The core of the UN Millennium Project's work has been carried out by 10 thematic Task Forces comprising more than 250 experts from around the world including scientists development practitioners parliamentarians policymakers and representatives from civil society UN agencies the World Bank the IMF and the private sector This report lays out the recommendations of the UN Millennium Project Task Force on Hunger in seven major categories political action national policy reforms increased agricultural productivity for food insecure farmers improved nutrition for the chronically hungry productive safety nets for the acutely hungry improved rural incomes and markets and restoration and conservation of natural resources essential for food security The task force strongly endorses the Secretary General's call for a 21st Century African Green Revolution These bold yet practical approaches will enable countries in every region of the world to halve world hunger by 2015

Planning the Good Community Jill Grant, 2006 An examination of new urban approaches both in theory and in practice Taking a critical look at how new urbanism has lived up to its ideals the author asks whether new urban approaches offer a viable path to creating good communities With examples drawn principally from North America Europe and Japan Planning the Good Community explores new urban approaches in a wide range of settings It compares the movement for urban renaissance in Europe with the New Urbanism of the United States and Canada and asks whether the concerns that drive today's planning theory issues like power democracy spatial patterns and globalisation receive adequate attention in new urban approaches The issue of aesthetics is also raised as the author questions whether communities must be more than just attractive in order to be good With the benefit of twenty years hindsight and a world wide perspective this book offers the reader unparalleled insight as well as a rigorous and considered critical analysis
