Regeneration The Story Of The Dome:

Regeneration Story of the Dome Adam Nicolson, 1989-01 Adam Nicolson's book is a fascinating picture of the spirit of Britain in the new millennium coupled with a biography of the Dome and an analysis of the political background to its creation. The inside story of Britain's first grand project since the 1940s is a picture of vision and idealism, muddle and uncertainty, and of a journey deeply unfamiliar to the political elite and the people. Cultural Capital Robert Hewison, 2014-11-11 Britain began the twenty-first century convinced of its creativity. Throughout the New Labour era, the visual and performing arts, museums and galleries were ceaselessly promoted as a stimulus to national economic revival, a post-industrial revolution where spending on culture would solve everything from national decline to crime. Tony Blair heralded it a golden age. Yet despite huge investment, the audience for the arts remained a privileged minority. So what went wrong? In Cultural Capital, leading historian Robert Hewison gives an in-depth account of how creative Britain lost its way. From Cool Britannia and the Millennium Dome to the Olympics and beyond, he shows how culture became a commodity and how target-obsessed managerialism stifled creativity. In response to the failures of New Labour and the austerity measures of the Coalition government, Hewison argues for a new relationship between politics and the arts. Life Between the Tides Adam Nicolson, 2025-08-22 Adam Nicolson explores the marine life inhabiting seashore rockpools with a scientist's curiosity and a poet's wonder. In this beautifully illustrated book, the sea is not made of water. Creatures are its genes. Look down as you crouch over the shallows, and you will find a periwinkle or a prawn, a claw displaying crab or a cluster of anemones ready to meet you. No need for binoculars or special stalking skills: go to the rocks, and the living will say hello. Inside each rock pool, tucked into one of the infinite crevices of the tidal coastline, lies a rippling, silent, unknowable universe. Below the stillness of the surface, different currents of endless motion, the ebb and flow of the tide, the steady forward propulsion of the passage of time, and the tiny lifetimes of the rock pool's creatures, all of which coalesce into the grand narrative of evolution. In Life Between the Tides, Adam Nicolson investigates one of the most revelatory habitats on earth. Under his microscope, we see a prawn's head become a medieval helmet, and a group of winkles transform into a Dickensian social scene with mollusks munching on Stilton and glancing at their pocket watches. Or rather, is a wrinkle more like Achilles, an ancient hero throwing himself toward death for the sake of glory. For Nicolson, who writes with scientific rigor and a poet's sense of wonder, the American Scholar, the world of the rock pools is infinite and as intricate as our own. As Nicolson journeys between the tides, both in the pools he builds along the coast of Scotland and through the timeline of scientific discovery, he is accompanied by great thinkers: no one can escape the pull of the sea. We meet Virginia Woolf and her Waves, a young T. S. Eliot peering into his own rock pool in Massachusetts, even Nicolson's father-in-law, a classical scholar who would hunt for amethysts along the shoreline, his mind on Heraclitus and the other philosophers of ancient Greece. And of course, scientists populate the pages, not only their discoveries but also their doubts and errors, their moments of quiet observation and their thrilling realizations.

