Reformed Administration In Lebanon:

Reformed Administration in Lebanon George Grassmuck, Kamal Suleiman Salibi, 1964 Administrative Reform GERALD E. CAIDEN, 2011-12-31 What is administrative reform How is it differentiated from other kinds of social reform Who are administrative reformers and how do they approach their task And who benefits and who suffers from it Does a theory of administrative reform exist A survey of published research on administrative reform reveals that satisfactory answers to these questions are handicapped by methodological and theoretical shortcomings There are no common definitions no agreement over content no selected boundaries no clear links with the wide phenomenon of social reform no firm hypothesis tested by empirical findings and no continuous dialogue between practitioners and theorists This book is the first comprehensive and systematic treatment of the subject for professionals and students in the fields of public and private administration It carefully examines the diverse interdisciplinary literature on the subject and identifies and develops the most promising approaches towards a unified theory Caiden shows how the study of administrative reform can contribute substantially to the development of administrative theory and constructs a working definition of the phenomenon of administrative reform distinguishing it from social change and from administrative change The practical use of this definition is tested by the analysis of various case histories of administrative cultures of different periods in history from which a common cycle of reform processes is discerned The author follows with a detailed examination of the processes themselves The book concludes with a discussion of the obstacles to reform and a review of the author's findings and conclusions A Manual of Lebanese Administration. Beschel,Tarik M. Yousef,2020-12-01 Critical examinations of efforts to make governments more efficient and responsive Political upheavals and civil wars in the Middle East and North Africa MENA have obscured efforts by many countries in the region to reform their public sectors Unwieldy unresponsive and often corrupt governments across the region have faced new pressure not least from their publics to improve the quality of public services and open up their decisionmaking processes Some of these reform efforts were under way and at least partly successful before the outbreak of the Arab Spring in 2010 Reform efforts have continued in some countries despite the many upheavals since then This book offers a comprehensive assessment of a wide range of reform efforts in nine countries In six cases the reforms targeted core systems of government Jordan s restructuring of cabinet operations the Palestinian Authority s revision of public financial management Morocco s voluntary retirement program human resource management reforms in Lebanon an e governance initiative in Dubai and attempts to improve transparency in Tunisia Five other reform efforts tackled line departments of government among them Egypt s attempt to improve tax collection and Saudi Arabia s work to improve service delivery and bill collection Some of these reform efforts were more successful than others This book examines both the good and the bad looking not only at what each reform accomplished but at how it was implemented The result is a series of useful lessons on how public sector reforms can be adopted in MENA Public Administration in the Middle East and North Africa Shahjahan Bhuiyan,2023-06-30 This book examines the status of public administration in eight countries the United Arab Emirates UAE Turkey Lebanon Jordan Morocco Tunisia Sudan and Libya in the Middle East and North Africa MENA This volume explores the issues perspectives traditions and cultures that shape the operation of public administration in the region This book also offers critical narratives on how the region s governments manage the state and statecrafts regarding their governance design It reflects on the multiplicity of public administration structures functions processes and procedures as well as reform schemes which are critical in achieving good governance to continuously improve the human condition in the MENA region Public Administration in the Middle East and North Africa will be of interest to scholars practitioners and students concerned with the ways in which technological change knowledge accumulation and dissemination can increase a state s effective governance capacity Foreword by B Guy Peters University of Pittsburgh is freely available to download on the Routledge website The Republic of Lebanon David C. Gordon,2016-03-22 Torn by civil war its major city in shambles and occupied by foreign peacekeeping forces as well as foreign armies the Republic of Lebanon in the 1980s was struggling to regroup rebuild and resolve its problems under new leadership In this analytical survey first published in 1983 Professor Gordon addresses such questions as why the republic rooted in the distant past succumbed to such disintegration Lebanon s multi ethnic character and the Palestinian presence are considered fully and Lebanon is examined in the international context inevitably with particular reference to the creation of Israel and its consequences The country is viewed both in its own right and also as a small skiff on a very rough regional and international sea The Determinants of Arab Economic Development (RLE Economy of Middle East) Yusuf Sayigh,2014-10-30 This book explores in depth the factors determining economic development in the Arab region The particular factors relevant to the Arab world are also set within the context of the broad political economy of underdevelopment The factors are identified as comprising three main groups economic political administrative and socio cultural petroleum and regional Arab economic development are examined separately The force and operation of each determinant is further assessed in the context of the individual countries from which the author is able to arrive at some important conclusions concerning the interaction of these determinants and their impact upon development First published in 1978 The Parliamentary Election of Lebanon 1968 Zuwiyya,2022-07-04

