Trauma, Collective Trauma and Refugee Trajectories in the Digital Era Selam Kidane, 2021-10-21 Forced migration has become an inescapable reality of our world in the 21st century. Why? The traumatic experiences of refugees are key to understanding why people keep on the move despite enormous risks. This book sheds light into the psychological impact entailed in refugee trajectories. With findings mainly from Eritrean refugee communities in multiple locations, the underpinning research reveals alarming levels of individual and collective trauma. The book outlines a new approach for treatment: Trauma Recovery Understanding Self Help Therapy (TRUST). The intervention was developed as a practical and low resource support to traumatised vulnerable refugees. TRUST utilises information technology to reduce levels of trauma, enabling refugees to build social and economic resilience as an alternative to pursuing risky migratory trajectories. The study concludes that providing psycho-social support is a more prudent alternative to managing forced migration and avoiding the use of hostile refugee policies that expose refugees to more trauma and put them at risk of heinous organised crimes including human trafficking. TRUST resulted in significant positive outcomes for refugee wellbeing even in deprived refugee camps.

Refugee Settlement in Australia Aparna Hebbani, 2024-06-03 Combining theoretical and practical information, this book presents a holistic overview of refugee settlement in Australia. It focuses on numerous critical aspects of refugee settlement which play a vital role in refugee integration into Australia. Starting with an overview of immigration history in Australia, the book then places an emphasis on 21st century settlement of refugees. The chapters explore a gamut of topics including how culture is transmitted in refugee families, how media portrays refugees and how to work with refugee communities in various contexts without focusing on one specific refugee cohort/country group. This interdisciplinary angle is presented via the inclusion of voices from interviews with key refugee settlement providers, educators, former refugees, researchers and second generation youth from refugee backgrounds. It covers current Australian political debate and politicisation of refugees, digital technologies, the role of language in enabling successful settlement, education trajectories, social cohesion, the fractured diasporic family and the impact of media coverage which underpin the settlement of refugees in Australia. This is an ideal resource for advanced undergraduates, postgraduates and scholars of refugee settlement in the disciplines of communication, media, politics and international relations, social work, education and demographic studies, as well as government entities, policy makers, service providers and NGOs looking to gain an understanding of the factors impacting refugee settlement in Australia.