Everything is within the rock pools where you can look beyond your own reflection and find the miraculous an inch beneath your nose The soul wants to be wet Heraclitus said in Ephesus twenty five hundred years ago This marvelous book demonstrates why it is so Includes Color and Black and White Photographs The Seabird's Cry Adam Nicolson,2018-02-06 Life itself could never have been sustainable without seabirds As Adam Nicolson writes They are bringers of fertility the deliverers of life from ocean to land A global tragedy is unfolding Even as we are coming to understand them the number of seabirds on our planet is in freefall dropping by nearly 70% in the last sixty years a billion fewer now than there were in 1950 Of the ten birds in this book seven are in decline at least in part of their range Extinction stalks the ocean and there is a danger that the grand cry of the seabird colony rolling around the bays and headlands of high latitudes will this century become little but a memory Seabirds have always entranced the human imagination and NYT best selling author Adam Nicolson has been in love with them all his life for their mastery of wind and ocean their aerial beauty and the unmatched wildness of the coasts and islands where every summer they return to breed The seabird s cry comes from an elemental layer in the story of the world Over the last couple of decades modern science has begun to understand their epic voyages their astonishing abilities to navigate for tens of thousands of miles on featureless seas their ability to smell their way towards fish and home Only the poets in the past would have thought of seabirds as creatures riding the ripples and currents of the entire planet but that is what the scientists are seeing now today Pariah Tom Nairn,2002-09-17 When political victories are based on a fraction of the electoral register perish looks like the only way towards reform Bird School Adam Nicolson,2025-09-16 An intimate exploration of the lives of birds and their interactions with man by a preeminent naturalist Poets and scientists saints and naturalists stalk through these pages Neighboring cock robins duel almost to the death Tawny owl widows are seen looking for tawny owl widowers to set up shop with Blackbirds are found singing phrases from late Beethoven quartets both in a garden in southern England where they have been listening to records played through the open window of a drawing room and in Bonn where Beethoven himself first heard them and where they are still singing to the same rhythms two hundred fifty years later Bird School describes and follows Adam Nicolson s progress over two or three years in trying to learn about and eventually to create an environment friendly to the birds of the farm where he lives in Sussex In simple language that evinces his careful observational prowess Nicolson aims to cross the boundary between the scientific and the prescientific understanding of birds looking into why and how they sing how they fly and breed how they survive and migrate how they have suffered at our hands how we have loved them and damaged them and how we might create or re create a refuge for them Here is a set of lessons for someone who knows little but cares a lot about the living world that is in such dire crisis Here is life in the rough grounds on the edge of culture and nature The Living Will Say Hello \(Picador Shorts\) Adam Nicolson,2025-06-10 An intimate quirky and soulful portrait of the many lives that swirl and teem in that microcosm of the universe the ocean rock pool In this standalone extract from Adam Nicolson s Life Between the Tides the reader gets a close up view of some of the ocean's most intriguing characters. The sea is not made of water. Creatures are its genes. Look down as you crouch over the shallows and you will find a periwinkle or a prawn, a claw displaying crab or a cluster of anemones ready to meet you. No need for binoculars or special stalking skills: go to the rocks and the living will say hello. In this distilled version of the powerful revelatory Life Between the Tides, Adam Nicolson takes the reader on a wonder-filled tour of some of the animal residents of the rock pools that are the stage for so much of the life and poetry of the ocean. We visit with the sandhopper, prawn, wrinkle crab and anemone, and each episode reenacts the book's idea of the inner drama of life in this cloistered and vibrant space. Nicolson writes with scientific rigor and a poet's sense of wonder. The American Scholar. He animates the world of the rock pool and provides an essential perspective on a marine world as intricate and infinite as our own, and not much further off than the tips of our noses. The Living Will Say Hello is part of the Picador Shorts series Oceans, Rivers and Streams in which excerpts from beloved classics speak to our relationship with our water bodies, great and small.

How to Be Adam Nicolson, 2023-10-17 Nicolson crafts a geography of the ancient world and a brilliant exploration of our connections to the past. What is the nature of things? What is justice? How can I be myself? How should we treat each other? Before the Greeks, the idea of the world was dominated by god-kings and their priests. Twenty-five hundred years ago, in a succession of small eastern Mediterranean harbor cities, a few heroic men and women decided to cast off mental subservience and apply their own thinking minds to the conundrums of life. These great innovators shaped the beginnings of western philosophy. Through the questioning voyager Odysseus, Homer explored how we might navigate our way through the world. Heraclitus in Ephesus was the first to consider the interrelatedness of things. Xenophanes of Colophon was the first champion of civility. On the Aegean island of Lesbos, the early lyric poets Sappho and Alcaeus asked themselves: How can I be true to myself? On Samos, Pythagoras imagined an everlasting soul and took his ideas to Italy, where they flowered again in surprising and radical forms. The award-winning writer Adam Nicolson travels with us through this transforming world and asks what light these ancient thinkers can throw on our deepest preconceptions. Enhanced with maps, photographs and artwork, How to Be is an expedition into early ideas. Nicolson takes us to the dawn of investigative thought and makes the fundamental questions of the ancient philosophers new again. What are the principles of the physical world? How can we be good in it? And why do we continue to ask these questions? It is an enthralling, exhilarating journey.

Cultural Analysis Jim McGuigan, 2009-09-26 Jim McGuigan has done it again. The complex cultural machinery hiding behind the apparently simple facts of life, still fresh in our collective memory, has been pulled out from its hiding, exposed, disassembled and put together again, and showed in action of shaping up its products, all that done to the benefit of us all simultaneously, producers and product of the life we share. Another great contribution to cultural studies and to our understanding of the world, notorious for defying escaping understanding. This is exactly what we need: cultural analysis for Professor Zygmunt Bauman, Emeritus Professor of Sociology, University of Leeds. Jim McGuigan is one of cultural studies.