Civil Society and Political Reform in Lebanon and Libya Carmen Geha,2016-02-12 Lebanon and Libya have undergone critical political events in recent years However demands for reform from civic institutions during these transitions have not led to concrete political decisions Civil Society and Political Reform in Lebanon and Libya reveals the deeply entrenched historical patterns and elements of continuity that have led to path dependent outcomes in the political transitions of both countries Motivated by personal experiences as an activist in Lebanon the author draws together a wide range of data from participant observations nation wide surveys interviews and focus groups in a careful analysis of these two civil society led reform campaigns The study demonstrates how the combination of weak states and power sharing agreements marginalizes civic organisations and poses institutional constraints on the likelihood of reform Written by an active participant in the political events discussed this book offers new insight into two countries which present comparable and informative case studies As such it is a valuable resource for students scholars and policymakers interested in civil society politics and reform in the Middle East and North Africa Governance and the Depoliticisation of Development Wil Hout,Richard Robison,2008-11-24 This book seeks to understand how governance agendas are constructed at both the global and national levels and asks what factors define success and failure in their implementation It features case studies drawn from Africa Latin America and Asia

Harris, 2012-07-19 Foundations Emerging communities 600-1291 Druze ascent 1291-1633 Mountain lords 1633-1842 Modern Lebanon Emerging Lebanon 1842-1943 Independent Lebanon 1943-1975 Broken Lebanon 1975-2011 Lebanon William Harris, 2012-06-12 In this impressive synthesis William Harris narrates the history of the sectarian communities of Mount Lebanon and its vicinity He offers a fresh perspective on the antecedents of modern multi-communal Lebanon tracing the consolidation of Lebanon's Christian Muslim and Islamic derived sects from their origins between the sixth and eleventh centuries The identities of Maronite Christians Twelver Shia Muslims and Druze the mountain communities developed alongside assertions of local chiefs under external powers from the Umayyads to the Ottomans The chiefs began interacting in a common arena when Druze lord Fakhr al-Din Ma'n achieved domination of the mountain within the Ottoman imperial framework in the early seventeenth century Harris knits together the subsequent interplay of the elite under the Sunni Muslim Shihab relatives of the Ma'ns after 1697 with demographic instability as Maronites overtook Shia as the largest community and expanded into Druze districts By the 1840s many Maronites conceived the common arena as their patrimony Maronite Druze conflict ensued Modern Lebanon arose out of European and Ottoman intervention in the 1860s to secure sectarian peace in a special province In 1920 after the Ottoman collapse France and the Maronites enlarged the province into the modern country with a pluralism of communal minorities headed by Maronite Christians and Sunni Muslims The book considers the flowering of this pluralism in the mid-twentieth century and the strains of new demographic shifts and of social resentment in an open economy External intrusions after the 1967 Arab-Israeli war rendered Lebanon's contradictions unmanageable and the country fell apart Harris contends that Lebanon has not found a new equilibrium and has not transcended its sects In the early twenty first century there is an uneasy duality Shia have largely recovered the weight they possessed in the sixteenth century but Christians Sunnis and Druze are two thirds of the country This book offers readers a clear understanding of how modern Lebanon acquired its precarious social intricacy and its singular political character International and Local Actors in Disaster Response Tania N. Haddad,2022-06-19 International and Local Actors in Disaster Response uses the Beirut explosion in August 2020 to explore disaster prevention and response in developing states Disasters whether man made or natural have always tested governments and their bureaucracies Despite numerous research efforts existing empirical literature does not provide conclusive evidence on how multiple aspects of social infrastructure can simultaneously affect disaster preparedness and recovery and what role the international community can have This book analyzes the role of international and local organizations in responding to the disaster in Beirut and assesses the interorganizational collaboration between the public and private sectors following the explosion The author develops a conceptual framework of government non profit relations in post disaster management and examines the long term disaster response and intervention of both international and local communities in a developing world context This book will be of interest to students scholars and researchers of disaster management and response public administration international relations and the non profit sector

Lebanon International Monetary Fund,2012-02-09 Lebanon is facing a difficult global regional and domestic environment simultaneously for the first time in more than a decade Domestic policies should aim at instilling confidence and tackling key policy challenges such as preserving macroeconomic stability and paving the way for a more resilient dynamic and inclusive economy The Banque du Liban BdL relied on its large foreign reserves build up during the upswing to intervene forcefully when the Lebanese pound came under pressure from deposit outflows and currency conversions in the wake of the government crisis Civil Service Reforms in Lebanon Iskandar E. Bashir,1977 Notables and Clergy in Mount Lebanon Richard van Leeuwen,2023-08-21 Notables and Clergy in Mount Lebanon analyzes the relations between the Maronite notables and the Church in the context of socio economic transformations in Mount Lebanon in the period 1736 1840 Special attention is given to the influence of external forces such as the economic interference of the European nations the Syrian and Ottoman administrative framework and the increasing involvement of the Vatican in the affairs of the Maronite community The emphasis is laid on the role of religious foundations or waqfs in the process of social and economic integration both within the Maronite community and in the wider frameworks in which it gradually became incorporated These external and internal factors can explain the remarkable political emancipation of the Maronite Church which assumed an important role in the history of Mount Lebanon in the 19th century
